Today

The Coolidge Childhood. Vatican City Newspaper. Interesting Tobacco News. $50 a Day—$1 a Day.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

IN his latest article, "Scenes of My Childhood," just published in the June number of Cosmopolitan Magazine, Calvin Coolidge writes, "My father was a good trader." He tells how his father bought a house, blacksmith shop, barn, several other buildings and two acres of land for $375, and sold one barn for $100.

THAT was good trading 50 years ago.

Paris reports modern trading. The Allies wanted $600,000,000 in gold every year for 58 years.

Schacht offered for Germany $420,000,000 annually for 37 years. France offers to settle for $500,000,000 a year.

IMPORTANT is the fact that a settlement probably will be reached. The total will be less than it would have cost Germany to keep up her gigantic navy and standing army.

Germany will pay and grow rich, while some of her neighbors will remain poor—supporting defenses big enough to hold Germany down.

A COUNTRY without a newspaper is like a man without a voice. The Vatican realizes it, and the important newspaper Osservatore Romana, will move its offices to Vatican City, a small plot of ground upon which the Pope's temporal power is officially acknowledged by Italy's government.

THE Pope probably finds consolation in the knowledge that his spiritual power is acknowledged by hundreds of millions all over the world.

AN interesting tariff fight now begins.

Cuba must pay a heavy duty on sugar, raw and manufactured. Sugar from the Philippines will continue coming in duty free.

This will make our Filipino friends realize that there are advantages in a United States partnership.

TOBACCO farmers have most to hope for in the "government debenture" sudsidy plan. Middlemen dealing in farm products will get the profit while growers "hope."

SENATOR MOSES, of New Hampshire, learns from Senator Sackett via Mr. Lowry, that tobacco, selling in this country for 12½ cents a pound, would get a bonus from the country of 17½ cents a pound on all tobacco exported.

THUS it would pay tobacco middlemen well to pay tobacco farmers 12½ cents, ship the tobacco abroad and give it away, or sell it for half a cent a pound. The difference between 12½ cents cost and 17½ cents bonus would be nearly 50 per cent.

THAT will interest good Methodists and Y. W. C. A. ladies that don't like tobacco prosperity.

CALVIN COOLIDGE, as director of the New York Life Insurance Company, arrived 20 minutes ahead of time for his first directors' meeting yesterday.

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings."

THE former president is interested in life insurance, not for profit, but for possibilities of public service. His day's work yesterday paid $50; not much according to present ideas. But it is 50 times as much as Mr. Coolidge's father paid the black-bearded giant who earned in the Coolidge blacksmith shop $1 a day 50 years ago.

PRISONS have changed. One ancient hero, solitary in prison, had to encourage him only the example of a humble spider spinning and respinning a web as fast as it was torn down.

A well known oil magnate, jailed because he wouldn't answer Senators' questions, has the deeper, pleasanter inspiration of a blonde trained nurse.

IN the medical department of the jail, this blonde lady works for the sick and suffering, and says to her oil man assistant, worth $100,000,000, "Please hand me that iodine," or "Watch how I fix this bandage."

Much can be learned in such an atmosphere.

THE United States Army presented an imaginary protection of the United States, on Long Island yesterday. In imagination the enemy had landed cavalry, infantry and artillery on our coast. Our army with great courage, theoretically, drove the enemy into the sea.

FORTUNATELY the United States defense included 20 airplanes, indicating that the airplane is not entirely unknown to our national defense.

IF any enemy ever invades this country it will come with 1,000 airplanes and more. And this country will know about it when big buildings crumble in our greatest cities, and populations die in the streets or rush to the country to escape deadly gases.

AT sunrise this morning, while you were asleep, groups of scientists from many countries were gathered in the far-off Philippines waiting for the sun's eclipse, having prayed all night for fair weather.

Our United States Naval Observatory, Johns Hopkins University, the University of Hamburg and other scientific bodies were represented on the little island at Iloila.

Absolute darkness caused by the sun's total eclipse will last only four minutes.

MORE knowledge about the sun's corona and about the mysteries of the molecule are hoped for.

The sun is important to all of us, we and our little earth being small by-products of its cosmic power.

STATE ASKS CAB FIRMS TO EXPLAIN INCREASE

HARRISBURG, May 9.—Complaints of the City of Pittsburgh against taxicab rate increases of the Yellow and Green cabs were received today by the Public Service Commission.

These complaints will be sent to the respondent companies for answer before a date for hearing is fixed.

EXPOSED BY PAPER

The complaints are made against the Pittsburgh Transportation Company and the Yellow Cab Company for rate increases effective May 20 and 21. The city alleged the increases are "unjust and unreasonable."

The protest against higher cab fares is the direct result of the Sun-Telegraph's exposure of the Yellow and Green Cab companies to raise their tariffs May 20. City solicitors who are conducting the fight against the higher rates were unaware that they were to be raised until informed by the Sun-Telegraph.

SALARIES BLAMED

Regardless of the Yellow Cab Company's ability to earn a fair return on its investment under present taxi rates, the fares must be raised to permit the drivers to earn a living wage, President Walter S. Laird declared today. He conceded speculatively at least, the possibility of drastic slashes in operating expenses; but contended there would still be need of a rate increase.

The plea is believed to be unique in public utilities rate contention.

DEFENDS INCREASE

Defending the fare increase that is to be put into effect by the Yellow and Green Cab companies May 20, Laird emphasized the benefit the drivers would receive. He had comparatively little to say about the increase in the state gasoline tax, offered as the principal reason for the rate advance at the outset of the controversy.

His argument that rates must be raised regardless of earnings may be thus summarized:

The first Yellow cab appeared on the streets of Pittsburgh May 20, 1919, during a street railway strike.

During the 10 intervening years the company has revised rates downward five times. Each reduction has produced an increase in

CLERK SLASHED SAVING AIMEE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 9.—(INS.)—Bravery of Lois Ayres, assistant secretary of Aimee Semple McPherson, and Special Officer Clearwater, today was believed to have frustrated an attempt to harm the evangelist, at Angelus Temple last night.

Mildred Hutchinson, 32, was arrested on an insanity complaint after she had slashed Miss Ayres in the neck with a pair of scissors, in an attempt to gain an audience with Mrs. McPherson, according to Miss Ayres' report to police.

Two Boys Discharged As Strike Agitators

Two youthful alleged strike agitators were discharged by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Morals Court today after a lecture on rights o femployers.

Elmer Resler, 18, of 112 Clover street, and Edward Kuntz, 19, of 229 Fernleaf street, employed by the United States Glass Company, South Twenty-first and Wharton streets, "struck" for higher wages, after Kuntz had been discharged, W. N. Matthews, factory superintendent, testified. They then went through the plant and tried to get others to walk out, he testified.

DUQUESNE CLUB MEMBERSHIP ROLL FULL

The intended addition to the Duquesne Club's building will mean few, if any, additions to the club's membership, it was announced today, coincidentally with the announcement that the deal for additional property had been closed.

With 1,500 resident members and 500 non-resident members, the club's roster is full, it was announced. The addition, it was explained, is intended only to supply adequate facilities for these members, the present quarters being much crowded.

The announcement was a disappointment to many who had hoped that the expansion would reopen the membership list, which has been literally a closed book to aspirants.

Agitation for the widening of Strawberry way is being pushed by the club's members because it was learned the club's officials plan to construct an entrance to the new addition from that thoroughfare.

The property purchased for the addition is in the rear of the present building. It was bought from the Arbuckle estate for $540,000 through George Brothers, brokers.

The first announcement of the club's expansion plan was published exclusively in the Sun-Telegraph.

Work on the improvement is scheduled to begin within a few months. The cost has been estimated at from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, which would raise the club's total realty investment to nearly $4,000,000.

Bandit Halts Train To Rob Passengers

RIVERSIDE, Cal., May 9.—(AP.)—A masked man, by a ruse, stopped the Union Pacific Overland Limited, bound from Los Angeles to Chicago, at a street crossing here last night and robbed two passengers in the observation car. The robber short-circuited a block signal with a wire on the rails.

YANKS AHEAD IN BRITISH GOLFING

By F. A. WRAY.
International News Service.

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 9.—They had nothing up their sleeves but two pairs of good American arms and they strove to please the eye rather than deceive it, but Leo Diegel and Walter Hagen were none the less a couple of links magicians today as, with respective scores of 69 and 67, they spread the second round of teh British open golf championship all over Muirfield's dour landscape.

Yes, magicians they were, and more, for whereas the average stage trickster is content to pull the rabbit out of the hat, this pair went further. They pulled the birdie out of the hole.

EPIC OF GOLF PURITY

Hagen's 67, an epic of purity in the matter of repressed control, licked par by three strokes and bettered Percy Allis' course record of yesterday by 2. It was one of the great rounds of all championship history, a masterpiece over which our descendents may glot. But, great as it was, all it got him was second place at the end of the day.

The leadership went to Diegel, whose 69 added to his 71 of the first round yesterday, gave him an

NEW YORK, May 9.—All even with those Giants after two days' fighting, despite the 11-to-0 rout of yesterday, the Pirates today were convinced that they had an excellent chance to win the rubber game of the series inasmuch as Burleigh Grimes had the slab ticket.

Grimes trimmed the Giants four times last summer without a defeat and he would have made it five but for a couple of slips at the Polo Grounds in his last joust with the men of McGraw. Burleigh left this battle with the score tied, and the Giants won out in extra innings.

The home team probably will battle behind the pitching of Fred Fitzsimmons.

Giant rooters are all worked up over the no-hit pitching performance of Carl Hubbell in yesterday's game. The youngster would have allowed only one Pirate to reach first, had his support not wavered.

MICHAELSON FREED; KIN ARRESTED

KEY WEST, Fla., May 9.—(INS.)—On the heels of the acquittal of M. A. Michaelson, dry Illinois Congressman, on a charge of importing and transporting liquor, Walter Gramm, Chicago coal dealer and brother-in-law of Michaelson, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Rodney Gwynn here on an identical charge. We waived preliminary hearing.

Pleading "not guilty" to the charge, Gramm made $2,000 bond returnable in Jacksonville on May 13. This does not mean, W. P. Hughes, acting district attorney, said, that the case will be called for trial on that date. Hughes said he expected to carry the case before a federal grand jury for indictment.

BONDSMAN FOR KIN

The $2,000 cash bond placed by Michaelson when he was arrested in Chicago a few months ago on the charge which he was acquitted early today, was transferred by the Congressman to his brother-in-law as bond.

Asked if he would appear as a witness for Gramm, he said: "perhaps."

W. C. Crumbley, a deputy United States Marshall, served the warrant on Gramm is he entered the lobby of his hotel.

"I am sorry," he said after the deputy finished reading the warrant to him; "I did not expect this."

The warrant alleged that the defendant on January 3 "did unlawfully conceal, facilitate the transportation and concealment of certain merchandist to-wit., 12 bottles of intoxicating liquors which had heretofore been imported into the United States at Key West."

The warrant aleged that the offense was committed in Duval (Jacksonville) County and the prisoner wil be tried in Jacksonville if he is bound over by the Commisisoners, it was said.

KQV HELD OPEN TO BIG FINE

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(Special.)—By broadcasting since May 1 without a license, KQV at Pittsburgh has laid itself open to a fine of $500 daily or $4,500 up to totday, according to the Federal Radio Commission, which is now considering the station's belated application for renewal of its license. The quarterly license for KQV expired April 30.

The fate of the Pittsburgh station, one of the first to take the air in 1920, is now in the hands of the commission.

Boy, 12, Held Here For Rum Sale Trial

A 12-year-old boy, Otto Gascaly, of Springdale, was held for trial in Federal Court, charged with violating the liquor laws by a United States commissioner today.

The lad, said to be the youngest liquor defendant, was alleged by prohibition agents to have sold four drinks of whisky and four drinks of beer to them in the Hungarion Beneficial Club, Springdale, Mar ch 2.

The boy's father, Alex Gascaly, said to be steward of the club, was held for court last Monday on charges of selling and possessing liquor.

JOHN GILBERT

'HAPPIEST MAN' SAYS GILBERT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 9.—(INS.)—John Gilbert, one of filmdom's most popular lovers, and Ina Claire, musical comedy star, have eloped and were on their way by train today to Las Vegas, Nev., where they plan to marry.

By wedding in Las Vegas, they will save the three-day wait required by California law.

The honeymoon probably will have to be postponed as Miss Claire is signed to start work Monday in a studio here.

Miss Claire formerly was the wife of James Whitaker, New York newspaperman. Gilbert is the former husband of Leatrice Joy, also of the films. Olivia Burrell was his first wife.

"I am the happiest man in the world," Gilbert said as he was boarding the train. "I am to be married to the most wonderful girl I have ever known. Miss Claire and I have been quietly planning this affair for weeks. We are going to Las Vegas for a quiet wedding and will return to Los Angeles immediately as we are both engaged in the production of pictures."

Kellogg Back Home; Plans Law Practice

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state, returned yesterday on the liner Majestic from his vacation trip to Paris and London and announced that he would go back in a few days to his law practice in St. Paul, Minn.

While in London Mr. Kellogg sat for De Laszlo for a portrait for the State Department. While he was ambassador to England he sat for a portrait by De Laszlo which now hangs in the American Embassy in London.

ENGELSBERG WITHDRAWS CHARGES

The "battle of the Hill" ended abruptly in Criminal Court today when Joseph Engelsberg, political leader, dropped all his charges against Alderman John J. Verona and six Verona adherents.

The other defendants were James Lovoula, John and Angelo Scorza, Louis and August Manfredo, and Anthony Siano.

The end came after the defense had presented a dozen witnesses to dispute Engelberg's charges that Verona and his henchman had thrashed him in the Club Alabam', Wylie avenue black-and-tan cabaret.

To complete the Verona victory, the jury placed the costs on Engelsberg after Visiting Judge William T. Darr had instructed it not to put the bill on the defendants.

Engelsberg's special counsel, Jerome Solomon, moved for the withdrawal after the testimony of William H. Smith, a waiter in the Alabam', for the defense.

Smith testified that during Engelsberg's trouble with the alleged attackers, the "lady with the bottle in her hand at Engelsberg's table said, 'It's a shame to treat my sweetheart that way.'"

ACQUITTALS ORDERED

Even before Engelsberg changed his mind the prosecution had lost much of its punch. After the state had rested Judge Darr issued binding instructions to the jury to acquit Anthony Siano, Louis Manfredo and Angelo Scorza on both charges of aggravated assault and battery and surety of the peace; Constable James Lovoula on a larceny charge and a reduction of the charge against the remaining defendants from aggravated to simply assault and battery.

Verona and Lovoula testified before the case collapsed. Verona told of going to the Club Alabam' with three married couples, but denied seeing the trouble.

Lovoula said that he tried to avert rather than incite trouble. He said he saw August Manfredo, a defendant, pushing Engelsberg into his chair, and, being a constable and champion of peace, he tried to take Engelsberg into the next room.

"I caught hold of his coat, which came off. I dropped it there," he said.

The coat held $360, which was the basis of the larceny charge against Lovoula, according to Engelsberg's testimony.

TARIFF REVISION BILL REPORTED

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee today overrode Democratic opposition and formally reported the new tariff revision bill to the House.

The 15 Republicans lined up solidly for the measure, while of the 10 Democrats, nine were opposed to the bill and one, Hill, of Washington, voted present.

Representative Treadway (Rep.), Massachusetts, and Representative Canfield (Dem.), Indiana, were represented by proxies, the former for and the latter against a favorable report.

Representative Hull, of Tennessee, a Democratic member of the committee, announced after the meeting that he would file a minority report on the bill within the next two days.

TOM MIX INNOCENT IN TAX FRAUD, ATTORNEY CLAIMS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 9.—(INS.)—Tom Mix, cowboy hero of screenland, charged with alleged income tax frauds by indictments returned here by the federal grand jury, "is an innocent party to the asserted irregularities," it was stated here today by Claude I. Parker, income tax counselor, who represents the film star.

Tom Mix

"An examination of Mix's books and records convinces me he is innocent," Parker declared.

Mix, who is now making a stage tour in the East, is claimed to owe the government a total of $102,733.68 he failed to pay during the years of 1925, 1926 and 1927. Joint charges of conspiracy to defraud are made against Mix, J. Marjorie Berger, Hollywood tax expert, and John D. Hill, formerly Mix's press agent.

LINDY TO BE MARRIED EARLY IN JUNE IN MAINE

MEXICO CITY, May 9.—(INS.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne Spencer Morrow will be married at the Morrow summer home at North Haven, Me., and the wedding will take place early in June, it was most authoritatively stated at the American embassy here today.

Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow will leave Mexico City for Northhaven about May 25, and the wedding will take place there soon after the ambassador's arrival, it was said.

There will be no secret marriage before the ambassador arrives, according to Mr. Morrow, and the ambassador himself will make an announcement to the press, giving the date and place of the wedding.

The other members of the Morrow family, now at Englewood, N. J., and Col. Lindbergh are expected to precede the ambassador to North Haven.

'STRIP' VOTE RIOTERS FREED

Judge James B. Drew in Criminal Court yesterday suspended sentence upon payment of costs, in the cases of Frank De Basi, alias Babe Kelly, of 1241 Penn avenue; John Sykes, of 2631 Penn avenue, and John Burke, of 2547 Smallman street, charged with being leaders in a gun battle in Sixth avenue the night of September 7, 1927.

De Basi pleaded guilty to charges of carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms. The three entered pleas of guilty to inciting a riot.

The charges grew out of fighting among factions in the Strip during the primary campaigns of Barney Kenna and the late J. J. McManus for constable in the Second Ward. The defendants admitted they were Kenna followers.

"This apparently was a minor factional fight, in which you were badly beaten, in addition to having your candidate lose at the polls," Judge Drew said in suspending the sentences.

TWO AMERICANS LEAD FIELD

aggregate of 140, two strokes beyond Hagen. Two strokes in back of the sleek Walter came Abe Mitchell, of England, who produced another 72 today for a total of 144, while Allis supplemented his 69 with a 76 to finish in fourth position at 145. Their efforts alone saved England from the ignominy of an utter rout, for seven of the first 10 finishers were Americans.

OTHER YANKS NEAR TOP

They were Diegel, Hagen, Bobby Cruickshank with a 73 for 145; Johnny Farrell with a 75 for 147; John Golden with a 73 for 147 and Gene Sarazen with a 74 for the same total; Tommy Armour with a 73 for 148 and Bill Mehlhorn, whose 74 got him a total of 148 and a tie with Armour and Aubrey Boomer, of England.

The remaining Americans finished with the following totals: MacDonald Smith and Jim Barnes, 151; Al Espinosa, Al Watrous, Ed Dudley, Joe Turnesa and Horton Smith, 152; Jimmy Thompson, 156, and George Von Elm, 157.

As it was decided that 64 players were to remain in the championship at scores up to and including 157, all of the 17 Americans remained in the event for its two final rounds tomorrow, morning and afternoon.

Thus was America's domination of the British open championship affirmed again beyond the possibility of a reply. Seventeen actual American contenders started in the event; 17 still are in it. Of these, 14 were numbered among the first 20-dd at the finish of the second round.

RIVAL JONES' FEAT

And two of them, Hagen and Diegel, played golf such as England only saw once gefore, when Bobby Jones, greatest of all Americans, flouted Britain's most treasured traditions with a record 285 for 72 holes at St. Andrews.

Jones has been likened to the machine in human guise but it is doubtful whether his perfection ever knew a more rigid conrtol than Hagen produced today. Usually a rabid liberal of the links, he turned conservative and shot his way around almost without deviating from the straight line by a literal inch.

Diegel, on the other hand, had to pull a Hagen on the final nine in order to stay in front. For the accuracy that has carried through five rounds of the Ryder Cup series and the qualifying test and regular championship days of this tournament to average of 69 4-5 strokes, suddenly deserted him. Putting had prevented him from shooting in the sixties through every previous day of the open; today, it kept him in that charmed environment.

DIEGEL HANDICAPPED

Twice on the late greens was he interfered with by photographers or his score might have been even lower. Anyhow, he missed a three-footer through this lack of consideration.

However, the greens at least were kind to him. They fairly snarled at Cruickshank and Armour, neither of whom could sink a putt on the inward nine, regardless of their 73s. As for Mac Smith, he took 41 putts on his round of 78 and most of the other Americans lacked the touch, too, with the possible exception of Johnny Golden, whose putting was both brilliant and erratic.

But no American is finding fault tonight. With Diegel four strokes and Hagen two strokes beyond the field, and Farrell, Golden, Sarazen, Armour and Mehlhorn close up, they couldn't get a kick out of an all-America halfback.

Woman Swallows $2,500 in Radium

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—(AP.)—Mrs. Arthur B. Huey, wife of the senior vice president of the Philadelphia Electric Company, is in the Graduate Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, as a result of an operation to remove a piece of radium she accidentally swallowed. Her condition was said to be much improved.

The accident occurred two weeks ago, when Mrs. Huey was undergoing treatment which required the insertion of radium, encased in a tiny capsule, in her nose. It slipped loose when Mrs. Huey suddenly inhaled, and she swallowed the particle, said to be valued at $2,500.

PICNIC PLANS ANNOUNCED

Plans for the annual school picnic sponsored by the Ross Township Board of Trade were announced at the monthly meeting of the board held this week. The picnic will be held May 29 in West View Park.

A. B. Coombe, general chairman, announced that a sports program has been prepared, including baseball games. There will be free tickets for the school children to the various amusements, a basket dinner and other features. Special street cars will convey the pupils to and from the park.

Second Offense In Rum Cases Means Jail

"All second offenders must go to jail," declared Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court in sentencing William P. King, of the North Side, to 60 days in jail after he had pleaded guilty to sale and possession of liquor.

Counsel for King had pleaded for leniency. The court said no leniency could be shown second offenders.

King was arrested as one of the owners of a club on the second floor of a building at 500 Federal street, where prohibition agents alleged, the liquor laws were violated.

FARM BILL STILL FACES BITTER FIGHT

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON, International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Democrati-Insurgent coalition, which handed President Hoover his first legislative defeat by writing the export debenture plan into the new farm bill in the Senate, faced a superhuman task today in the drive to enact this form of relief into law.

A hostile House awaited the bill, which probably will be enacted finally by the Senate early next week. Then, if the coalition should win as surprising a victory in the House as it did in the Senate, the bill would face an almost certain presidential veto.

SUPPLIES BOUNTY

The debenture plan, as it now stands, would authorize the payment of a bounty on all exported surplus crops. The bounty would be equal to half the tariff rate on the particular crop exported. Its proponents declared it would take care of the surplus crops, which have pauperized agriculture in the past, and would provide this relief out of tariff revenues. All crops were included in its provisions, but the whole provision would be operable only if the proposed federal farm board deemed it necessary to meet an emergency.

The coalition won an astonishing victory in the Senate. The final vote approving the debenture was 47 to 44—a total of 91 votes being cast. The four other senators were paired on the ballot and two of them were present.

HELD IMPORTANT

The vote, in which every senator was recorded, was without precedent in recent years, and indicated the tremendous political importance attached to it by leaders of the two major parties.

The coalition apparently has decided to make the debenture plan its political campaign issue. Even if it is ultimately stricken out of the farm bill, the coalition will attempt to have it inserted in the tariff bill, which will follow the agricultural measure. If defeated in that attempt, the coalition undoubtedly will make the debenture an issue in the congressional elections of 1930.

The debenture plan likely will meet defeat in the House. The lower branch of Congress already has refused to even vote on it, but will get another opportunity to express itself after the bill has gone to conference to iron out the differences in the House and Senate bills.

WANT RECORD ROLL CALL

Administration leaders predicted the House, always more docile than the Senate to party control, would stand by the President. The coalition, meanwhile, centered its efforts on forcing a record roll-call in the House.

The farm battle continued merrily in the Senate, but with administration forces anxious to terminate it. The debenture pushed the old equalization fee into the background, although the Senate will get a chance to vote on this former favorite within the next day or two. Senator Copeland (Dem.), of New York, offered an amendment, including the fee in the new bill, but he had little hope of securing its adoption. Although this form of farm relief proved a favorite with Congress for the last four years, it was definitely discarded in the last campaign.

Will Be Hostess To Missouri Circle

The Women's Missionary Society of the Watson Memorial Presbyterian Church, Perrysville avenue, will meet in monthly session at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the church rooms. Mrs. H. L. McGouran will have charge of the program. "Briefs from Latin America" will be presented by Mrs. C. G. Dunnells.

SCIENTISTS VIEW ECLIPSE, SEE NEW STARS, PLANETS

MANILA, May 9.—(AP.)—Scientists assembled at Iloilo, south of here, had an unobstructed view of the solar eclipse today. They took photographs and made numerous observations of the phenomenon in their quest for information about the sun's corona and the effect of the eclipse upon the earth.

A message received here from the Rev. Miguel Selga, director of the Manila Conservatory, who headed one of the scientific expeditions to Iloilo, declared that the eclipse revealed a beautiful corona and made visible many planets and stars in the direction of the sun.

Com. C. H. J. Keppler, head of the Naval Observatory Expedition, sent the following from Iloilo:

"Eclipse weather conditions at Iloilo were excellent with only very faint clouds near the sun. Two airplanes at 5,000 and 10,000 feet obtained photographs and observations from the air. A moving-picture camera at Antique (a town west of Iloilo), also took photographs. Radio tests were made by the Destroyer Hull."

The phenomenon was visible to but a small part of the earth—a slightly curved streak about 100 miles wide beginning in the Indian Ocean, just east of the African shore, and extending up through Polynesia and out into the Pacific.

ALOR STAR, Kedah, Malay States, May 9.—(AP.)—British scientists observing today's eclipse of the sun here had little success as their observations were marred by cirrus clouds and only two or three stars were visible.

PATANI, Siam, May 9.—(AP.)—The total eclipse of the sun today was obscured by clouds over the entire Siamese side of the eclipse's path and the British observation party here saw nothing.

Dr. Heber D. Curtis, of Pittsburgh, and a group of other scientists were in Sumatra today to study the total eclipse of the sun in the hope of discovering scientific data hitherto unrevealed to the eye of man.

For eight weeks, Dr. Curtis, director of the Allegheny Observatory, had been making preparations to observe the eclipse.

Dr. Curtis traveled more than 10,000 miles to observe the one today, which was to last only about five minutes.

PLAZA BUILDING GETS RECEIVER

Judge Thomas Ford in Common Pleas Court yesterday named the Peoples Savings and Trust Company temporary receiver for the Plaza Office Building Company, acting on a petition of the Atlantic National Bank, of Boston, by a bill of equity. The receiver will take charge of the affairs of the company until June 4, when a hearing on application for a permanent receivership will be held. Bond was fixed at $10,000.

The Boston bank is trustee under a deed of trust to secure payment of an issue of $875,000 sinking fund gold bonds, it states. Of this $819,000 has been issued and is outstanding. It was stated that the deed of trust was executed by Harry Haas, of Pittsburgh, November 1, 1926. It was set forth that the defendant has defaulted in payment of interest and taxes.

FRIEDMAN AGAIN GOES BEFORE GRAND JURY

Charles Friedman, Versailles Township, now serving a two-year sentence in a federal prison camp, having been convicted in the McKeesport rum conspiracy case, resumed his testimony before a federal grand jury here today. He had been before the jury yesterday.

Although government officials are maintaining great secrecy relative to the nature of Friedman's testimony, it is generally believed to concern alleged rum racketeering in the McKeesport district. At the trial he was designated the leader of bootleg activities in McKeesport.

Since being brought here Monday from the Federal prison camp at Alderson, W. Va., Friedman has been in custody of a prison guard. Many conferences have been held with the prisoner by government attorneys and prohibition agents. He was brought here, it was said, after indicating he had important information to divulge.

Friedman is said to have been unsuccessful in several efforts to obtain a pardon since being sentenced January 9, 1928. The applications for the pardon were said to have been opposed by District Attorney John D. Meyer. In the grand jury inquiry the government is represented by Assistant United States Attorney Ralph H. Smith.

ZEP TO FLY OVER POLAR ZONE

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—In addition to being groomed for a round-the-world trip this summer, the Graf Zeppelin is destined to show its silver sides to the white waste-lands of the Arctic before another year has passed.

The International Society for the Exploration of the Arctic Regions by means of aircraft, has entered into a contract for the use of the big ship for an expedition from Leningrad to either Nome or Fairbanks by way of north polar regions. The trip will take place in April or May of 1930.

John A. Fleming, vice president of the American section of the society, and an eminent scientist, has written to the War Department outlining the project and requesting assistance of the American government in providing adequate landing equipment in Alaska. Mr. Fleming also has asked certain oil companies to supply fuel and has obtained from Interior Department officials the promise of assistance on the part of administration officials in Alaska.

The Zeppelin will be under command of its designer and builder, Dr. Hugo Eckener, and the scientific group will be under the direction of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous Arctic explorer. The ship will carry a crew of 25 and the scientific group will number 15.

WILL OBSERVE HEALTH DAY

A program in observance of "Child Health Day" will be presented by pupils of the Samuel Hamilton School, Ross Township, in the school auditorium, Perrysville highway and Cemetery lane, tomorrow night. Three playlets will be given by pupils of the third, fifth and sixth grades. Songs, folk dances and a solo by Alice McKain are also on the program. Demonstrations in home hygiene and care of the sick will be given by ninth grade students, emergencies and first aid by eighth grade girls.

Reduction

A. H. BURCHFIELD

Mr. Burchfield, vice-president, Joseph Horne Co., who is a leader in the department stores of the country in subscribing to petitions favoring a reduction of the tax on earned incomes.

FETE PLANNED FOR MEMBERS

A reception will be held by the congregation of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church of Dormont for 158 new members who have been received during the church year ending April 30, next Wednesday evening.

The young people are in charge of the affair and have planned an interesting and entertaining program. During the reception the new members will be presented to the officers of the various organizations of the church and the department heads and teachers of the church school. Following this a musical and literary program will be presented. Refreshments will be served. The Rev. Edward Bleakney is pastor of the church.

ESSAY PRIZES AWARDED

An essay contest conducted during the student assembly at Perry High School this week by the American Legion Medal Award Club resulted in six essays out of 30 submitted being read before the assembly.

Martha Gibson and James McGaw were awarded first places and Estella and Herbert Weeter, second places. Dorothy Leubin and Homer Baker were given honorable mention. The judges were Dr. J. W. Jordan, Mrs. W. Hansen, Mrs. J. B. Gold, Mrs. W. J. Lacock and Dr. Maxwell Cornelius.

Sharpsburg Board Re-Elects Teachers

All teachers in the Sharpsburg public schools were re-elected at the regular monthly meeting of the borough school board Tuesday night. F. J. Wittman was re-elected secretary and Charles N. Patterson was chosen treasurer for the ensuing year. J. D. Casey is chairman of the board. The tax levy for 1929 will be fixed at a special meeting later in the month.

Braddock Guild To Meet Sunday

The mothers' day service of the Lutheran Inner Mission Guild of Braddock will be held Sunday afternoon in the Passavant Hospital. Fruit and flowers will be given each patient. Mrs. Elsie Langham, president, and Hildegarde Schmidt will have charge of the program.

DRIVE WINS WORKERS' BACKING

Executives and employes of the Joseph Horne Company, first of Pittsburgh's department stores to report returns of petitions in the movement for the reduction of taxes on earned incomes, have turned in hundreds of signatures and today the final canvass gives almost 100 per cent of that organization. It is one of the largest returns made by a mercantile establishment in the country.

A. H. Burchfield, vice president of the Joseph Horne Company, commenting on the success of the movement sponsored by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers, said that the response by the personnel of his organization indicated the popularity of the demand for a more equitable assessment of taxes on earned incomes.

EQUAL BANK RETURNS

The department stores are rivaling the banks in the number of signatures to the petitions. In the Joseph Horne Company the circulation of petitions was carried on in a systematic manner under the direction of Manager H. M. Phifer.

Everywhere among mercantile leaders it is declared that any movement to relieve the tax burdens of professional people and wage earners will increase community prosperity and this in turn is reflected in increased business in all lines and brings national thrift, creating new wealth.

ROTARIANS SIGN

The Rotary Club of Pittsburgh has signed up practically every member in Sun-Telegraph petitions for tax reduction on earned incomes. Rotarian Thomas A. Dunn directed the canvass for signatures and not a member present refused. The result was announced by President Robert Wilson at the luncheon of the club in the Fort Pitt Hotel yesterday. Mr. Dunn said:

"About everybody in Pittsburgh is for a more just method of dealing wi the tax on earned incomes. It is all in having the matter presented to them intelligently and giving them an opportunity to sign a petition. The Rotarians are for revision downward, the Chamber of Commerce is for it and the columns of the Sun-Telegraph have been telling us from day to day that the bankers, business men, mercantile men and all the other wide-awake citizens are for it. Congress must take heed when these truckloads of petitions are carried to the Capitol."

WOMAN'S CLUB NAMES HEAD

Mrs. Philip R. Webber was chosen president of the Woman's Club of Ben Avon at the annual business meeting of the club this week in the Ben Avon United Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Frederick L. Stout was elected vice president; Mrs. Harry Ferguson, recording secretary; Mrs. Albert Ulrich, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. James Fleming, treasurer.

Mrs. Elmer Flaccus, chairman of the program committee for the club next year, announced that the studies and papers would be devoted to reviewing interesting accomplishments of other countries. A number of speakers have been engaged to address the club. Sessions of the club will be resumed in October.

Hebrew Aid Holds Benefit Card Party

The Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society held a benefit card party last night for the Jewish Hospital in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Swissvale. Mrs. H. Rosenbloom and Mrs. S. Schwartz were the general chairmen. Mrs. O. I. Polk and Mrs. Litman had charge of the finance committee. Other committee chairmen included Mrs. I. Newman, Mrs. Marcus Polk and Mrs. H. Marcus, refreshments; Mrs. J. H. Greenberg, Mrs. George Eggerman, Mrs. Joseph Blumenfeld, Mrs. T. Feldman, Mrs. R. Grossman and Mrs. R. Sigel, tables.

Young People to Conduct Services

The young people of the Bellevue Christian Church will have charge of the night services Sunday. A program appropriate to "Mother's Day" will be given. A pageant with 13 girls taking part will be presented. Four special musical numbers will be given by soloists from the young people's department of the Sunday school.

REDS BURY BERLIN BATTLE VICTIMS, VOW VENGEANCE

BERLIN, May 9.—(AP.)—Red shrouds on the coffins, red ribbons on funeral wreaths and red banners and arm bands in the procession yesterday marked the Communist demonstration at the funeral of the victims of the May Day rioting in this city.

"Revenge for the heroes of the bloody May Day of 1929."

Only the bodies of three of the dead had been released by the police for burial, but the same demonstration was given as had been planned for burial of a score or more of the victims in Friedrichsfelde Cemetery just outside of Berlin. There were thousands in the procession which wound its slow way to the burial plot.

The police, against whom the dead had fought, were not in evidence. The demonstration was given free rein by the government which leaders of the Reds had pledged themselves to overthrow.

Ernst Thaelmann, Communist leader in the Reichstag, pronounced the funeral oration. He said:

"On these graves of our dead we swear to carry through the revolution, not only in Germany, but in the whole world. We will destroy governments, defy socialistic laws and set up dictatorships of the proletariat."

A half dozen truck loads of police reserves were stationed around corners of side streets near the cemetery. But as the crowds silently dispersed, these visible emblems of state authority withdrew to their stations.

25 MORE TROLLEY PASS HOLDERS RECEIVE AWARDS

That street car riders have an eagle eye in reading the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, is being demonstrated daily.

Most everyone in town is now acquainted with the plan of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and Pittsburgh Railways Company to give away $700 to car riders every week.

Holders of passes entitled to awards in this campaign kept streaming into the offices of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph all yesterday. Twenty-five current numbers were chosen in yesterday's paper, the holders to receive free passes good for next week; five were selected to receive $5 in cash, and five to receive $2 cash awards. These awards will be continued every day.

Among the passholders who appeared at the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph office yesterday to claim their rewards was Patrolman J. W. Norton, 1148 Church avenue, McKees Rocks.

J. W. NORTON

Norton, a daily reader of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, buys a pass every week to use on his way to and from work. He was riding on the street car yesterday, he claims, and noticed that his pass number was one of those announced in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Other recipients of rewards yesterday were E. Ross Gates, 2003 Braddock avenue, Swissvale, who discovered his number by a casual comparison of his car pass number with those in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, and R. A. Hendrickson, deputy coroner, 508 E. North avenue.

Holders of these passes will receive $5 cash awards:

39	18,585	35,000	65,019	75,543

Two dollars in cash will go to holders of these passes:

711	17,803	26,940	40,508	59,400

Passes for next week are ready for holders of pass numbers:

19	35,098	58,085	74,999	1,760
63,456	79,111	16,611	44,313	65,090
27,918	55,032	72,033	85,116	29,763

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and Pittsburgh Railways Company employes are not eligible for these awards.

In addition there will be a grand weekly award of $100; a second grand weekly award of $50, and 10 other weekly rewards of $5.

Watch for the weekly awards in Saturday's Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and the daily awards announced each day.

HILL CHILDREN TAKE UP DIRT FARMING

One hundred children trudged home, each with a box, a basket, or coal scuttle of dirt yesterday to become dirt farmers in the thickly populated Hill district. A car load of earth, which in other years had grown crops in the Colfax section up the Allegheny River, was deposited in the Miller school yard, Miller street, and pupils from 21 schools, 11 grade schools, four high schools and five parochial schools saw to it that the dirt disappeared.

They are going to compete for a silver trophy to be awarded the school producing most gardens, and a garden might consist of a window box, a flower pot or a whole yard. There are from 1,500 to 2,000 pupils in the district lacking facilities to grow flowers or other plants, but they are going after the silver trophy for their school, or one of the three individual prizes awarded each school.

The Better Neighborhood contest, official designation of the race, is sponsored by the Irene Kaufmann Settlement and is in general charge of Sidney A. Teller, settlement director. Included in the list of contesting schools are the Forbes, Franklin, Hancock, Letsche, Madison, Minersville, Miller, Moorhead, McKelvey, Rose, Watt and Sommers public schools; the Fifth Avenue, Schenley, Herron Hill Junior and Business High schools, and St. Brigid's, St. Richard's, St. Peter's, Epiphany and Holy Trinity parochial schools.

Japanese Ship Sunk, 50 Sailors Missing

TOKIO, May 9.—(AP.)—The Navy Department today revealed grounding and total loss of the chartered collier, Tamon Maru No. 6, Tuesday afternoon, with fate of the crew of 50 men unknown.

A wireless dispatch said the ship struck a coral reef near Truk Island and in the Carolines group, in the Southern Pacific. Strong tides and many reefs at the scene of the wreck made rescue of the crew difficult.

Reports $170 Theft, Held With Suspect

Following a complaint that he had been robbed, Chester Forsaith, 34, and William Rose, a Negro, of 138 Fullerton street, were held in Center Avenue Police Station on charges of being suspicious persons. Forsaith told police he was enticed into Rose's place and robbed of $171 by a woman, who had left when the police arrived.

PERSHING'S FIGHT TO KEEP ARMY INTACT TOLD

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—On August 30, 1918, Marshal Foch faced Gen. Pershing in France and demanded:

"Do you wish to go into battle?"

"Most assuredly," the American commander replied calmly, "but as an American Army."

Foch objected that it would take a month to complete such an army.

"Give me a sector anywhere you decide," declared Pershing, "and I will take it over at once."

This historic scene is pictured vividly in a narrative off the government presses yesterday, which for the first time gives an official account of how it was decided that a million Americans would enter the Argonne as an American Army, not as French reinforcements.

Headed "The Genesis of the American First Army," the document was prepared by the historical section of the Army War College. The narrative leading up to the climatic meeting between the French and American commanders' recounts in detail from heretofore unpublished records Pershing's long battle against Allied demands for American troops as replacements in their own armies.

Its publication led army officers to recall an interview with Marshal Foch published in Paris after his recent death, in which the French commander was quoted as having said Premier Clemenceau had considered that Pershing's efforts to build up an autonomous army was preventing the Americans from giving the aid they should have given the Allied cause as a whole. "The Tiger" was said to have accused Gen. Pershing of being too stubborn.

Regarding the meeting between Pershing and Foch, which occurred at first army headquarters in Ligny-en-Barrios, the narrative says:

QUICK DRIVE TO VICTORY

"It was a moment of high tension. The two commanders faced each other, both with decided convictions. The decision affected more than a million Americans.

"Eleven days later, September 10, 1918, while Pershing's first Army crouched for its spring at St. Mihiel, the agreement was ratified that give him a 90-mile front. Within two weeks all his forces were driving through the Argonne toward Sedan and the armistice."

The monograph is a chapter of the official narrative history of American military participation in the World War, which the war college specialists are preparing with access to Allied and German records as well as American.

FINAL SUCCESS OF YOUNG DEBT PLAN SEEN

PARIS, May 9.—(INS.)—Although protests against the downward revision of reparation apportionments under the Young plan continued to pile up today in the French, Belgian and British Press, there were outward indications that the terms would eventually be accepted with possibly some modifications.

Even if the Young plan is accepted by the experts, it must be approved by the allied governments before it is effective.

Under the Young plan, England would receive only sufficient funds to pay the British war debt to the United States. This is the basis of the protests by the British newspapers.

CUT FOR BELGIUM

The Belgian protest is based upon the fact that, under the Young plan, Belgium would have her original reparation claim cut nearly in half, or down to 64,000,000 marks. In addition, Belgium would receive payments to cover debts.

France's annuities would be slashed below the figure which the French had previously said was their minimum.

It was understood that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation, assisted by Sir Josiah Stamp, of the British delegation, has completed the revised memorandum of reservations. In the meantime the drafting committee, which is preparing the official report of the conference, has gone ahead with its work. The report is nearing completion and may be completed by the first of next week.

CHURCHILL EMPHATIC

LONDON, May 9.—(INS.)—The new reparation proposals contained in the Young plan are not acceptable to the British government and "could in no circumstances be entertained," Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill announced in the House of Commons this afternoon. He said his announcement was made "in order to prevent misconception abroad and alarm at home."

Churchill emphasized that the government remains entirely free to make its own decisions upon the recommendations made by the experts' committee, now considering the reparations problem in Paris.

The chancellor of the exchequer's announcement was received with prolonged cheers.

Girl Scales Jail Wall in 'Human Fly' Escape

LONG BEACH, CAL., May 9.—(INS.)—Alta Mayblower, 19, was sought by police today following a human fly escape from a seventh floor cell, in the city jail.

Shoving a matron in a cell and locking the door, the girl scaled a six-foot iron fence, forced a window open and slid from the seventh to the sixth floor on a drain pipe. From there she descended a fire escape to the second story and then completed her journey to ground by sliding down another drain pipe.

She was arrested for vagrancy.

Confession in Prison Fire Believed Fake

COLUMBUS, O., May 9.—(AP.)—Warden Preston E. Thomas, of Ohio penitentiary, last night found no substantiation of the confession of Ivan Pickering, 24, that he and two others started the fire which destroyed the Junction City prison brick plant last October 7, and burned 14 convicts to death.

Pickering was captured at Hamilton, O., yesterday. His return has accounted for all but one of the 20 prisoners missing after the fire. Warden Thomas said there were too many discrepancies in Pickering's story and the confession was nothing more than a bid for publicity.

OFFICER FREED IN RUM DEATH

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—The District of Columbia grand jury refused yesterday to indict Policeman Clyde O. Rouse for the fatal shooting of Herman Fleming, alleged rum-runner, during a spectacular chase April 24 in which Fleming used a smoke screen in his efforts to escape.

The action exonerates Rouse officially of blame in the killing and he will be restored to duty from which he was suspended after a coroner's jury had ordered him held.

The shooting of Fleming precipitated heated debates in Congress in which his action was both approved and condemned.

Dickens' Daughter, 89, Dies in London

LONDON, May 9.—(AP.)—Mrs. Kate Perugini, daughter of Charles Dickens, died in London today, aged 89.

Young Reds Freed As Judge Shows 'U. S. Justice'

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—(AP.)—Two young Communists, William Tumy, 18, and Nathan Lipschutz, 22, were given an "object lesson in American justice" yesterday by Judge Raymond MacNeille, before whom they were tried on charges of inciting to riot by distributing seditious reading matter among school children.

"I could give you 20 years in jail," Judge MacNeille told them.

He suspended sentence on Lipschutz and placed Tumy on probation when the latter assumed a defiant air.

Pankhurst Statue Will Be Erected

LONDON, May 9.—(AP.)—A statue of Emmeline Pankhurst is to be erected in Victoria Tower Gardens, Westminster, in sight of the Houses of Parliament, outside which many of the fiercest battles were waged and inside of which women now sit as the result of her campaigns.

Masterpiece Brings $375,000 at Auction

NEW YORK, May 9.—(INS.)—Sir Joseph Duveen today had obtained "The Crucifixion," one of two Renaissance masterpieces in the collection of Carl W. Hamilton.

The painting, a work by Piero Della Francesca, came to Sir Joseph with his bid of $375,000, the highest price ever obtained for a painting at public auction.

Store Chorus Gives Its Annual Concert

The annual concert of the Joseph Horne Company chorus of 100 voices was given in Carnegie Music Hall last night. W. A. Macdonald was conductor, Ellen Wolfe accompanist and Dale M. Phillips organist. Special numbers were given by O. E. Draper, Josephine Stewart and Mary Zeigler. The concert was for the benefit of Camp Horne, summer retreat of employes of the store near Emsworth. H. M. Phifer was general chairman.

Normal School Youth Dies in Auto Crash

BELLAIRE, O., May 9.—Jesse Brock, 20, of Wileyville, W. Va., a student at the West Virginia State Normal School, West Liberty, W. Va., was killed early today when an automobile driven by Velma Schneider, 16, of Shadyside, plunged from the road at Neffs, O., and landed in a creek.

Miss Schneider, Helen Brown, 19, of Shadyside, and Ray Hill, 22 of Silver Hill, W. Va., also a Normal school student, escaped unhurt.

Man Hurt in Fight Found Under Bridge

Police early today found Frank Sanders, 33, of 5129 Lydia street, Hazelwood, under the Twenty-second Street Bridge, near Forbes and Brady streets. At the Homeopathic Hospital it was said his skull and jaw were fractured. Sanders told Acting Lieut. John Novak, of No. 2 Police Station, that he had been fighting with several men. A sum of money and a watch were still in his pockets, police said. His condition is serious.

HILLS, VALLEYS LEVELLED FOR NEW P.-W. VA. LINE

Men and machinery are engaged in cutting away mountains and filling valleys to build the Connellsville link of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railroad between Cochrans Mills and the Western Maryland Railroad at Connellsville. The road is being built at an estimated cost of $10,000,000.

On the first 16 miles from Cochrans Mills to Belle Vernon, 35 steam shovels, aided by four miniature railroads and an army of tractors and trucks, are removing approximately 2,000,000 cubic yards of grading.

On the Kennedy farm between Valley Inn schoolhouse and Van Voorhis on Pigeon Creek, a fill of 270,000 cubic yards is being made. The right of way is being built 80 feet above the lowest point in the valley at that section, necessitating the construction of a 25-foot road arch 156 feet in length.

The first 1,600 feet from Cochrans Mills to the Peters Creek viaduct, now under construction, is about finished. Track has been laid along the right of way on which to haul materials for the viaduct, which will carry trains 500 feet across the valley.

A double-deck steel bridge will be erected across the Monongahela River at Belle Vernon. The lower tracks will be used by the Pittsburgh Steel Company and the upper level by the Pittsburgh and West Virginia.

The entire connecting link of 38 miles is expected to be completed by next year.

'Professor of Air Traffic' Appointed

BERLIN, May 9.—(INS.)—Dr. Georg Madelung has been appointed air traffic professor at the Technical High School of Berlin. So far as known here, he is the first air traffic professor in history.

DRYS IN 4 RAIDS; STILLS SEIZED

Prohibition agents raided four places and seized a liquor-laden truck last night and yesterday, they reported.

The agents raided a two-story frame house at 1050 Lincoln way, McKeesport, last night, they reported, seized two 50-gallon stills, moonshine mash and 700 pounds of corn sugar. Joe Dragula was arrested and released on his own recognizance pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. S. Edwards, of Glenfield.

A truck containing 20 pints of whisky was seized at Sandusky street and North avenue. Ben Faraz, 41, of 2900 Shadeland avenue, and James Spence, 46, of 309 West Lacock street, were lodged in the Central Police Station, according to the agents. A third man on the truck escaped.

Sam Mamula, 58, of 2330 Second avenue; English Reed, 27, of 1407 Epiphany street, and Jake Sablowsky, 40, of 412 Devilliers street, were arrested, agents said, after liquor law violations were discovered at the addresses. Mamula and Reed were liberated on bonds, and Sablowsky was released on his own recognizance, the raiders said.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The contract for the autobiography of Calvin Coolidge has just been signed by the former President and the book will be published in the autumn by the Cosmopolitan Book Corporation.

JURIST JAILED IN MURDER

AMARILLO, Tex., May 9.—(INS.)—R. H. Hamilton, widely known jurist, and active in church affairs, today was under indictment for the killing of Tom Walton, 21. State and defense lawyers are preparing for what is expected to prove one of the most sensational trials in the history of the Panhandle.

The first move was made by the state late yesterday when the Potter County Grand Jury returned a bill against Hamilton charging murder. Hamilton was arrested last night and placed in jail.

Walton was riddled with bullets as he stepped into Judge Hamilton's law office last Saturday. He had been sent on the mission by his mother, who had worried over her son's secret marriage to the jurist's daughter, Theresa, 17.

Phila. Has New Conniption Over Flag

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—(INS.)—Another furor was created among patriotic societies here today when it was discovered the American flag atop the historic Betsy Ross House had been left flying all night. A few weeks ago the discovery that the flags on Independence Hall were being allowed to wave throughout the night in violation of the regulations governing the display of the national emblems aroused much criticism and ended in the flags being taken down at sunset.

CONSTRUCTION ON NEW RAILROAD

JACKIE M'KOWN

Jackie, 5, playing with his dog in his home, 7426 Ben Hur street, East End, discovered fire and summoned Mrs. Anna Maria Beggs, 74, who was caring for him. The two fought the flames until firemen arrived.

'TRIANGLE' WILL SURVEY FOR TOWN HALL

Sharp differences of opinion continue to be expressed in the several campaigns being waged by groups favoring locations for the proposed $6,000,000 Town Hall.

The latest development is the announcement by the Allegheny Town Hall Association, favoring a downtown location, that it will employ a local engineer to survey all available sites in the "Golden Triangle." Eleven sites in the downtown district were submitted to the County Planning Commission. All of these were rejected before Lincoln G. Dickey, town hall expert, was given five sites for study.

OPPOSING CLAIMS

Last week Dickey recommended the site in Oakland bounded by Fifth, Ruskin and Lytton avenues, precipitating the heated controversy on selection of a site.

Expenditure of $3,000,000 would be necessary to prepare Monument Hill, for a Town Hall site, according to a statement issued by W. G. Negley, president of the Oakland Board of Trade. This statement was issued in refutation of the claim made by Councilman Harry Little that "Monument Hill is the cheapest site in the county for the Town Hall."

That $3,000,000 would be required for "excavation and acquisition of surrounding property," according to Negley, "making its actual cost vastly greater than acquisition of the site in Oakland recommended by Dickey."

Bolstering up Little's claim, Louis P. Blum, engineer for the group favoring Monument Hill, has issued a statement that "expenditure of $400,000 would cover the entire cost of grading the 16-acre tract on Monument Hill, including excavation of the hall basement and leaving the property ready for construction.

"Providing for the simple matter of argument, in the case of acquisition of surrounding property," the statement continues, "the complete cost would be decidedly incidental comparable with any other proposed site."

Tonight in the Carnegie Music Hall in Federal street the North Side Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a mass meeting at which invited representatives of civic organizations will be asked to give their opinions as to where the Town Hall should be located.

Credit Protection Fund Work Cited

Two hundred and forty-three business houses of Pittsburgh have been creditors in conviction cases prosecuted through the credit protection department of the National Association of Credit Men, according to figures issued this morning from headquarters of the second credit protection fund campaign, which starts here next Monday night.

"The total of local firms benefited through the first credit protection fund raised four years ago and now so nearly exhausted that it must be replenished by the second credit protection fund of $1,750,000, demonstrates the value of this work to Pittsburgh, as well as to other sections of the country," F. C. Demmler, chairman of the local campaign, said.

Bartlett Offered International Post

WASHINGTON, M. 9.—(AP.)—John H. Bartlett, of New Hampshire, first assistant postmaster general, has been offered the post of chairman of the international joint commission.

The commission deals with many questions betwe n the United States and Canada other than those relating to boundaries. The chairmanship became vacant on May 1 with the retirement of f mer Senator Clarence D. Clark, of Wyoming, whose resignation was sugrested by the chief executive.

Berlin Papers Favor Meyer as U. S. Envoy

BERLIN, May 9.—Berlin papers yesterday reported that Eugene Meyer, former Commissioner of the United States Farm Loan Board who has just resigned from that post, was slated as United States ambassador to Germany. The newspapers comment favorably on the selection, announcement of which, they state, is to be made soon.

FEIGNS LUNACY TO ESCAPE REBELS

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 9.—(AP.)—A tale of capture at the hands of Mexican rebels and release through a timely ruse was unfolded by William E. Roper, civil engineer, in a telegram received here by his mother, Mrs. D. C. Roper. His feigning lunacy saved him from death, Roper telegraphed.

Roper was supervising construction of a roadbed for the Southern Pacific line of Mexico, near Hermosillo, when the rebellion started. After an unsuccessful attempt to save a car of dynamite, Roper said he promised rebel officers, who threatened his life, to proceed to Nogales. But when he left a train at Nogales and started to cross the International line, he related, he was arrested by insurrectionists who had discovered he possessed maps which would be of use to the United States should an expeditionary force be sent into Mexico.

Guards kept him in a dungeon without clothing or food for four days, beat him and put Mexican hemp in his drinking water, Roper messaged. Overhearing from his guards that he was to be killed, Roper said he posed as a crazy man for three weeks to try to show he was not responsible for the maps.

British Pottery Men In East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 9.—Twenty-seven members of the British Ceramic Society, including President W. J. Gardner, today inspected plants in the East Liverpool district, center of the American pottery industry. The visitors, who motored here from Pittsburgh, visited the Homer Laughlin China Company's factory in Newell, W. Va., and East Liverpool plants of the Hall China Company and Patterson Foundry and Machine Company. They were welcomed by Malcolm W. Thompson, president of the United States Potters' Association.

WILLIAM PENN ADDITION OPENS

An all-day program today marks the formal opening of the $6,500,000 addition to the William Penn hotel. Eugene C. Eppley, president of the Eppley Hotels Company, was to be host to 1,500 social, civic and political leaders and out-of-town visitors.

The annex gives to Pittsburgh the world's largest hotel floor devoted to social functions, he seventeenth floor covering an entire city block, and makes the Will m Penn the largest hotel in the world outside of New York and Chicago. Another outstanding feature is the exhibition hall, known as Pirate hall, occupying the lower lobby floor in the new addition and ranking next to the largest in the United States.

A buffet luncheon in the Urban ballroom was the opening event of the day and sightseeing tours were arranged in the afternoon. A formal dinner in the combined Urban room and Court ballroom opens the evening's functions. It will be followed by a Buccaneer ball in Pirate hall starting at 10:30 p. m.

The Urban room is the work of Joseph Urban, noted designer and creator of theatrical effects. The Silver salon and the Cardinal room are two other features added to the hotel.

Among the out-of-town visitors are leading hotel men, railroad executives and industrial leaders.

Head of Hotel Men Visits Pittsburgh

T. D. Green.

Among the notables here for the opening of the William Penn Hotel annex today is Thomas D. Green, president of the American Hotel Association of the United States and Canada. Since he assumed office in 1925, he has traveled 85,000 miles in behalf of the association. In 1926 Mr. Green was decorated with the knighthood of the Legion of Honor by France, the Order of the Commander of the Crown by Italy and the Order of Leopold by Belgium.

FUGITIVE TAKEN IN RUM CASE

Archie Negelman, former United States prohibition officer wanted by federal authorities for the last two months on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws, was arrested near Carmichaels after he had eluded federal officers for six weeks. James R. "Slim" Austin, also a fugitive in the same case, was arrested near Uniontown today.

Under the hood of an automobile driven by Austin, prohibition agents reported, they found four cases of liquor. He was taken to Federal Court this afternoon for sentence on another liquor charge, but sentence was delayed until tomorrow when he demanded an attorney.

Negelman was arrested on a bench warrant issued for him when he failed to appear to answer to charges brought against him. He was arrested at the home of George Crago, near Carmichaels. Crago also is accused of being involved in the conspiracy, which reached through four Western Pennsylvania counties and two counties in the northern section of West Virginia.

Crago's wife, Mrs. Callie Crago, was arrested at the same time that Negelman was taken into custody. Mrs. Crago is held on a conspiracy charge. Following their arrest the two were taken to Waynesburg, where they were committed to the county jail.

Negelman was to be brought here today.

Feels Morgue Needs Little Advertising

The Allegheny County morgue doesn't need advertising, Coroner W. J. McGregor feels. When the new morgue ambulance arrived yesterday, Dr. McGregor saw through astonished eyes this announcement splashed on its side in impressive letters: "Allegheny County Morgue Ambulance." "Send it back," the doctor said, in effect, "and have those letters reduced."

Horse That Never Threw Wales Pensioned

LONDON, May 9.—(INS.)—Known as the horse in the Prince of Wales' stable that never once unseated his royal master, "Just An Idea," the prince's only and favorite hunter, is to be pensioned off and dispatched to the royal farm in Cornwall, where it will join the happy band of veteran royal hunters, polo, and rodeo ponies that are spending their last days in peace upon that estate.

Rum Suspect Cited In Court Contempt

Judge R. M. Gibson, in Federal Court yesterday issued a bench warrant for the arrest of Joseph Panyi on a charge of contempt of court. In a petition filed by Federal attorneys it is alleged that a temporary injunction was issued February 1 against a saloon conducted by Pany, at Spring Garden and Madison avenues, and that six drinks were sold in the place April 18.

MURREN TO GET BULLET DEVICE

Chief County Detective George W. Murren yesterday said that equipment for scientific examination of bullets and revolvers in homicide investigations will be purchased for his office.

This will be the first result of the collapse of the state's case in an alleged rum war killing Monday.

The equipment will be the same as that recently installed by the Chicago police, and will make it possible to establish definitely from which revolver a bullet has been fired.

Murren said he was convinced there was no connection between the killing of John Daniele, in the Strip, and Joseph Lucisano in McKees Rocks January 10, and that his office will not make a check upon the revolvers and bullets used in the slayings. Police the night of the murders said that automobiles used by the slayers of the two men tallied in descriptions.

SAILOR SLAIN BY RADIO MAN

BALTIMORE, May 9.—(AP.)—W. A. Mullen, 32, of Portland, Me., an oiler on the tanker W. L. Steed, was shot dead aboard ship as it was passing Bloody Point, Chesapeake Bay, by Glenn A. Harrison, radio operator, who claimed he fired in self-defense after being assaulted by Mullen during an argument.

Harrison was put in irons by Capt. Pharr, who turned him over to the Baltimore police.

Harrison had carried a revolver for self-protection since he had his jaw broken by a member of Steed's crew at Panama last February. The physicians who treated him, the radio operator said, told him if he was ever struck again in the jaw he would lose the power of speech.

He remembered this warning, he said, when Mullen struck him on the head in the crews' quarters last night.

3 DIE AS TRAIN CRASHES INTO STOLEN AUTO

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., May 9.—(AP.)—A man and a woman were killed and the latter's infant child was hurt fatally last night when an automobile, which police said was stolen, was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio train at Deanville crossing, near Weston.

Jesse Polling, alias Roy C. Polling, 30, and Mrs. Opal Hopwood, 27, both of Wheeling, were killed instantly. Mrs. Hopwood's child died at a hospital two hours later.

Members of the train crew said the car was driven to the tracks in front of the train in disregard of a crossing warning signal. The automobile, they said, was traveling at a normal rate of speed as it approached the crossing.

Frick and Lindsay Girls Hold Banquet

Members of the Frick and Lindsay Girls Bowling League held their annual banquet and theater party last night. The banquet, which was in charge of Mrs. Barbara Saxton, was held in the Congress of Women's Clubs, while the theater party was held at the Pitt. Pearl Kirwan was in charge of the theater arrangements.

Won War Cross; Learns of It After 14 Yrs.

PARIS, May 9.—(AP.)—For 14 years John G. Hopper, of San Francisco, was unaware he had been awarded the Croix de Guerre until recently when he received the decoration here.

Hopper, twin brother of James Hopper, American author, enlisted in the French Foreign Legion in August, 1914. Early in 1915, while fighting in the Somme, he was wounded in the spine. When cured he joined the counter-espionage service until the end of the war.

A few weeks ago his spine began troubling him again and he was called before a commission of French army doctors. Looking up Hopper's record at the ministry of war, the doctors found a citation for the Croix de Guerre awarded the American volunteer in 1915.

Hopper is a mining engineer. He says he worked with President Hoover in Mexico years ago.

Ex-Pittsburgher Injured in Fall

ROCHESTER, Pa., May 9.—Michael Hahn, 59, formerly of Pittsburgh, suffered a fractured skull when he fell down a flight of stairs at his home in Monaca last night and is in a serious condition in the hospital here.

DEMOCRATS SEEK STRONG CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

The Democratic party will figure in the mayoralty campaign this fall, according to County Chairman David L. Lawrence.

In predicting big gains for the Democrats over the last mayoralty election, he said:

"I wish to call attention to the fact that in the last presidential election, this section made a greater Democratic gain than any other section in the United States. Personally I believe that the time is opportune for a Democratic candidate—for a strong man.

"The people can do most anything they want to do. In my judgment many want a change. The Democratic party in Allegheny County will have a strong ticket in the field."

Frats at Virginia To Aid Liquor Ban

RICHMOND, Va., May 9.—(AP.)—Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, said yesterday that the 32 fraternities of that institution have unanimously passed resolutions forbidding the storage of liquor in their chapter houses. He said they also announced willingness and intention to co-operate in the observance of the university's rules against drinking.

News of this action was communicated by Dr. Alderman to Edwin H. Gibson, assistant attorney general of Virginia, who recently investigated charges of drinking at the university, and made a favorable report on enforcement conditions.

CASHIER BRIDE HELD IN THEFT

"I just spent it," was the only explanation by Mrs. E. W. Faust, 20, of 547 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, in Morals Court today for alleged theft of money from Oswald Werner & Sons Company, cleaners, Bryant and St. Clair streets.

Mrs. Faust, a bookkeeper, admitted to Magistrate Leo Rothenberg she had taken $450 since last November when she entered the employ of the company, one month after her marriage.

She was arrested yesterday, Patrolman James Teets testified, after $16 in marked money had been found in her possession.

James A. Waldie, an accountant for the company, testified Mrs. Faust had been augmenting her salary for the past month by taking $10 a day from C. O. D. cash turned in by drivers and that her alleged peculations likely would reach $1,000. She was ordered held over.

ORDERS WOMEN TO FLEE CHINA

HONGKONG, May 9.—(AP.)—Consular instructions have been given American women and children to evacuate that part of Kwangsi province near Kweilin. For the present they are being stopped at Wuchow, on the Kwansi-Kwantung border to await the British gunboat Moorhen.

CANTON, China, May 9.—(AP.)—Attacking Kwangsiites were advancing on this city from three sides today and its fall was considered a matter of from 48 to 72 hours. The Central Bank has suspended specie payments and conditions near panic reigned.

Considerable fear was held as to probable developments during the prospective occupation of the city.

Pipe Line Purchase Approval Is Asked

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, of Pittsburgh, has asked approval of the purchase of pipe lines in Pennsylvania from the Pure Oil Pipe Line Company, of Chicago, and the Southern Pipe Line Company, of Oil City. The deal involves approximately $1,500,000. The application for approval was heard here before the Public Service Commission. The pipe lines extend from the Pennsylvania-West Virginia line in Fayette County to Philadelphia.

V. F. W. TO PLAN POPPY DAY

Plans for the annual Poppy Day of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to be observed throughout the country Saturday, May 25, will be perfected at a meeting of workers in the Court House tonight. Thomas Fitzgerald, vice president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, is chairman of the committee, aided by P. D. Siebold, county commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; County Controller Robert G. Woodside, John E. Robinson, Thomas Coughtrie, Joseph M. Stack and Charles R. Haley, manager of the service bureau of the organization.

Women workers for the day are being organized by Mrs. Joseph A. Heyl, chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary County Council of the organization. Leaders in the auxiliary, and representatives from the 47 V. F. W. posts in the county will attend the meeting tonight.

EDSEL FORD STARTS TRIP TO VIEW PLANTS ABROAD

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Edsel Ford, accompanied by his wife and two sons, Henry and Benson, sailed on the liner Aquitania last night for a visit of three months to France, Germany and the British Isles.

They were accompanied to the pier by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford and boarded the ship from the lower level of the pier, going up through the third-class quarters to their suite on B deck. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford left after a short stay on the ship.

During his visit in Europe the younger Mr. Ford will inspect plants turning out Ford automobiles there. He said his company would not consider taking over any automobile factories in Europe and converting them, stating it preferred to build "from the ground up."

As a result of negotiations with a mission representing the Soviet government, he disclosed that he had submitted plans for the establishment of a factory in Russia, but said that nothing definite had been decided.

LANGLEY FIELD, Va., May 9.—(AP.)—The new army semi-rigid dirigible TC-6, assigned to Langley Field, arrived here yesterday, completing a 12-hour flight from Scott Field, Ill. The ship, in command of Lieut. Otto Wienecke, landed at Wright Field, Dayton, O., for refueling.

WOMEN TO GET DRIVING TESTS

Women registered in the second annual safe drivers' school, under the auspices of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council, will take written tests in the university room, tenth floor, Chamber of Commerce Building, Saturday. The examinations will be under the direction of Prof. L. W. McIntyre, department of engineering, University of Pittsburgh.

Five hundred women are enrolled in the school this year. All passing the tests with an average of 70 per cent or over will be eligible to enter the driving contest at Schenley Oval June 1.

The better traffic committee has offered a cash prize for the highest mark. The reward will be made at a banquet for members in the Roosevelt Hotel, May 6.

CURTISS CHAIN AIRPORT PLAN LINKS BETTIS

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Plans for operating a chain of airports in 10 strategically located cities were disclosed yesterday in connection with a public offering of 2,500,000 shares of capital stock in the newly-organized Curtiss Airports Corporation, the operating company.

The new company will have interests in three airports in the greater New York district.

Other airports to be affiliated with the chain are: Philadelphia district, Central Airport at Camden, N. J.; Baltimore, Baltimore Airport, near Druid Hill Park; Louisville, Willson Airport, to be built on the north side of the Ohio River across from Louisville; Pittsburgh, Bettis Airport, eight miles southeast of Pittsburgh; Cleveland, Herrick Airport, to be constructed in Gates Mills, suburban district; St. Louis, Steinberg Airport, now under construction; San Francisco, Alameda Airport, at foot of Market street; Los Angeles, Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, Cal.

It also was announced that a nation-wide radio weather service for airports would be undertaken in connection with the airport chain.

The new stock, representing half of the authorized shares, will be offered today by a syndicate headed by Blair & Co., Inc., at $12.50 a share.

C. M. Keys, head of the Curtiss-Keys aviation interests, will be chairman of the new concern.

In addition bases will be constructed for sea planes and amphibians as part of a plan to transfer passengers from points close to the center of the city to air terminals. Such transfer of passengers by amphibians also will be made from the Reynolds Airport in the Glenview district near Chicago to Lake Michigan within 10 minutes of the heart of Chicago, says the announcement.

HARVARD BOY'S DEATH BAFFLES

WINDSOR, Conn., May 9.—(INS.)—With a brief note, scribbled almost illegibly on a piece of tissue paper, and a .32 caliber exploded shell as their only clues, authorities today met with but little success in their attempt to solve the mysterious slaying of Walter Treadway Huntington, 21-year-old Harvard College student.

Huntington's body, with hands folded peacefully over his breast, was found lying in a roadside plot here yesterday. A bullet had entered the left ear and the empty shell lay about a foot from the body. The note, contents of which authorities refuse to divulge, was found on the other side of the road.

The youth was here to visit his mother, Mrs. Mary C. Huntington, widow of the wealthy late Henry A. Huntington, prominent attorney of this town.

He left the house Tuesday night, telling his mother he was going to a drug store a short distance away. Clerks at the store say he never reached there.

A theory of suicide at first advanced was dissipated by Coroner Costello and Medical Examiner Pratt, who declared the youth's death to be a clear case of homicide.

Becks Run Overflow Claims Made on City

Residents of Becks Run claiming damages from the city as a result of injury to property arising from the overflowing of the creek have been asked by Council to submit their charges in writing for transmission to the Department of Law. The residents were represented at a hearing before Council yesterday by Attorney E. J. McKenna and Mrs. Emma Page.

Man Asks $50,000 For Loss of Wife

Alleging alienation of the affections of his wife, William Muff, of 217 Meredith street, has filed suit against George C. Hasis in Common Pleas Court, asking damages of $50,000.

Muff charges that Hasis caused his wife, Mrs. Rose Muff, to leave him without cause on December 23 last. Since that time his wife and Hasis have been together frequently, according to the charges.

IF PRIVATE THOUGHTS WERE SPOKEN . . .

Best-liked man in the club

. . . yet once we barred Joe because of "B.O." (Body Odor)

MAYBE we seemed a bit rough last year—turning down a fine fellow like Joe P——on account of too much "B.O."

But actually, we did him a favor. For Joe grew suspicious—and somehow learned the real facts.

Today Joe rates big everywhere—in the club and out. He knows the easy way to end body odor now.

Sly! That's "B. O." Tricks us into thinking we're safe—then shows us up to others—"Guilty."

Why be fooled? Our sense of smell becomes deadened to a familiar odor. But all perspiration is unpleasant—and unavoidable. Even on cool days, pores may give off a quart of odor-causing waste.

Play safe—bathe with Lifebuoy. Mild, antiseptic, its deodorizing lather prevents "B.O."—even removes cigarette odors from the hands.

Keeps skins fresh and clear, too. Guards health—by removing germs. Lifebuoy's pleasant extra-clean scent, which vanishes as you rinse, tells you it purifies. Adopt Lifebuoy today. LEVER BROTHERS CO., Cambridge, Mass.

have been unable to halt the rapidly increasing tendency of the public to adopt Lucky Strike as its favorite cigarette. Lucky Strike is a blend of choice tobaccos whose toasted flavor thrills the taste, whose toasting process eliminates impurities, and, as 20,679 physicians testify, makes Luckies less irritating. Toasting elevates Lucky Strike to a plane of quality which no other cigarette can approach. The constant care of experts assures the quality of Luckies. Its choice by millions proves its superiority and is the truthful answer to selfish claims.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE WED TO CHICAGO STORE OWNER

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 9.—(AP.)—Constance Talmadge, moving picture actress, was married to Townsend Netcher, wealthy Chicago merchant, at the home of Mrs. Buster Keaton, her sister, late yesterday.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Lash, of Hollywood Congregational Church, before a small group of friends of the couple. Norma Talmadge and Natalie Talmadge Keaton stood with the bride, while Buster Keaton, film comedian, gave her away. Walter Lohman was best man.

The actress previously had been married to John Pialoglou and Capt. Alastair McIntosh, both of whom she divorced. Netcher recently was divorced by Gertrude Selby, an actress, his first wife.

The couple planned to go to the Santa Monica, Cal., home Netcher had built. Honeymoon plans were indefinite.

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP.)—Townsend Netcher, who yesterday became the husband of Constance Talmadge of the films, is vice president of the Boston Store, large department store here, and is prominent socially. Gertrude Selby, former screen comedienne, divorced him December 20, 1928, charging cruelty.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Bisurated Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion.

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous, because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk), is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Mother Sues Pennsy For Crash Damages

Mary E. Wadsworth filed two suits against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in Common Pleas Court, asking $10,000 damages in each for personal injuries to her two daughters, Dora Mae, 7, and Mary Martha, 15, in a grade crossing collision at Grapeville, Westmoreland County, May 6, 1928, when an automobile in which the girls were riding was struck by a train. Negligence in operating a train at high speed to make up time lost because of another accident was alleged in the suits.

More than a delicious food

Velveeta represents a new idea in cheese making

We extract from the pure whole milk more Vitamins, Lactose (milk sugar), Calcium and other milk minerals in greater quantities than ever was possible by old methods, and these we add in making Velveeta. The result is purely a milk product that looks like cheese, tastes like cheese but which because of its enhanced food value should be called a super-cheese.

Use Velveeta wherever you would use any cheese. It spreads like butter or will slice when chilled. It melts, dissolves and blends so readily with other foods that for cooking purposes there is no comparison. It is as digestible as milk itself. Try a package of Velveeta—it will become a staple on your table. Your dealer has it.

Distillery Guard Killed by Train

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 9.—C. E. Crowe, 60, of Meyersdale, employed as a watchman and government gauger at the Overholt distillery at Broadford, was killed last night when he stepped in front of a freight train on the Mount Pleasant branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

"Joy of Living"

Here's the breakfast for that boy of yours!

Little fellow, is he? With eyes bigger than his tummy? Or is he a big chap—with a morning paper to read and a seven o'clock "grouch".

It makes no difference—give him Heinz Rice Flakes for his next breakfast.

If he's the little fellow, these crispy, crunchy, fairy-like flakes of nut-meat goodness will vanish like magic from his breakfast bowl. If he's the big chap—his "grouch" will vanish too and his paper remain unread.

And you'll get some of the gladness, too. For you'll know you're giving your boy something that's good for him. Because Heinz Rice Flakes are made by a special, patented Heinz process which transforms the natural roughage of the rice into a pure cellulose that acts as a gentle, natural laxative!

Isn't all this good to know?

Obituary

Isaac F. Bailey.

Isaac F. Bailey, 68, circulation manager of the old Gazette Times and renting agent of the Oliver Building, died Wednesday at his home, Ruskin Apartments, East End. Mr. Bailey was born in Brownsville, Pa., and came to Pittsburgh in 1876, where he attended for a time the old Western University, now the University of Pittsburgh. Upon leaving school, he was employed as a bookkeeper and later as a tobacco salesman. Mr. Bailey entered the circulation department of the Press and remained there until George T. Oliver purchased the Commercial Gazette and offered him the position of circulation manager. Later the Gazette and Times were merged. He held that position until 1909, when he began his duties of renting agent for the Oliver Building, where he remained until his death. Mr. Bailey was a member of the Pittsburgh Automobile Club and the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret Bailey and a son, Harry F. Bailey, of Pittsburgh.

James J. Kelly.

James J. Kelly died at his home, 2624 Linwood avenue, Tuesday night. He was born in Plymouth, Pa., and came to Pittsburgh in 1900. For many years he was employed by the Bell Telephone Company. He was an active member of the Church of Annunciation, Allegheny Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Holy Name Society. He leaves his widow, and three brothers and two sisters, of Plymouth.

COUNCIL URGED TO NAME PARK FOR ENRIGHT

A resolution petitioning City Council to name the new playground at Chislett and Hampton streets in honor of Thomas F. Enright, first Pittsburgher and one of the three first Americans killed in the World War, will be presented by a delegation of Morningside residents to President of City Council James F. Malone today. The delegation is headed by J. George Hagen, president of the Morningside Community Association.

The resolution was adopted by a 19 to 1 vote at a meeting of the Morningside civic body in St. Raphael's school auditorium last night.

Speakers favoring the resolution were Prof. J. P. Crowe, Mrs. J. H. Weidenhofer, Thomas H. Watson, vice commander East Liberty Post, American Legion, and John Broderick, who was Enright's "buddy" in France. City officials are said to be planning to name the playground in honor of Heber McDowell, former coroner.

Lost Radium Found Under Table in Cafe

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—A small bag containing $25,000 worth of radium, which Dr. Joseph J. Eller lost, was turned over to the police yesterday. Dr. Eller reported he had left the bag in a taxicab and issued the warning that the finder might be severely burned if one of the two tins containing the radium were opened.

Jerry Acampo, restaurant proprietor, called police and said he had discovered the bag under one of his tables. He placed it in his safe and upon reading of the lost radium notified police.

Rain No Terror To Athletes of White House

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(INS.)—No "bull in the ring" game at the White House is ever postponed on account of wet grounds.

At 7 o'clock this morning, in a cold, drizzling rain, President Hoover and his medicine ball tossers went hard at it on the court set up in the rear grounds. They were bundled up in sweaters.

TAXI RATE RAISE PROTEST FILED

business, except the last one, put into effect last summer. Since the last cut did not add to the number of passengers carried, the "saturation point" has supposedly been reached, and it is futile to expect to increase revenue by getting more people to ride in taxis.

DRIVERS' FEES.

The drivers are not paid regular wages, but are allowed a commission on their receipts, amounting to one-third of the first $9 taken in during the day, with varying rates on daily receipts in excess of $9. If reduction of the rates did not increase the number of passengers carried, the effect would be to reduce the drivers' earnings.

Their average earnings at present are $3.16 a day, according to Laird, and it is difficult to get or hold good men. The company has 641 drivers today; at this time last year it had 745. It has lost 15 drivers since the first of the month—and all on account of the poor earnings, President Laird said.

"How about their tips?" he was asked.

"Tips have fallen off. They average no more than 50 or 75 cents a day. In much of the commercial business no tips are received."

"If your earnings should be good, why could you not pay the drivers regular wages?"

"It is not done by any taxicab company. There would be so many drones among the drivers, if their earnings did not depend on their hunting for business, that we could not exist. The drivers are salesmen."

Auto Crash Suit For $10,000 Fails

BUTLER, Pa., May 9.—(AP.)—Verdict for the defendant was returned in Butler county civil court here yesterday in the $10,000 damage suit brought against W. W. Helman, of Greensburg. The suit was a result of an automobile crash on the Pittsburgh-Butler road four years ago. Plaintiffs were Mrs. Genevieve Epperson, of New Jersey, and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Beltz, of Pittsburgh.

DECISION SOON IN TEMPERANCE CONTEST

By WILL WEST.

Resounding echoes from all parts of the nation and the world of the Hearst $25,000 Temperance Prize contest continued to be received yesterday at the New York headquarters of the board of judges, although the great competition came to a close at midnight, April 30.

Telegrams and long distance telephone messages are received from various regions of the country, together with hundreds of letters daily, asking when the decision of the board of judges may be expected. The answer to this query is that final judgment on the capital award of $25,000, sponsored by William Randolph Hearst, together with lesser awards of $5,000 and $1,000 in the discretion of the jury, may be expected before June.

The judges themselves will not know whose plan they chose for the big award until they read it in the Hearst newspapers, since there will be no distinguishing marks or identifications on the plans.

BOOTLEGGING NOT ISSUE

An outstanding feature of the contest has been the fact that a majority of the contestants realize that the primary problem is not bootlegging activities, as so often asserted by ultra-prohibitionists, nor one of merely doing away with drunkenness.

Physicians, chemists, biologists and bio-chemists have gone further and endeavored to put a finger on the reason for excessive indulgence in liquors; many consider poverty not merely the result of over indulgence, but its primary cause; others believe reasons to be pathological and psychological.

Thousands have written in orderly fashion the history of the human race and of its uses and misuses of intoxicants, so that the Hearst contest has produced many valuable treatises by those more far-sighted than to regard the issue as one of graft in the prohibition enforcement division or of crime resulting from the illicit liquor industry.

Most of these intellectuals see liquor as only one of the avenues in temperance. All but a few of their plans are couched in temperate language and suggestions that capital punishment be inflicted upon offenders have been conspicuous by their absence. Perhaps 20 per cent of the contestants feel that a drunkard should be treated from the pathological and not moral side.

CONTEST PRAISED

Communications of comment are anoymous and express hearty commendation of the contest and a hope that its results may be proved beneficial to the nation. Many letters have expressed altruism more than any desire to win the major prize.

The number of former confirmed drys who realize that prohibition is a failure increases constantly in the plans now being read. A large percentage of all those who mention personal habits and convictions are converts to temperance through moderation of the law.

Manuscripts come from both men and women in the most remote corners of the globe, from every walk of life and of nearly every race and nationality. The yellow and brown races as well as educated blacks of the West Indies have taken part in the contest.

The expert editorial staff making preliminary examinations of the plans has few dull moments. At the top of one pile of manuscripts, for example, is found a plan submitted by the junior civics class of the Nogales high school, Nogales, Arizona. Beneath it is the contribution of Mrs. Mary W. Burg, aged 86, Brookland, D. C. This is followed by the plan of Mrs. Alice S. Cook, Cedar Valley, Utah. Mrs. Cook in her letter of transmittal writes:

"I am the mother of six growing sons and four little daughters. I have always been what you would term a dry, for I voted for prohibition and have supported it up to the present time. But I have come to realize the hopelessness of the prohibition movement. We must adopt new methods."

YOUTH'S EXPRESSION

What the younger generation thinks of the present situation is illustrated by the plan of John Coakley of Shenandoah, Pa. Who mentions that he is a 16-year-old anthracite miner. Youny Coakley in a foreword describes conditions in the town in which he lives:

"Our population is about 21,000. Since prohibition it seems that everyone drinks here. You can walk in the front door of any saloon in the town weekdays and Sundays and get all the liquor you want or you can buy it in dozens of private homes.

"I know plenty of men that make home-brew but when they can get the good beer from the brewery they leave the home-brew alone. This proves that if they were able to get the good beer all of the time, they would not make home-brew."

Among the names which have been added to the list of contestants are the following:

Weather Conditions.

The high pressure area that covered the Northwest yesterday morning developed eastward. The crest now covers the upper Mississippi Valley states and the lake region, and high barometer extends from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast and from north of the Great Lakes to the Gulf states. Heavy to killing frost occurred in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Michigan, with minimum temperatures ranging between 30 and 40 degrees at the Weather Bureau stations.

The Southwest low advanced eastward over the Gulf states, producing cloudy weather and showers over all the Gulf states, and over Oklahoma, Arkansas and Tennessee and northward along the coast to New York. The disturbance is central.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 6.5 feet; Lock No. 7, 15.8; Pittsburgh, 17.1; Dam No. 2, 9.5; Dam No. 6, 17.4; Dam No. 9, 18.1, and Dam No. 12, 18.0. The rivers will continue to fall.

HELEN LOSES 'POKER FACE' IN PRESENTATION BUSTLE

International News Service.

LONDON, May 9.—Losing for the first time some of the calm which earned her the title of "Little Poker Face" on the tennis court, Helen Wills left the American Women's Club here in a flurry of excitement shortly before 6 o'clock today for her presentation to Queen Mary at the first royal court of the season.

From now until 9 o'clock this evening (4. p. m. Pittsburgh Time) the presenters will be subjected to the most strenuous ordeal of the entire event—the long tiring wait in their cars in the Mall before the gates of the palace is thrown open.

rom time immemorial, debutantes awaiting presentation at court, have been forced to take up a vigil in a single line along the beautiful thoroughfare leading to Buckingham palace, awaiting the moment to enter, while a goodly portion of London's population takes advantage of the opportunity to get a first hand glimpse of the presentees.

A haidresser was called into Miss Wills' apartment at the club at the last moment to administer the finishing touches to her coiffure, her dark, sleek hair was parted in the center, setting off to best possible advantage the headdress consisting of three small white ostrich plumes which is a requisite part of the court outfit.

Miss Wills chose her feather fan in lieu of a bouquet, the presentees always having their choice of one or the other, the main thing apparently being that they must have something in their arms when they bow before her majesty.

'Tay Pay,' Near 81, Again Out for Parliament

LONDON, May 9.—(AP.)—The first of the retiring members of the House of Commons to shake hands with the speaker when Parliament dissolves tomorrow, will be "Tay Pay" O'Connor, "father of the house and now in his 81st year.

"Tay Pay" is no longer able to walk and he will be wheeled into the house by Jack Hayes, former policeman and now Labor whip, who represents a constituency adjoining "Tay Pay's" own district in Liverpool.

"Tay Pay" is out for re-election and intends to address his constituents at least once during the general elections contest, even from an invalid's chair. He is being opposed by a Communist, whose chances, like those of any candidate of whatever party who has opposed "Tay Pay," are just about hopeless.

PARENTS PLAN ELECTION

The Allderdice Parent-Teacher Association will meet Tuesday in the Choral room of the Taylor Allderdice High School, Squirrel Hill, when Howard C. Kidd, of the commerce department of the University of Pittsburgh, will speak on "A Year of European Education."

Mr. Kidd attended the Oxford University and lived in a dormitory so that he might obtain a true impression of student life. Mrs. Delphine Heimert will sing. She will be accompanied by Miss Harriet Werle.

The report of the nominating committee will be presented and officers for the year elected at the business session. Madeline Kann, chosen the outstanding pupil of the school, will be awarded the Parent-Teacher prize. O. C. Hurst, president of the association, will be in charge of the meeting.

Blames City for Fall, Asks $5,000

The City of Pittsburgh was charged with special negligence because officers and patrolmen of No. 6 Police Station nearby should have prevented an icy sidewalk condition responsible for a fall and injury to Marion R. Evans in front of 6403 Frankstown avenue January 29 last, she alleged in a suit filed against the city in Common Pleas Court, asking $5,000 damages.

TAXICAB BANDIT SENT TO 'PEN'

Alexander Boyd, 33, Negro of Wylie avenue, was sentenced to four to 20 years in the penitentiary in Criminal Court yesterday after he had been convicted of robbery and felonious assault growing out of the shooting of Valentine Paul, 28, of 35 Lafferty avenue, January 25.

Paul, a taxicab driver, identified Boyd as the man who engaged his cab early on the morning of the shooting, and after robbing him at Preble and Seymour avenues, stepped back and fired a bullet into his body. The latter testified that he was in a Wylie avenue club at the time of the shooting.

The bullet entered Paul's body about an inch below the heart and is still there. Physicians fear an attempt to remove it might prove fatal.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION BACKS PORTER DOPE BILL

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The American Medical Association has just pledged its full support to the program of Representative Porter (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, to reform narcotics legislation and strengthen enforcement.

During a conference with Porter, Dr. William C. Woodward, of Chicago, head of the bureau of legal medicine and legislation of the association, yesterday declared the physicians of the country would gladly co-operate in fighting the dope evil.

The Porter bill will attempt to plug existing loopholes in the law and keep the consumption of dangerous drugs within legitimate channels. It is expected to be ready for the House next week.

CHANGE SUGGESTED

To assist scientific experimentation and possibly find non-habit-forming substitutes for present narcotic drugs, Dr. Woodward suggested an amendment to the export and import act which prohibits the entry of manufactured or prepared drugs.

"The properties of some of the rarer salts, derivatives and preparations of opium and coca leaves, I am informed, are unknown," said Dr. Woodward. "They may be of therapeutic use or they may not. If of therapeutic use, they may be more valuable than some corresponding substances now in use and may even be possessed of a lesser tendency to cause narcotic addiction.

"All of these matters can be determined only by research and the exclusion of such salts, derivatives and preparations by the narcotic drugs export and import act makes research in the United States impossible.

SUBSTITUTES SOUGHT

"The Federal Narcotic Control Board might be authorized, for instance, to permit the importation of the desired drugs for purpose of research by laboratories. The board would presumably be authorized to limit the amount of any salt, derivative or preparation imported, determine the time, place and manner of importation, and require such guarantees as it deems proper to insure the use of the imported substances for the purpose, for which it was imported."

POWER PAPERS MUST REPORT OWNERSHIP

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Newspapers partly owned by electric power interests will be required to make a full official report to the government of their "ultimate ownership," Third Assistant Postmaster General Robert S. Regar has just announced.

Regar's statement was made as the Postoffice Department's classification division, under his charge, assembled a group of ownership statements to pe transmitted to the Senate in response to the Walsh resolution adopted Monday.

The statements are those of newspapers in which, according to testimony before the Federal Trade Commission, the International Paper and Power Company has a financial interest.

MUST SHOW OWNERS

Regar made it plain that, to the extent the International company owns securities in the newspapers and this fact was not shown in the statements of ownership the newspapers filed early in April, additional reports will be required.

"The ultimate ownership must be shown," Regar said. "The law requires that. If we haven't got that, we will get it."

Regar added that the listing of securities as owned by a subsidiary corporation, or by individuals who merely acted for a corporation, would not constitute the "ultimate ownership" that must be disclosed.

BOSTON PAPERS FILE

Most of the papers reported in this way, the statements on file show, The Boston Herald and Boston Traveler were exceptions. They reported part of their stock owned by the "Publishers' Investment Corporation of Delaware," but traced the "beneficial interest" to the International Company.

It became known yesterday that the Herald and Traveler statements were not sworn to until April 10, the day the power-newspaper deal was exposed in Boston.

Regar said the Walsh resolution had not yet reached the department. When it is received the material called for will all be brought together for the Senate and at the same time it will be determined to what extent the statements are "incorrect."

No demand has been made upon the papers for additional information up to this time, Regar added, and the ownership statements have not yet come to his desk.

READY TOMORROW

Other officials said the Senate material probably would not be ready before tomorrow. Postmaster General Walter F. Brown will return to the city about that time and the material will be submitted first to him, it was stated.

A paragraph in the form for reporting newspaper ownership stipulates that the list of security holders shall represent the affiant's "full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner."

The official filing the statement also makes oath that he "has no reason to believe that any other person, association or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him."

A $500 fine is provided for "any false evidence," the perjury statute, carrying a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment, also is printed on the form.

Accountants Elect Officers at Meeting

W. F. Marsh was elected president of the National Association of Cost Accountants in the Fort Pitt Hotel last night. Others elected were: Vice presidents, W. R. Fisher and G. A. Rotrauff, and secretary-treasurer, A. H. Blass. Directors named were W. H. Cheffy, W. J. Jacquette, A. W. Remensnyder, C. L. Van Sickle, M. C. Walsh and E. B. Yellig.

Joseph A. Richardson, assistant United States district attorney, in an address, reviewed duties of his office in prosecuting prohibition cases.

How's This? Corns Lift Out With Fingers; No Pain!

Thanks to a new discovery made from a Japanese product your foot troubles can be quickly ended.

Ice-Mint, as this new preparation is called, is said to shrivel up hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes so that they can be lifted out easily with the fingers. It's wonderful. Think of it: only a touch or two of Ice-Mint and real foot-joy is yours.

There is not one bit of pain or soreness when applying it or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

If your feet are inclined to swell or puff, or if you have cracked or bleeding toes, it will draw the inflammation right out and quickly heal the sore and tender places. It is the real Japanese secret of fine, healthy little feet and is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who have to stand on their feet all day. Try it. Just ask in any Drug store for Ice-Mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing better.

JURY TO PROBE AUTO SLAYING

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 9.—(AP.)—A special session of the Kanawha County grand jury was ordered today for May 13 to investigate the slaying of Frank Bowen, Lens Creek service station proprietor, whose body, with a bullet wound through the head, was found in an automobile yesterday when a party of New Jersey tourists was arrested for speeding.

Charges of murder were filed by Sheriff D. H. Stephenson against Millard F. Morrison and Walter E. Willmot, both of Elizabeth, N. J. Willmot's bride is held as a material witness.

Authorities charge Bowen was slain at the wheel of his automobile as he was taking the two New Jersey men to his filling station after their own automobile had become disabled.

The New Jersey trio and Bowen's body were in Bowen's car when it was stopped for speeding.

Officers said Bowen and Willmot gave conflicting versions of the affair.

Postmaster, Mail Carrier Indicted

A postmaster and a mail carrier were indicted on embezzlement charges by the federal grand jury today. Postmaster Samuel P. BLOOD CELL PROTEIN SERUM

The study of mankind has been the chief one for ages. Great thinkers have given their ideas and made deductions centuries ago and their teaching was accepted by the masses before the dawn of modern science.

"Progress" is the watch-word of the world and today we recognize the great truth that every living thing is actuated by a directing force that cannot be discerned, yet it is observable in all its work. This life-sustaining intelligence guides every form of life. It controls the wonderful development of animal life as well as all parts of which the human body is composed.

The great intellects of the past knew little of the wonders of the human body yet perceived that any living thing made up of many parts had vital intelligence to govern those parts and functions and keep them working for a common plan and purpose. Today our laboratories unfold the wonders hidden in the earlier ages. We have seen the theory that man is a physical and chemical machine blasted by a thousand discoveries.

In order to understand life, we have to study the cell. When we consider that the cell is an aggregation of still smaller units of life we call enzymes and ferments, who are equipped with mechanisms of all kinds for splitting molecules of matter and handling atoms, and that it contains the most elaborate chemical laboratory conceivable. We know that this cell intelligence constantly rebuilds and heals the body, which is the state of health with a wisdom beyond our comprehension.

Gossip About Makers of Plays and Those Who Bring Amusement to Us

ANECDOTES OF FAMOUS FIRM, GILBERT & SULLIVAN, BASED ON QUARREL

By GEORGE SEIBEL

HOW many people realize that the popular hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," was composed by the same man that composed "The Mikado" and "Pinafore"? Sir Arthur Sullivan, who worked with W. S. Gilbert in the production of the famous Savoy operas, just narrowly escaped being another Verdi or Wagner. But his one grand opera, "Ivanhoe," was the crowning disappointment of Sullivan's artistic career.

George Seibel.

Isaac Goldberg, who wrote "The Story of Gilbert and Sullivan" (published by Simon & Schuster), tells an interesting anecdote of that sorry episode. Sullivan was seated in a box beside Reginald de Koven, then the rising young composer of "Robin Hood," at one of the performances of "Ivanhoe."

"I like it," said de Koven.

"That's more than I do," was Sullivan's retort. "A cobbler should stick to his last."

It was the Queen's fault. Victoria had persuaded him to try grand opera. But it was also Gilbert's fault. Gilbert had quarreled with Sullivan just before. He was always quarreling. And how pointedly he could tell bitter truths, as in the chorus of one parody, which runs, to the tune of "Rule Britannia":

"Poor Britannia,
Although she rules the waves,
Britons ever, ever, ever
Shall be slaves."

Put His Bile Into Words

Gilbert had about as poor an opinion of the stage as any of the old Roundheads. Speaking of one of Sarah Bernhardt's plays, he once said:

"If it's a poor play, it's sure to succeed. No good play is a success; fine writing and high morals are hopeless on the stage."

He insisted that he wasn't any too severe. "I have been scribbling twaddle for 35 years to suit the public taste, and ought to know."

He had a petulant temper, he had the gout, and the management of the theater had spent £140 for a carpet, which he thought extravagant. That was the cause—or these were the causes—of Gilbert's quarrel with Sullivan.

But if he hadn't been quarrelsome, he wouldn't have been Gilbert. He quarreled with all the evils of his day and generation. Goldberg says, very aptly, that "Gilbert is a creaky bridge between the sentimentality of Dickens and the sociology of Shaw."

Bret Harte As A Librettist

To Americans it is of curious interest to hear that Bret Harte almost became librettist for Sir Arthur. Harte wrote in one of his letters:

"Arthur Sullivan has proposed to me to write the theme and libretto of an opera on some California subject, and I have just sent him a sketch of one."

This may have been "The Luck of Roaring Camp," which Boucicault had suggested was good dramatic material.

It is well that despite all quarrels and strained relations Gilbert and Sullivan kept together most of their artistic lives. One without the other would have been unthinkable. When they separated they failed. If it had not been for Gilbert's libretti, we might remember Sullivan only for the one great service he rendered the musical world. He and Sir George Grove were the discoverers of the most precious Schubert relics.

The music of "Rosamunde" and about 40 Schubert songs were the result of their explorations in Vienna.

Gilbert's last play, "The Hooligan," written in 1911, was gruesome realism — against capital punishment. Sullivan's last days were spent in pathetic devotion to his gambling mania at the tables of Monte Carlo. Life certainly is as full of paradoxes as a Gilbertian libretto!

PLAYERS COMING -:- TO STAGE AND SCREEN -:- NEXT WEEK

HUGH BANKS, one of George Sharp's players, will be seen in the Pitt next week in "The Great Necker."

NORMA SHEARER makes her talking debut in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," which opens on the Penn screen Monday.

RICHARD DIX is coming to the Stanley in "Nothing but the Truth."

ATTRACTIONS NOW AND COMING

Remaining performances of "A Night in Venice" in the Alvin, will be four, three evening and a Saturday matinee. The engagement will end next Saturday night.

During the action of "The Great Necker," farce-comedy announced for presentation by the George Sharp Players in the Pitt next week, a picture which plays a prominent part in the story, is thrown on the screen.

Richard Dix, who gave up the legitimate stage for a motion picture contract, will be heard in a talking picture, "Nothing But the Truth," which comes to the Stanley Monday.

Norma Shearer, in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," is to be next week's screen attraction in the Penn. "Pearls of Bagdad," is the title of the stage presentation.

LAST WEEK FOR TWO

"The Broadway Melody" ends its six-weeks' run in the Aldine Saturday night and will be followed on the screen of that theater by "Hearts in Dixie," with a cast of Negroes headed by Stepin Fetchit.

"Show Boat," Universal's Movietone production based on Edna Ferber's novel, will begin its third and final week in the Grand Saturday.

Frank and Milt Brotten will bring their Brown Derby Orchestra to the Harris the first half of next week. The screen talking feature will be Glenn Tryon and Sue Carol in "It Can Be Done."

The Grand Canal of Venice, was reproduced for the filming of "Love and the Devil," starring Milton Sills with Maria Corda, which comes to the Enright Saturday.

MIX'S DAUGHTER BILLED

Ruth Mix, daughter of Tom Mix, will appear in person in the Sheridan Square the first half of next week. The screen will have "It Can Be Done" with Glenn Tryon and Sue Carol, the first half, and "The Shakedown" the last half.

"Weary River," a talking picture starring Richard Barthelmess comes to the Liberty Saturday. The central character is heard as a radio singer.

Wallace Beery's voice is heard from the screen in "Chinatown Nights," a talking picture which comes to the Regent Saturday.

Patriotic Benefit Tuesday Night In Pitt

Next Tuesday evening's performance of "The Great Necker" in the Pitt is to be a benefit for the Tree-Planting Committee of Pittsburgh Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Among the purposes of the committee is a memorial, in the form of trees and shrubbery, to women who lost their lives in the line of duty in the World War. It will be at the New Negley avenue entrance to Highland Park.

BRITONS CHEER HUGHES EN ROUTE TO WORLD BENCH

LONDON, May 9.—(AP.)—Charles Evans Hughes, en route to assume his new duties on the bench of the World Court for International Justice, at The Hague, was given a great ovation at a dinner in his honor last night, by the British Pilgrims.

The applause came especially when he referred in his address to Anglo-American friendship and said:

"It is no disparagement of any institution or of other international relations to say that Anglo-American amity is the cornerstone of international peace of any world peace program."

Mr. Hughes spoke in response to the toast to his health which was proposed by Lord Hewart, chief justice of England, and in which reference was made in warm terms to the "great and wonderful works" of the distinguished American.

HOPES U. S. WILL JOIN

Lord Desbrough presided and the guests included an array of British legal lights.

Mr. Hughes dealt largely with the World Court to which he has been chosen. He hoped that the existing lack of American adherence to that court would be only temporary. He said that judges of the World Court, as well as arbitrators in general, should not regard themselves as nationals or as partisans of the countries selecting them, but as judges sworn to the high duty of applying law without being swayed by sentiment or by the policies of their own nations. He saw peril in misrepresentations by newspapers, moving pictures and cartoons saying:

"If these perils to international understanding cannot be avoided in our own territories, where we torment each other with false rumor and destroyed criticism, how can we escape them in international intercourse?"

AMITY SAFEGUARD

He found his answer by referring to the common sense of Anglo-Americans. He maintained that whatever difficulties might arise between Great Britain and America would be prevented by that common sense from developing into any serious calamity.

"What we need," he said, "is a state of mind to match the words of our anti-war treaties. We need to cultivate the psychology of peace.

"I consider it the highest privilege of my life to have a share in the work of one of the institutions essential to peace. I am deeply grateful for your 'godspeed' as I enter upon this duty."

FALL KILLS SON, HURTS MOTHER

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—Falling two stories down an elevator shaft yesterday the infant son of Adre Fiot, coding officer of the French embassy, was killed, and Mme. Fiot, the child's mother, was injured seriously.

Mme. Fiot was in a hospital last night unaware of her son's death. She suffered a broken arm, a possible fracture of the right leg and other injuries.

Mme. Fiot had just returned to her apartment house and had taken an automatic elevator to her floor. The theory held by elevator inspectors was that carrying the baby she had stepped onto the narrow ledge between the cab door and the shaft door, that the inner door had closed behind her and simultaneously someone had pushed the elevator button on an upper floor, lifting the cab and leaving Mme. Fiot suspended on the ledge, from which she fell.

OFFICER FOUND NOT GUILTY IN SLAYING

John J. Scanlon, city policeman, on trial several days for the death, February 7, 1928, of Peter Wouchowsky, 35, of 142 South Twenty-fifth street, was acquitted of a charge of murder in criminal court late yesterday.

The shooting occured in Mary street, not far from the victim's home.

Scanlon, who had been called to the home by Mrs. Wouchowsky, who said her husband was abusing her, testified at the trial that Wouchowsky ran from the house when he entered, and that during the chase he tripped, the revolver he had drawn to scare the fleeing man being accidentally discharged.

Wouchowsky, dropped by the bullet, died a short time later in the South Side Hospital.

RAILWAY WORKERS TO CONSIDER PROTEST

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

BY HAVEY J. BOYLE

JOHN M'QUAID, who drives the morgue ambulance, and who is reported working on two lugubrious volumes to be known as "Twelve Years on a Morgue Ambulance," and "Through the Windows of the Morgue," may manage to work a little humor into his grim writings, judging from the crack he made the other day. Said Mr. McQuaid: "I found great trouble in giving up cigarets until the new-fangled lighters came into vogue."

In what is sometimes termed the gas-light age, back in the long ago of 1905, Capt. Frank Peabody, of the New York detective force, charged with guarding an Albany inaugural from pickpockets and other thieves, called upon some of the best detectives to help him. From Pittsburgh he requested Detective Eddie McGough. In asking for detectives from various cities, the idea is that a Pittsburgh detective, for instance, is likely to know every Pittsburgh thief. The other day Detective Peabody was in Pittsburgh and he and McGough held a reunion attended by Sam Pickering and Spy 469. Well, the two bulls punched the bag for an hour or so, gleefully reports my spy, and they both recalled the picture taken after one day's work at that inaugural, showing 55 of the most notorious thieves in the country, all rounded up, labeled, and tucked away in quiet cells.

M'GOUGH recalled Peabody's favorite story of the afternoon. On a train when a stranger suggested a game of bridge, Peabody sniffed, used his mental microscope, and at once concluded his newfound friend was a card shark. It wasn't long, once Peabody consented to play a couple of rubbers, that two other gentlemen joined them—and there was the foursome—three accomplices against an innocent detective. As Peabody anticipated, he was allowed to win at first, as the usual come-on, but before the game went further than that Peabody stripped off his mythical whiskers, flashed his badge, and the three bad boys were nonplussed. The score showed Peabody was ahead $7.60 (apparently it was a game where they split the half dollar) and quickly the crooks settled with the detective.

While I personally believe the story would be better if Spy 469 related that after the thieves departed the detective found himself loaded with $7 of counterfeit money, Spy 469 insists on sticking to the truth by saying that in their haste to settle and get away the card sharks gave Peabody a $50 bill instead of a $5 bill.

And so the stories ran, while McGough and his brother officer from the big town recounted the many days and events since that time back in the gas-light age of 1905.

And while on the subject of detectives I might mention a letter from County Detective A. A. Downing, of Fayette County, who disagrees with an article which said that European police are better than officers of the law in this country. Mr. Downing says American methods are as good as those of the Europeans and cites that in Pennsylvania, for instance, chemists, pathologists, finger print experts, firearms and handwriting experts, celebrated in Europe, are used extensively.

"We know," says Detective Downing, "that the blood of the human race is divided into four types. Blood spots on a murdered man's clothing were analyzed and found to be Type Four. The blood of the murdered man was found to be Type Two. A suspect taken in was subjected to analysis and his blood was Type Four, the same as found on the murdered man's clothing. A good clue which led to eventual solution of the crime.

"The American detective needs no apologist. He must deal with every national of the world, people whose language and customs are foreign to him. When we hear of the work done by English, French, Italian and German detectives we must remember they are mainly dealing with their own nationals."

Mr. Loughran, 621 Margaret street, Mt. Oliver, veteran of the World War, died in Homeopathic hospital.

The will of David R. Edwards, of Munhall, leaving an estate of $62,500, was probated in Orphans Court today. His widow, Rachel Edwards, was named as the beneficiary of the life estate.

Rachel G. Jones, a niece, and David R. Phillips, a nephew, will receive $25,000 each. Both live in South Wales, England. Anna V. Perkins and David and Rachel Kuhn, of Homestead, are left $2,000 each.

The residue of the estate of 24 equal shares was left to the Homestead Hospital, two shares; Salvation Army, Homestead, seven shares; Women's Welsh Club of America for their home in Cleveland, seven shares; Baptist Orphanage and Home Society of Western Pennsylvania, two shares; American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, two shares; Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh, two shares. The Monongahela Trust Company of Homestead was named executor.

T. will of Justin Fest, 1507 St. Patrick street, South Side, left $21,000 to his widow, Mrs. Marie Fest, who was named executor.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS GET TEST

Downtown traffice was slightly delayed shortly before midnight last night when a test was made of the new automatic traffic signals. Traffic Engineer Burton W. Marsh and Traffic Inspector Benjamin R. Marshall, who supervised the test, said they were satisfied with the new system.

The lights were turned on in two areas, those bounded by Water and Grant streets, and Fourth avenue and Ferry street. Other sections will be tested during the week, the officials said.

Some difficulties are expected to arise from the change from manual to mechanical direction of movements, Mr. Marsh said after the test. He expressed the opinion that is would require several weeks to educate motorists to the new system.

Workman Injured In Fall Off Roof

William Busbee, 49, Negro, of 3036 Mulberry way, was seriously injured when he fell from the roof of the home of Thomas Dickson, of 7232 East Lemington avenue, yesterday. Busbee was repairing the roof when he lost his balance. He was taken to the Pittsburgh Hospital.

Wells Way Repairs Ordered by Council

Council has ordered the presentation of ordinances authorizing the improvement of Wells way between Augusta and Edith streets as a result of a hearing granted to members of Duquesne Heights Civic Association, headed by Henry Fox and John Quincy Cook.

TELEVISION IS EXPLAINED TO LIONS

"Television" was demonstrated in an interesting illustrated talk by Albert S. Randolph, of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, at the regular weekly dinner meeting of the Lions Club of Mt. Lebanon in the Mt. Lebanon Presbyterian Church, Castle Shannon and Washington roads, last night.

New members welcomed in the club were Attorney Samuel A. Schreiner, William Block and H. Peter Van Duyl.

Plans for the dinner dance, to be held for wives and sweethearts of the members and their friends, in the St. Clair Country Club, May 28, were announced. The following committees were appointerd: Music, T. W. Stevenson; golf, A. N. Young and Charles Walker; prizes, Charles Geisler and Ira Edmundson; cards, George Collins; band, Howard R. Haines; house, E. H. Schaffer.

Nomination night was announced as May 22, at which time nomination for officers for the ensuing year will take place.

James S. Munger won the door prize, a box of cigars, donated by Edwin Farmer.

B. E. Robinson was in charge of the meeting.

CHURCH HOLDS JUBILEE

Daily services are being held at the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Fortieth street and Howley avenue this week, marking the fiftieth anniversary of the formation of the congregation. The Rev. Otto Ebert, who has been pastor of the church for the last 15 years, is in charge of the jubilee week program.

Otto Ebert.

A rally for women is being held in the church today in conjunction with the Lutheran Women's Missionary Conference of Western Pennsylvania which is holding its annual meeting there. The Rev. Carl Schwan, missionary and the Rev. E. Poppen, vice president of the Joint Lutheran Synod, are to be the speakers.

The services will end Sunday when a class of adults will be confirmed and a communion service held. In arranging the services, Rev. Ebert was aided by Daniel Harthauer, Herman Ross, Adolph Gollwitzer, William Grupp, Earl Grauce, August Neubauer, Otto Biber, William Ulmer, Henry Weigold, Carl Harthauer, George Mertens, Julius Olm, Herbert Biber and Albert Mertens.

Laundry Building Opened at Mayview

Mrs. Enoch Rauh, welfare director, has announced the opening of a combination warehouse and laundry building as part of the expansion program for the City Home and Hospital at Mayview. The laundry space occupies 12,000 square feet with a capacity for doing the work of 6,000 persons, leaving ample room for additional machinery to take care of a total of 10,000 persons.

Injured in Crash, Sues for $25,000

L. S. Williamson and Pearl, his wife, filed suit against T. J. Nobile in Common Pleas Court, asking $25,000 damages for personal injuries caused her when their automobile was struck by the automobile of defendant on Beverly road at East Marlin drive, Mt. Lebanon, April 7 last.

Dies In Hospital After Train Mishap

Frank Klaus, 75, of 62 Arlington avenue, died in Mercy Hospital early today from meningitis, following an injury April 12 when he was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train at B. O. Tower, Thirty-fifth street.

VALUABLE RECORDS GONE, BOYS BELIEVED GUILTY

Records valued at several thousands of dollars were destroyed and furniture and property damaged, according to H. L. Ley, of 506 Boggs avenue, in a complaint made to the Mt. Washington police yesterday.

Mr. Ley, who is superintendent of the Bureau of Building Inspection, claims that for the past several weeks, boys have entered his office adjoining his home, and destroyed valuable papers, plans, records, broke up furniture, attempted to enter the safe, destroyed floors, walls and fixtures. Mr. Ley was formerly in the contracting business.

Five boys, ranging in age from 14 to 15 years old, were apprehended, turned over in custody of their parents, and their names turned over to Juvenile Court officials.

Due to their ages names of the boys are withheld.

CHECK PASSER GETS 30 DAYS

Admitting passing a worthless $5 check, Paul Clements, 40, of Stowe Township, was committed to the county jail for 30 days by Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court today.

Clements was arrested yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Anna Nelson, proprietress of a confectionery store on Cross road, Lincoln place, near Bettis Field. Clements told the court that he was hungry, and issued a check from a checkbook which he had found previously. Mrs. Nelson cashed the check in payment for a sandwich and a cup of coffee, she said. She later called the bank and was informed that Clements did not have an account there. The arrest followed. He was unable to pay a $25 fine imposed by the magistrate.

Dennison Is Tech's Faculty Chairman

B. C. Dennison, associate professor of electrical engineering, has been elected chairman of the faculty at the Carnegie Institute of Technology for next year, it was announced today. Others chosen were: Prof. Harriet F. Glendon, vice chairman; Associate Prof. Edith Winchester, secretary, and Assistant Prof. Charles W. Prine, treasurer. Prof. Walter F. Rittman was named faculty representative to the athletic council and Prof. Norman C. Riggs, faculty representative on the executive board.

Bellevue Observes Annual Cleanup

Bellevue observed its first "clean-up" day today. Trucks collected rubbish north of Lincoln avenue. Tomorrow that part of the borough south of Lincoln avenue will be visited.

Boy Badly Burned Dressing for Church

Dressing before a gas stove for Ascension Day church services this morning, Ernest Bevil, 9, of 709 Josephine street, East McKeesport, probably was fatally burned when his clothing ignited. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Bevil, went to his aid and was severely burned on her hands in tearing flaming clothing from the boy. The boy was taken to McKeesport Hospital and the mother was attended in her home by Dr. F. L. Muth, of Wilmerding.

Dog Attacks Man, Ordered Tied Up

Eugene Espey, 20, of 1307 Rutherford street, was bitten on the right leg by a dog owned by L. F. Moyes, 2106 West Liberty avenue, yesterday. Espey's wounds were cauterized by Dr. M. A. Rubinstein, 1630 Broadway, and he later went to his home. Moyes was notified by the Mt. Washington police to keep the dog tied up.

East Ohio Street Repairs Approved

Council has approved a recommendation from Director Edward G. Lang, of the department of public works, for repairing East Ohio street from Heinz street to Millvale borough line at an estimated cost of $8,000.

NEW LIBERAL DEFI AT PITT

Rebuked for holding a liberal meeting in Heinz House, University of Pittsburgh, at which Tom Tippett, labor organizer, spoke, A. S. Whitely, graduate assistant in economics, informed the university authorities that it was his intention to continue such gatherings to determine whether free speech was allowed on the campus.

Whitely was called to the office of Dr. Louis K. Manley, dean of the school of business administration, and A. H. Armbruster, dean of men, a short time after the meeting, and informed he was not justified in calling the meeting. Asked to state clearly why he had taken this action, Mr. Whitely informed the two deans that it was his purpose to determine whether the administration sanctioned free speech.

Mr. Whitely announced in opening the meeting that he regretted the university no longer had a Liberal Club to bring such a speaker as Mr. Tippett before the students and that he took it upon himself to call a meeting which was held yesterday afternoon.

Dean Armbruster and William Dauffenbaugh took seats in the auditorium just before the meeting opened, but made no effort to stop the speaker.

Eastern Stars Plan Rummage Sale

Electa Chapter No. 51, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a rummage sale at 1301 South Bingham street, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Emma Thomas is the chairman of the sale.

ONE-MAN CARS CREATE NEW CONDITIONS

Definite action on the proposed institution of the "one-man car system" on the Hamilton, Squirrel Hill and Brighton road routes was postponed today at the request of Joseph Thompson, business agent for Division 85, Street Railway Employes' Union, so as to permit a meeting of street car men tonight at which the change will be discussed.

At the railway employes' meeting tonight in divisional headquarters at 1901 Fifth avenue, questions that have been brought up by the proposed change will be threshed out. Results of the meeting and proposals made by the men will be laid before officials of the Pittsburgh Railways Company at a meeting tomorrow.

Union officials said that at tonight's meeting the men would discuss the probability of their protesting the leaving of their regular runs to accept new schedules. The men are also anxious to reach an "over-time" work agreement, it was said.

RUSH WORK ON BATHHOUSE

Dormont's borough manager, E. O. Garrett, and Councilman H. N. Rudderow are two of the busiest men in that community these last few days. Day in and day out, these borough officials can be seen at the Dormont Park swimming pool, supervising the construction of the new $35,000 bath house. They plan to have the structure completed and in service by Memorial Day.

The bath house, made possible through the passage of a bond issue at a recent general election, will be 140 feet by 35 feet, one story with a balcony, and will contain dressing rooms, lockers, showers and a filtration plant.

Mr. Rudderow is chairman of the Park Committee.

School Head Will Address Bible Class

Dr. J. Freeman Guy, associate superintendent of Pittsburgh schools will address the Men's Bible class of the Bellevue Christian church, next Sunday morning, "Mother's Day." His subject will be "The Man Who Said He Would and Did Not."

The class is the pioneer men's Bible class of the North Boroughs and for many years was taught by Dr. George W. Gerwig, former secretary of the Pittsburgh Board of Public Education. Edward F. Waidschmidt, president of the class, and a committee have fixed 100 as the attendance goal for Sunday.

Council Approves New Light Poles

A resolution authorizing Director Edward G. Lang, of the department of Public works, to install ornamental light poles on Marlboro road between Wightman street and South Negley avenue at a cost of $800 has been affirmed by Council.

GIRL SCOUTS WILL TAKE PART IN RADIO CAMPAIGN

Enthused by the growing success of the Sun-Telegraph-Stanley-Warner Brothers' theaters free radio campaign, Mrs. Charles L. Peirce, commissioner of the Girl Scouts of Allegheny county, hopes that troops in the Pittsburgh district will take an active part in the drive.

Plans are now being laid to encourage scout leaders to organize their troops and secure sufficient subscriptions to the Sun-Telegraph to donate radios to their schools.

With most of the troops meeting in school houses throughout the county, Mrs. Peirce feels this an admirable manner of showing appreciation of the schools' kindnesses to the girls.

PREPARE CIRCULARS

Circulars are shortly to be sent by Girl Scout headquarters to all the leaders, encouraging their efforts in behalf of the schools, accompanied by the following letter from Mrs. Peirce, which was released to the Sun-Telegraph today:

"After careful consideration of the Sun-Telegraph-Stanley-Warner Brothers' theaters campaign to place a radio in every schoolroom, I have come to the conclusion that Girl Scouts of Allegheny County can do a great deal of good by helping the campaign in every way possible.

"With an average enrollment of 25 members, Girl Scout troops should easily be able to secure many 13-week subscriptions to the Sun-Telegraph and donate a radio set to the schools around which their activities center.

"I strongly recommend that the Scouts seriously consider participation in this campaign. Inquiries from leaders should be addressed to the office of the Girl Scouts of Allegheny County, Arrott Building, Pittsburgh."

SPEAKERS A AILABLE

The Sun-Telegraph will send a speaker to explain the campaign to any group desiring to take part in this great civic work. Expressions of approbation are coming into the offices of the Sun-Telegraph in great numbers, and the campaign is becoming a general community affair.

Order blanks may be obtained from any Stanley theater or from the Sun-Telegraph. They are also being included in delivery packages of Donahoe's, United Laundries and Haller Bakeries.

The number of schools working for the eight-tube Atwater Kent radio set offered in exchange for 125 new 13-week orders for the Sun-Telegraph increases daily.

Approval

MRS. CHARLES L. PEIRCE

Mrs. Peirce, Girl Scout commissioner who recommends that Girl Scout troops work for their schools in the Sun-Telegraph and Warner Brothers' theaters campaign to place a radio in each schoolroom.

House Damaged by Blast, Asks $23,000

His house across the Ohio river was damaged beyond repair by the Manchester tank explosion, Adam M. Haller alleged in a suit filed against the Equitable Gas Company and Riter-Conley Company in Common Pleas Court, asking $22,000 damages because of the depreciation in market value. The explosion November 14, 1927, blew in the doors and windows of the house, situated at West Carson and Main streets and otherwise damaged it, he alleged.

Brotherhood Class To Hold Dinner

The monthly dinner of the Men's Brotherhood of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal church will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the church social rooms. The speaker will be the Rev. William E. Thomas, who recently returned from Mexico. His subject will be "The Situation in Mexico." Music will be provided by an orchestra directed by Paul Egan. William Wrenshall is president of the brotherhood.

SCIENTIFIC ADVANCE TOLD TO VISITING POTTERY MEN

Mass production in industry during the last 25 years has been responsible for the growth of scientific laboratories in the United States from a few scattered about the country to more than 1,000, Dr. E. P. Weidlein, director of Mellon Institute, told 200 members of the Ceramic Society of England, the American Refractories Society and the Pittsburgh section of the American Ceramic Society, last night.

He spoke at a banquet in honor of the English visitors in the Hotel Schenley. They arrived here Tuesday to inspect the industrial sections of the Pittsburgh district.

William J. Gardner, president of the English Society, presented scrolls of membership to Gen. Edward Orton, founder of the American society, and A. V. Bleininger, research chemist of the Homer-Laughlin China Company, and a trustee of the American Society.

Two groups of the visitors toured plants in Ohio today, the white wares group going to East Liverpool, and the building materials group to Alliance. The refractories group inspected the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company plant at Hays this morning, and this afternoon was to visit the Kier Fire Brick Company plant at Salina, O. Tomorrow the visitors will tour the Aliquippa plant of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, which will be the last inspection in the tri-state district.

Steps Authorized At McAfee Bridge

An ordinance authorizing the reconstruction of concrete steps from Eckert street to McAfee Bridge at an estimated cost of $6,000 has been ordered by Council.

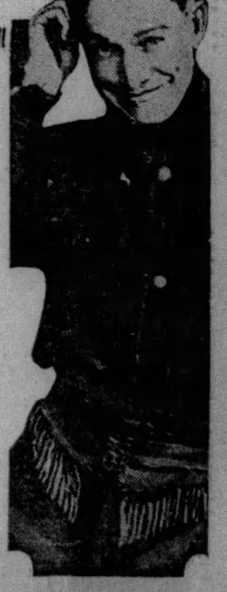
CLIFTON, 100 POPULATION, ASKS TRAFFIC OFFICER

Clifton, 150-year-old village on the Washington road in Upper St. Clair township, will be the smallest place in the country to have a traffic officer if motorists and the board of road supervisors succeed in having the high constable deputized for that position.

Although Clifton has less than 100 inhabitants it has a volume of motor traffic equal to many cities of large population, and the peculiar twists and intersections of the roads makes travel dangerous.

Several head-on collisions have occurred near the village center at a point where golfers traveling to and from the St. Clair Country Club whirl off the main road at the junction of the McMurray and McLaughlin Run roads. A number of persons have been seriously injured and motorists have asked that Constable John Kletzi be stationed on the road during hours of heavy traffic. Constable Kletzi has been active in road patrol and it is pointed out that his work would be more effective at the village cross-roads.

Sir Roger Says



PHILADELPHIA, May 9.

The disarmament conference in Geneva just at the only time when it was about to agree, now will go home and study on it and return with their usual propositions.

France will want England to sink their navy; England will agree to France sinking their army; both will want Germany to sink her remembrances and all three agree on Italy sinking Mussolini.

Asking Europe to disarm is like asking a man in Chicago to give up his life insurance.

We can preach "good will," but if we lived in Europe among those hyenas, we would be in war before we got our grip unpacked.

While we are having Washington days and Lincoln days, let's have a "thank the Atlantic Ocean day."

SPORT COMMENT
by JAMES J. LONG

JUDGES MISS DUKE RUNNER'S VICTORY

ONLY five pitchers in the history of major league baseball have ever hurled perfect no-hit games, that is games in which no runner reached first base, these being John Lee Richmond, John Montgomery Ward, Cy Young, Addie Joss and and Charley Robertson. But when you take into consideration the lively ball now in use, and the closeness of the stands at the Polo Grounds in New York, causing pop flies to count for home runs on many occasions, it is a question whether Carl Hubbell's feat against the Pirates yesterday wasn't just as great as the achievement of any member of the illustrious quintet named.

Ed Morris.

The fact that it was the first no-hit performance in the majors since that of Ted Lyons against the Red Sox, on August 21, 1926, and the first in the National League since that of Dazzy Vance against the Phillies on September 13, 1925, shows what a job it is for a hurler to turn in a hitless game under present conditions. It was beginning to look as if no-hit pitching had become a lost art, so that the success of the big left-hander whom the Giants bought from Beaumont in the Texas League last year for $20,000, and who was once discarded by Detroit, must be named as one of the greatest pitching achievements of all time.

THIS is the fifth time the Pirates have been held hitless in the National League. Bumpus Jones, of Cincinnati, did it in pitching his first game in the National League in 1892; Theodore Breitenstein, of Cincinnati, repeated it in 1898; Harry McIntire, of Brooklyn, held the Bucs without a hit for 10 innings in 1906, only to lose his game in the thirteenth round, 1 to 0, and Tom Hughes, of Boston, blanked them without a safety in 1916. The Pittsburgh club also was the victim of no-hit pitching on four occasions in the American Association, and one of the pitchers to turn the trick was Ed Morris, later a member of the local team and still a well-known resident of this city.

Morris turned the trick while pitching for Columbus on May 19, 1884, when the hurler pitched from a box 6x4 feet, 50 feet from the home plate, and when a high ball, low ball or fair ball had to be delivered according to batter's call. Guy Hecker, Albert Atkinson and Matty Kilroy were the other pitchers to accomplish it in the A. A. The only Pirate pitcher ever to hurl a no-hit game was Nick Maddox against Brooklyn at Exposition Park on September 20, 1907. Claude Hendrix did it against the Pittsburgh Federal Leaguers and Frank Allen of the local Feds got away with it against St. Louis in 1915.

INASMUCH as the Pittsburgh batters were unable to knock even a loud foul yesterday, average pitching on the Pirate side would have been only a waste, but at the same time Buccaneer followers have plenty of room for finding fault with the kind of slabwork that was presented against the Giants.

Jess Petty.

In being knocked off the knoll in the second inning, Jess Petty kept up the sorry record of Pittsburgh's veteran flingers. Leaving aside the work of Burleigh Grimes, no other club in the majors has been given such poor service by its so-called first-string oldsters.

IN a total of eight games started by them, the Corsairs' flinging vets have been knocked out of all but one. Petty alone pitched a complete game. He failed three times in four starts to go the route. Remy Kremer and Carmen Hill each started twice only to be knocked out both times. Grimes and the rookies have been the only dependable starters. It looked in one game as if Petty would do his share, but in the main his work has been very disappointing.

THE aching void in the Pittsburgh club's run and hit columns yesterday was all the more striking in view of the terrific hitting that has featured recent games played at the Polo Grounds. The combination of short fields and rabbit baseballs has made the spring a swatting riot there.

In the last five games played in the Giants' park the contending teams have made a total of 99 hits, or an average of practically 20 to a game, even with the Pirates' empty afternoon counted in. And in the same five games no fewer than 16 home runs were registered. The Giants made 11 of the 16 home runs and 55 of the 99 hits, yet lost three of the five games.

PITTSBURGH will not be included among the cities to be visited by the Preston North End Soccer Football Club of the Second Division of the English League, the first English professional eleven ever to appear in the United States.

A game between the English team and a club of Pittsburgh district professionals was suggested by agents of the visiting troupe, but when a guarantee of $5,000 was demanded local soccer men could not see their way clear to accept. The English kickers will play eight games in the United States, starting in New York May 18 or 19, and two in Canada.

Henry Schnelbach.

HENRY SCHNELBACH, who, with Joe Pesci, is accomplishing a great deal toward placing Duquesne University on the track map this spring, was the victim of an exceedingly poor piece of judging in the 100-yard open event in the Ohio State Relays at Columbus last Saturday. At least so goes the story brought back to Pittsburgh by various local fans who journeyed into the Buckeye State for the famous conclave of speedsters and field stars. According to witnesses no less reliable than the rival runners who finishd to the rear of the flying Bluffite, Schnelbach actually won his event. Imagine his chagrin to learn that in the official reckoning he had not even been placed.

WHEN the obviously faulty results were posted, indignant contestants—including Morris of Bethany—who realized that an injustice had been done the Hilltopper, immediately voiced vigorous protest with the judges. The latter, apparently quite up in the air as to what had actually happened, at length revised their verdict to award Schnelbach fourth position.

The explanation said to have been advanced for the error was that the Duke flyer, wearing a white jersey and running next to the stands, had not been noticed in the excitement attendant upon conclusion of the race. All of which is by no means a glowing commentary upon the fashion in which a meet of the importance of the Ohio gathering was handled.

INCIDENTALLY, Buckeye officials refused to permit Pesci, co-captain of the Duquesne track host, to compete in the mile team race because of the fact that the Laydenites lacked three entrants of the quartet declared requisite for a full team.

It is customary at other meets to permit single entries to try their luck in the team events, but not so at Columbus, a truth gleaned

FEAR AL MAY BE CRIPPLE FOR LIFE

NEW YORK, May 9.—(INS.)—Al (T. N. T.) Lassman, football and boxing hero of New York University, lies in a hospital here today dreaming of winning the heavyweight boxing championship of the world, ignorant of the fact that specialists are preparing to perform a delicate operation upon him which may leave him a cripple for life.

Lassman, strong, cheerful and confident, believes he has recovered from injuries received in leading the New York University football team to victory over Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh last November. While vacationing in Florida during the winter he seemed to have recovered from a skull fracture and clots on the brain, but treatment for puzzling tremors in his partially paralyzed left arm revealed that a cyst was deeply rooted in his brain.

A major operation will be performed within a few days to remove the cyst. He will be a cripple if the operation fails, according to specialists. But the giant athlete has not been told that a crisis impends.

HILL FUNERAL TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 9.—Edwin Hill, a junior in New York University and one of the brightest stars in the firmament, who was fatally shot in New York City last night during what is termed a "friendly scuffle" with a policeman for possession of the officer's weapon, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hill, of Burgettstown, this county, and one of the best-known young men in this district. Hill attended Burgettstown High School for two years, where he made an enviable record as a star in all branches of athletics. He was there during 1920 and 1921 and then for two years attended the high school at Massillon, O., where again he was a star, particularly in football. Leaving Massillon, he topped off his preparatory school education at Bellefonte Academy and from there went to New York University.

Hill's father left yesterday for New York where he is making arrangements for the funeral. Tentative plans call for the arrival of the body this morning in Burgettstown with the funeral services from his late home tomorrow afternoon.

The body will be accompanied by John F. (Chick) Meehan, head coach of the football team, and by the graduate manager of athletics. Besides his parents, Hill is survived by two half brothers, Ralph and Lynn, both at home, and in the grade schools at Burgettstown.

Local Boys Box In Inter-City Show

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—The battle for the vacated national amateur heavyweight championship takes the leading position on the card for the last night of the inter-city amateur bouts at Madison Square Garden tonight. Ralph Ficucello and Charles Hanson, both New Yorkers, will fight it out for the title that was taken away from the winner of the national tournament, Elmer (Buddy) Howard, by official decree.

The second night of the inter-city program brings together battlers from the metropolitan district, Montreal, Boston, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in 13 bouts.

Williams May Hurl for Grays

Smoky Joe Williams probably will get the honor of hurling the opening of a four-game series against the Original Cuban Stars in the Homestead Grays' second set of American Negro League games, two of which will be played at Forbes Field tomorrow evening and Saturday afternoon, with a doubleheader in Cleveland on Sunday afternoon.

FRANKIE GENARO HOME

NEW YORK, May 9.—(INS.)—Frankie Genaro, recognized as flyweight champion of the world by the National Boxing Association and the International Boxing Federation, was back home today from Paris, where he recently won on a foul from Spider Pladner after the French champion had knocked him out in a previous bout. Genaro said he planned to fight Johnny Hill, English crack, in London after a bout here in June with Corporal Izzy Schwartz, recognized as champion in New York State.

ADDIE JOSS

CHARLEY ROBERTSON
Who gained fame pitching the most modern of the perfect games, for Chicago against Detroit in the American League, April 30, 1922.

CY YOUNG
King of all no-hit pitchers. He pitched a perfect game for the Boston Americans against Philadelphia, May 5, 1904, and also turned in no-hit achievements for Cleveland against Cincinnati in the old National League in 1897 and for the Boston Americans against New York in 1908.

CARL HUBBELL
Southpaw star of the New York Giants, who entered the pitching hall of fame yesterday by shutting out the Pirates without a hit. He won, 11 to 0, and carved his niche alongside other pitching immortals, some of whom are draped about him above. Hubbell's no-hit game was the first in the major leagues since that pitched by Ted Lyons, of the Chicago White Sox, against the Boston Red Sox, August 21, 1926.

DAZZY VANCE

NO-HIT GAMES NUMEROUS IN MAJORS

When Carl Hubbell held the Pirates hitless in their game against the Giants in New York yesterday he joined a long list of pitching immortals in the hall of fame, headed by the great Denton T. (Cy) Young, who pitched a perfect game and two other no-hit affairs, and Addie Joss, of the old Cleveland club, who accounted for a perfect game and one other no-hit contest.

No hitless games were registered in the major league last year or the year before; the latest prior to Hubbell's having been that of Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox, against the Boston Red Sox, August 21, 1926.

Only six perfect games are on record in the entire history of the major league. The complete list of no-hit games follows:

George W. Bradley, St. Louis vs Hartford, N. L., July 15, 1876..... 2-0
L. J. Corcoran, Chicago vs. Boston, N. L., August 19, 1880..... 6-0
James F. Galvin, Buffalo vs. Worcester, N. L., Aug. 20, 1880..... 1-0

FIDEL LABARBA, DEMPSEY ILL

NEW YORK, May 9.—Jack Dempsey and Fidel La Barba, respectively a champion who was and another who probably is going to be again, were under the care of physicians today as a result of which it may be that La Barba's unofficial world championship fight with Kid Chocolate on May 22 may suffer a postponement. Dempsey has no fights to postpone, either as fighter or promoter, but unless his general condition improves very soon, it is believes that the boxing racket will see very little of him for some time to come.

La Barba was suffering from what his manager, George Blake, described as "a head sniffle," but others less conservative didn't hesitate to say that his indisposition is a trifle more serious than that. They spoke of congestion of the lungs, cited the fact that the former flyweight champion hasn't been in a gymnasium for three days and further that yesterday it was deemed necessary to call a physician. In any case, Blake's story is that the Chocolate bout will go on, as scheduled.

Dempsey virtually has been confined to his room in an uptown hotel for 10 days. At one time it was feared that he was threatened with pneumonia, but later his symptoms were diagnosed as influenza and quinsy.

PROFIO, RANDALL IN RETURN GO TONIGHT

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Dominick Profio, Cecil welterweight puncher, goes out after revenge tonight. Revenge against Tiger Joe Randall, doughty little light-skinned Negro, of Elizabeth, Pa., who started against him one night recently at the Moose Temple a 1-to-10 shot and popped him around the ring so badly that he not only ended Profio's string of knockout victories, but grabbed the decision over him and cut him up around the eyes to such an extent that Profio hasn't fought since. It's a natural return bout, and, on what the men showed their last time against each other, the cleverer, shiftier Randall will enter the ring the favorite on this occasion.

Dominick Profio

Incidentally, the bout, which will headline the last indoor show of the season in McKeesport, probably will set a new mark for the campaign in attendance and receipts there. Promoter Jim McGirr hasn't had anything for his previous shows like the advance sale he has for this one and will have extra seats placed on the main floor and will open an extra box office to handle the crowd.

Paddy Mahan, of Charlerol, and Joe Boychan, of Steubenville, 130-pounders, will box the semi-final; Chuck Zelnack, of Glassport, and Lee Sala, of Donora, middleweights, are in the second battle, and Eddie Brannon, of the Hill, and Frankie Moran, of Homewood, featherweights, will open the bill.

MOOSE CARD FILLED

Francis Flynn, promoter of the Moose Temple shows, has completed his card for his weekly offering tomorrow night, which will be headlined by Buck McTiernan, of Swissvale, and Johnny Carey, of Erie, and promises to pack 'em in again in view of the sensational form shown by McTiernan in stopping Mickey Solmen, of New Castle, in the same ring last Friday night. The last bout to be arranged was the opener, which will bring together Johnny Brown, of Lawrenceville and Bob Collura, of Beechview, at 140 pounds. Johnny Plal, of Erie, and Larry Madge, of Cleveland, will box the semi-final, and Pedlar Palmer, Negro lightweight, of Columbus, O., and Frank Monroe, of Fair Haven, are down for the second preliminary.

The Moose Temple Club will continue operating until the end of

BUCS HELPLESS AGAINST CARL HUBBELL

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, May 9.—New York fans today were still talking about a left-hand pitching phenom—but he was not Larry French, of the Pirates.

Larry you heard about yesterday; today's tale deals with Carl Hubbell, a gangling southpaw from the Texas League, who yesterday afternoon "closed the door in our face," as Johnny Morrison would say if he were here to discuss it. John used that expression for a shutout. He doubtless would have another good one for a no-hit performance, for it was such a masterpiece that Hubbell painted to the discomfiture of the Pittsburghers.

DESERVES HONOR

Perhaps Cotton Tierney, another Bucco of pleasant memory, covered the situation better when he spoke of the nine strong-armed players who went through nine innings without making a "loud foul." Well, the Pirates did a little better than that, yet it is a fact that the young pitcher at the end of his brilliant work deserved every honor that will come to him as a result of his feat.

Several of the Buccos were able to reach base on Hubbell, and, on one or two occasions, it seemed as if the baseball spell would be broken. The biggest moment was in the ninth, the majority of the fans realizing that the youngster was moving into the last round without having a hit scored against him.

Frenchy Kremer was due to hit at the start of the ninth. Manager Bush sent Harry Riconda up to swing for the pitcher. Riconda batted a slow liner to left that looked like a hit, but Chick Fullis rushed in, had both hands on the ball and then dropped it. The official scorer ruled wisely in charging an error. He is backed by the accepted contention that any player, especially a big-leaguer, should hold any kind of a ball if he gets both hands on it while his feet are on the ground. A moment later Travis Jackson booted one, and as there was none out at the time, it seemed as if the Buccos would at least score, even if they did go through the battle without a hit.

SPEED-BALL EFFECTIVE

To digress for a moment, Hubbell was using his speed and screwball with devastating effect. Carl is not as fast as French, but his screwball is even more deceptive than Larry's, because, according to the players, it sails down and away from a righthand hitter. Perhaps it should be called a fade-away pitch. In any event, the rocket appeared to be responding perfectly in the ninth.

Lloyd Waner seemed non-plussed when Hubbell slipped a third strike past him for the first out of the inning. Up came Brother Paul with runners on second and first. Not a hit in either of the two games. Paul apparently had little sentiment for a no-hit game as he smeared one back on the left of the pitcher.

Hubbell lunged toward first and nailed the ball as he fell prone on the ground. Like a flash he was up and in another instant he let fly to Stonewall Jackson, who was right on the job at second. Jackson gave the ball to Terry in time for a double play and the multitude was in an uproar. Hundreds rushed toward the field to find out about the doubtful drive of Riconda's. When they learned that it had been scored an error, they went away happy.

SCORE FOUR HOMERS

Oh, yes, the Giants scored 11 runs so the spectacle was declared "no contest." The Pirates were no match for the Giants, but this is another day.

As several of the Buccos said when they reached the hotel, "Well, there's no headache to that one—we were beaten all the way and didn't have a chance."

The Pirates were anxious to give credit to Hubbell, who worked like a seasoned performer. He was ably supported, especially by Catcher Bob O'Farrell, who should know how to handle a young pitcher.

Four homers were struck during the afternoon, all but one of them being of the "Chinese" variety. Mel Ott connected for two, one of which was a real swat over the head of Paul Waner in right-center. Paul actually had his hands on the ball, but he could not make the rocket stick and Ott skipped around as the ball was being relayed. Chick Fullis and Andy Cohen contributed the other homers.

GRIMES SLATED TODAY

Jess Petty started the battle for the Pirates, but both he and Fred Fussell, who succeeded him, were on their way before the third inning was completed. Remy Kremer was the next pitcher served and Kremer started out like a star, but the Giants nailed him in the sixth. Frenchy took the foe in order in the seventh and eighth.

Burleigh Grimes is Manager Bush's slab selection for the final game of the series this afternoon. The Pirates expect to look at the slants of Fred Fitzsimmons.

DUKE TENNIS TEAM TOPS BOBCBATS

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Grant Siverd's Duke varsity netmen broke back into triumphant stride yesterday after a brace of stinging reversals, West Virginia Wesleyan's court crew caught the Bluffites on vigorous rebound and at the close of hostilities on the Hilltop asphalt, the Buckhannon array languished on the short end of a 6-1 verdict.

All five Duquesne singles performers emerged victorious, only Bullion, clever Homestead youth, being carried into an extra set. Andy Smeaton proved too much for Ira McDowell, visiting ace. Sam Keller and Pete Collodi, Bluff co-captains, met capable opposition, but the Keller forehand and the Collodi barrier assault turned the trick before the danger points were reached.

SMEATON VICTOR

Carroll Westfall, Crafton lad and brother of Dink Westfall, former Pitt and Wesleyan racquet luminary, caused anxious moments for Bill Smeaton in the fourth man-to-man contest. Smeaton's heavy service, however, at length prevailed. Arnold, husky Mountaineer fifth man, garnered the initial bracket from Bullion, but the latter settled into steady tennis to win.

The Hill doubles combination flashed better tactics than they displayed against Geneva on Tuesday. Errors, plus McDowell's excellent volleying, cost the Smeaton brethren their second set, but the final frame went to the locals in short order. O'Neill and Campbell did unexpectedly well against Kolopus and Westfall, of the West Virginians, but failed to pull out at the vital stages.

PREP, PLEBES WIN

The Duke Prep racqueters likewise copped honors yesterday, Capt. Billy O'Loughlin and his followers grabbing off an abbreviated engagement from Verona High School at Verona, 3-0.

The Carnegie Tech Plebe squad scored a well-merited 5-1 decision over Turtle Creek Union High School on the Tartan lot yesterday. The summaries:

Babe Ruth Gains On Goslin in Big Six

Each player in the Big Six maintained his respective standing through yesterday's campaigning, but Babe Ruth with two out of four at St. Louis, registered a marked gain against Goose Goslin, the skidding third-placer who went hitless at Cleveland. The Babe's average mounted to .321, his highest figure of the season, while Goslin's dropped to .328. Gehrig got two out of five, including his seventh homer, and gained one point to .393, 31 points more than Hornsby could show after getting one safe hit in three attempts at Brooklyn. The standing:

Heidelberg's Champions

(Inside story of the remarkable record compiled by the Heidelberg (Pa.) Soccer Club, which has won the National amateur championship twice in the last three years.)

By E. J. Balsarini

Manager of Heidelberg Soccer Club

CHAPTER II—WE PICK OUR TYPE OF GAME.

IT WAS during the late summer months of 1923 that I started to build the club that was to represent Heidelberg in the first National amateur tournament. The majority of the clubs in the district at that time were composed of American-born and British-born players. Feeling that the hotbed of homebreds at that time was the little town of Dunlevy, another town of 3,000 population, just outside Charleroi, I made a visit there during the month of August.

E. J. Balsarini.

At this time, Dunlevy, Gallatin and Roscoe were sporting teams consisting mainly of American-born talent, and they were playing to great crowds in the Sunday League and cup games. Most of the other teams in the Pittsburgh district, such as the Pittsburgh Rovers, Celtics, Swissvale and McKeesport, still adhered to a composition of foreign-born players.

Among the foreign element, the style early introduced in this country was very popular. It was pretty to watch, fast and scientific. But the feature that impressed me was that it never got them anywhere! Once in the scoring zone, driving power was noticeable by its absence.

NEW STYLE EFFECTIVE

ON THE other hand, Morgan and Cuddy, two little towns up Millers Run, were producing a school of American players who, from the time of their appearance, monopolized the situation. No club composed of foreign-born players hereabouts ever won a title, either in the district or nationally, once these homebreds got started. Another thing that impressed me was that the foreign-born players themselves did not believe in their style to get results, for in their discussions regarding soccer in the old country, it generally was admitted that the style of playing in the leagues was discarded when the big clubs got into the cup-tie competitions.

Never yet have the foreign-born players reconciled themselves to our brand of soccer. We decided that a revision of old country soccer would get results. We stuck, however, to the code strictly; the laws of the game were observed so that referees could not penalize our teams unfairly. The cardinal principles of our style of play were:

Do not play fancy football for the crowd, but shoot at every opportunity, for unless the forwards shoot, goals cannot be scored.

Do not give the defense a chance to settle down, and never let up, no matter what the score is.

NEVER-SAY-DIE SPIRIT

IN the chapter referring to our trip to Cleveland in 1924, I will tell why that last rule was introduced, following our defeat in our first battle outside of Pittsburgh in National play.

When the start was made on the composition of our team, we had only six players from the junior club in Heidelberg who gave real promise. They were Berky Jones, Browning, Stenzel, Joe Harbin, Johnny McCosky and Andy Savage. In tomorrow's chapter I will tell of the players we drafted from Dunlevy to make up what I thought would be a national amateur championship outfit good enough to represent the United States at the Olympic games in Paris the following year.

MID-ATLANTIC LEAGUE OPENS TODAY

WINDBER, Pa., May 9.—With every team reported strengthened and in the best of physical condition, the Middle Atlantic League will usher in the 1929 season today, a season that promises to eclipse all previous records in the history of the circuit.

Elmer M. Daily, president of the league, is highly pleased with this year's outlook and predicts one of the best races since the league's organization. He cited several good reasons for his predictions, the first being the bond of $2,000 posted by all clubs to guarantee all obligations to the league.

Four clubs that encountered difficulties last season have ironed out their troubles and are entering the new race confident of enjoying successful campaigns. The Cumberland club has been taken over by a community association; the St. Louis Cardinals will control the Scottdale club, while Johnstown and Clarksburg also are under new supervision.

The majority of the teams have added new blood to their rosters and an open race for the pennant is predicted by those who are well familiar with the league situation.

Sandy Lake to Hold Meet With Stoneboro

MODERN AMERICAN METHODS LOWERED ITS FORMER 10c PRICE

AS EVERYONE knows, the value of automobiles has steadily increased while their price has gone down . . . all because of modern American methods.

So it is with White Owl. Because it is bought by the billion, this mild, sweet-tasting, satisfying cigar can actually be bought for 3 for 20c instead of 10c each, as formerly. That is why thousands of 10c smokers have switched to the economical enjoyment and foil-wrapped freshness of White Owl.

TWENTY-FOUR THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1929

TWO HOLES IN 1

TWO holes in 1 were scored on district golf courses yesterday. At Schenley Park, links Chuck Onoretta, assistant pro, tallied a 1 the fifth hole, using a mashie niblik. Blaine Himes, Kittanning Country Club pro, registered the other on that club's 250-yard first hole, playing with H. G. Gates, J. N. Andrews and Carl E. Hoover.

SECOND SUSPENDED

PHILADELPHIA, May 9. — (AP.) — The State Athletic Commission yesterday announced the suspension for one year of Jack Williams, Reading, Pa., second, for conduct unbecoming a licensed boxing official at the Pottsville A. C. May 2.

PITT NETTERS PLAY O. S. U. TODAY

By JESS CARVER.

A two-day jaunt into Ohio, with Ohio State to be played today in Columbus and Ohio University at Athens tomorrow, will take up the time of the Pitt varsity tennis squad this weekend. The boys left town this morning over the Panhandle.

Eddie Jacobs

Eddie Jacobs, the southpaw ace and former national boys' tennis champion; Milt Cohen, Baker and Levine and Wunderlick will represent Pitt on this invasion of the Buckeye countryside, playing, likely, in the order named.

A pair of Tri-State Conference matches and a sette between Bethany and West Virginia Wesleyan complete the day's tennis card. Wesleyan meets Bethany at Bethany in the first match of three to be played in this district. Waynesburg's racqueteers are scheduled to battle the Dukes on the Bluff and Westminster and Thiel are booked for a match at Greenville.

TRACK PROGRAM SET

As far as is possible, the time schedule for the track and field carnival in the Pitt Stadium Saturday will be adhered to rigidly. With a triangular, a championship and a dual meet to be run off between 10 by the clock in the morning and nightfall, daylight wasting time, the boys will not be able to do much fooling.

Following is the program for the day, as arranged by Bill Evans, of the W. P. I. A. L. track committee, and his aides:

Long's Sport Comment

by Pesci very much to his sorrow, for it meant for him a fruitless automobile trip of some 500 miles.

THE extent to which the first trade made by Bucky Harris helped the Detroit club this season may be judged from the fact that of the first eight victories scored by the Tigers no fewer than five were pitched by George Uhle. Harris obtained Uhle from Cleveland for Tavener and Holloway. His victory over Washington yesterday made him the first pitcher in either of the major leagues this year to win five games. He has downed St. Louis twice, Cleveland, Chicago and Washingon once each, and has yet to be defeated. In his five games he has allowed a total of only nine runs.

Wilbur Cooper.

MUCH has been heard about the effect that a smooth motion has in prolonging a pitcher's career, but it appears to have been of no great assistance to Wilbur Cooper, former Pirate star. Cooper always worked with as much ease, seemingly, as if he were sitting in a rocking chair, and there wasn't a flaw in the ball-bearing action of his arm, yet at the age of 37 he seems on the point of dropping out.

Wilbur's latest drop is to the Texas League. He was in the Coast League last season, but during the winter hooked up with Birmingham in the Southern Association. Birmingham recently released him and now he has signed with Shreveport in the Texas loop. And it seems only a short while back since "Coop" won 161 games for Pittsburgh in eight consecutive seasons, an average of better than 20 victories a year, which few of the stars of today will make for a similar period.

CLOSE BATTLES MARK SANDLOT CONTESTS

Some interesting battles were staged on the local sandlots last evening, the feature game of the City League finding the St. John's Lyceum nine nosing out its rival from Bloomfield, the J. L. Thomas club, by a 7-to-6 score.

Kornick hurled the Strippers to victory, but it certainly was not the fault of his mates, for that infield kicked the ball all over the lot, the official box score showing two errors, but there should have been 10.

In the Wagner Central League two games were played. The Roosevelt club got bumped at Moultrie Park when the Soho Board of Trade scored a 5-to-1 victory. Griffin hurled for the Soho outfit and held the South Hills boys to one hit. Hornyak kicked in with a couple of hits for the home club.

The other game found the Mt. Washington C. M. C. and the Harvey club staging a thriller at the Salt Works Park, Harvey club winning its initial battle in the loop by a 4-to-3 score.

The North Siders staged a rally in the last inning that netted two runs to win the game. Ritter pitched a nice game, allowing the Saunier club five hits. He fanned eight.

Quite a big time was held at New Kensington for the opening game of the K. of C. Burgess Danny Burns threw out the first ball for the New Kensington K. of C.-Walker Buicks session. It was a real game, and the fraternal boys left the Buicks behind by a 2-to-1 score.

Senator Frank J. Harris and Honus Wagner formed the opening night battery at the Crafton-Ingram Church League, and after this star combination had retired for the evening, the Crafton Presbyterians proceeded to knock the St. Philips' pitchers all over the lot to score a 13-to-2 win. The game only went five innings, but 10 runs in the third settled it. It nearly took half of the fire department to put the Presbyterians out.

PROFIO, RANDALL IN RETURN GO

May, which means that Promoter Flynn plans three more shows after tomorrow night's affair before closing down because of the warm weather.

Matchmaker Jules Beck, of the Meyers Brothers' Bowl, North Braddock, has closed for the semi-final of his opening show, one week from next Monday night. It will bring together Buck McTiernan and Bobby Green, of Cumberland. This is not the same Bobby Green who recently lost to Phil Scello at McKeesport. Benny Bass is in the windup against Steve Smith, of Bridgeport, Conn., who added to his impressive record by giving Kid Chocolate a hard fight at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Tuesday night.

ROCCO MAKES GOOD

A few seasons ago, at Motor Square Garden, Emmett Rocco, young Italian heavyweight, of Ellwood City, knocked out a sparring partner of Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, in the semi-final to a battle between Risko and Sandy Seifert, local heavy. After looking at Risko, he made the crack that he would beat Risko, too, some day. He made good at Cleveland, Tuesday night, when he upset the dope by beating the erstwhile rubber man of the ring by the official decision route, and after Risko recently had flashed a return to his best form by beating Otto Von Porat.

Matchmaker Goodridge, of the Washington (Pa.) Gardens, made a ten-strike when he landed a return battle between Ray Newton and Tony Herrera for next Monday night, to take the place of the Newton-Tommy Crawley match, which fell through. Newton is a favorite at Little Washington and readily accepted the offer to meet Herrera again to get a chance to even up for the knockout defeat handed him by the Mexican at New Castle last Monday night.

Amateur boxing bouts under the auspices of the Beltzhoover Baseball Club are scheduled for tonight in Liederkranz Hall, Beltzhoover.

MASON BACK IN HOSPITAL

It is unlikely that James (Red) Mason will be able to second Dominick Profio against Tiger Joe Randall tonight, as he had planned. He left Mercy Hospital Tuesday following his nose operation and contracted a cold and now is back in the hospital for treatment.

Young Rudy, of Charleroi, Mason's lightweight, has been matched for an eight-round return main bout with Rudy Thomas, of Detroit, at Salem, O., May 24. Bobby Burns, of Swissvale, will meet Jimmy Engele, of Youngstown, in the eight-round semi-final.

Young Saylor, of Charleroi, and Allen Beatty, of McKeesport, have been matched to box the 10-round main bout of the first of a series of professional mitt shows in Uniontown next Wednesday night. J. W. Wood is the promoter and will put on the bouts for the present in the West End Theater and later move outdoors.

League Star

GEORGE DIETZ

Dietz is primed to pitch for the Equitable Gas Company nine against the Duquesne Light Company in the opening game of the Philadelphia Company League's third season, at Mellon Field, East End, next Tuesday evening. Harry Beatty is expected to oppose him in a mound duel.

Tener to Discuss Sandlot Tourney

John K. Tener, former president of the National League and Governor of Pennsylvania, will be in Pittsburgh tomorrow to discuss plans with American Legion officials for the second annual junior baseball tournament. Tener recently accepted an invitation to serve as high commissioner of American Legion junior baseball activities in Pennsylvania.

Tener is coming to Pittsburgh for a conference with Ben H. Griffen, chairman of the American Legion state athletic department.

Cumberland Star Arrives Late, Loses Job

CUMBERLAND, Md., May 9.—Steve Cozington, former Charleroi star, who had wired acceptance of terms with Cumberland Colts, Middle Atlantic League, last week, arrived here last night to find himself out of a job. He started in his automobile from Milwaukee for Cumberland, but was delayed by breakdowns and in the meantime no word came from him.

It was assumed he would not appear and George Durning, outfielder, was obtained on option from Scottdale. He arrived here yesterday just before Cozington got in. An effort will be made to land Cozington in the Blue Ridge League.

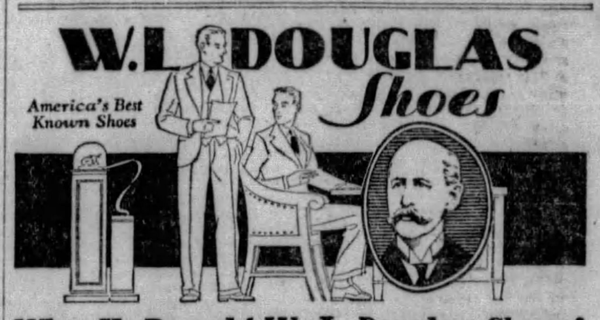
W. L. DOUGLAS Shoes

America's Best Known Shoes



Why He Bought W. L. Douglas Shoes!

He told the clerk in one of our stores that nowhere had he found such values as he saw in our store windows. Yes, other people had shown him shoes of style and quality — but at much higher prices. This customer realized there is a saving of $1 to $3 per pair on any of the many styles offered in our stores.

It's Perfectly True...

no matter how much money a man has, he is glad to save, and does when he buys W. L. Douglas Shoes; and he gets styles created by experts of long experience—shoes made of the finest imported and domestic leathers, smart lasts, with that famous W. L. Douglas built-in quality assuring comfort and long wear.

A typical W. L. Douglas value for Spring. Smartly styled oxford of high grade black or rich tan calfskin.

Men's $5, $6, $7 & $8
Specials $5.50, $6.50, $7.50 & $8.50

Women's $5, $6 & $7
Boys' & Girls' $3.50, $4 & $4.50

The reason W. L. Douglas shoes are such remarkable values is due to economies made possible by manufacturing in our own factories *nearly 2,000,000 pairs of shoes annually and selling

Prosperity of City Depends On Citizens.

By B. C. FORBES

WHETHER a city is prosperous or not prosperous depends most often on its own citizens and particularly on their public spiritedness. Experience has taught me to expect to find a lot of whiners and knockers in a city that is not going forward. Men without either the will or the energy to do disinterested things for the benefit their community. In the happy, progressive, up-and-doing city you commonly find a great deal of civic pride and a generous number of men working enthusiastically and unselfishly to push the city ahead.

In Syracuse the other day I had the pleasure of attending one of the most remarkable of gatherings. Of 80 men invited to get up at a sufficiently early hour in the morning to enable them to attend a 7:45 breakfast, no fewer than 75 showed up, and the host, Harvey D. Burrill, publisher of the Syracuse Journal, explained that the other five were not there because they were out of town.

Would your city match this? My guess is that few cities would.

These 75 leading citizens were not animated by any selfish motive; there was nothing in it for them, as the saying goes. They were prompted solely by a desire to show courtesy and to give any information they might be asked to give concerning that phase of the city's activities with which they were most familiar.

One hears much—and justly so—about the cordiality of the West and the hospitality of the South. But this happened in an industrial city in the geographical center of New York state.

In the evening 500 attended the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce and 150 had to be turned away because the fire authorities would not allow another person into the dining hall.

IT WAS not astonishing to learn that this city is steadily going forward and that it is today enjoying a measure of prosperity never before equalled.

Imposing buildings are rising up. Established factories are being expanded and new ones are being attracted. Syracuse has a hotel which would do credit to New York. An ambitious new civic center is being planned also a wonderful improvement scheme to transform Onondaga Lake into a veritable paradise, with all kinds of recreational and amusement facilities, parkways and a broad boulevard encircling the whole.

VISITING one of the city's most recently acquired industrial plants, beautifully located and scrupulously maintained, I asked its head, Merton L. Emerson, why he chose Syracuse, and here is the gist of his reply:

"Lamson came to Syracuse from Massachusetts nearly six years ago bringing with it probably 1,000 men, women and children. Lamson does a world business in pneumatic tubes, cash-carrying systems and highly specialized types of package conveying equipment.

"Established in 1880, it outgrew its land area. A new site was necessary. The Lamson directors decided that a new plant should have sufficient land, cheap power, a good labor supply, economical and swift transportation of raw materials, as well as nearness to points of distribution.

"The results of its original survey have been justified. Adjacent to the De Witt yards of the New York Central, we have an exceptional advantage when time and cost of distribution are all important. Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland are within one night's train ride from our general offices.

"The labor market is good and diversified, the power cost is fair, the city is progressive but not radical. The city government, the Chamber of Commerce and all civic organizations are considerate and helpful, the citizens are good neighbors in the truest sense of the word. Lamson is proud to have Syracuse stamped on its products."

CHARLES H. HOWE relates this incident as a sidelight on Syracuse's wealth of mechanical and industrial skill. Several years ago he fell into conversation, in the Adirondacks, with an engineer responsibly connected with the ordnance department at Washington who told him:

"Since the war, our department has been very ambitious to create certain types of heavy ordnance, and in order to complete the program opened up four centers in Peoria (Ill.), Detroit, Cleveland and Syracuse. You can tell anyone that Syracuse is the only city in America where our department can devise, plan and complete a program of construction without having to send to an adjoining city for some individual part."

IF YOUR city isn't what it would like to be, suppose you ask yourself whether you are doing everything within your power to improve it. Charity is not the only thing that should begin at home.

Connellsville Coke Production Gains

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 9.—(INS.)—Coke production for the week ending May 4, reached the highest point since the middle of June, 1927, a total of 94,250 tons being reported, a gain of 14,909 tons over the previous week, the International News Service weekly survey today revealed. There was a net gain of 384 in the number of ovens in blast, while nearly 200 that had been banked were again producing.

Prices of coke remain unchanged but there is reported to be a better tone to the market with regard to furnace coke. Prices quoted are $2.75 to $2.85 for furnace and $4 to $4.50 for foundry.

STOCKS JUMPY OVER CREDIT SITUATION

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Extreme nervousness over the credit situation was reflected in the highly irregular movement of prices in today's stock market. Prices started upward at the opening, turned sharply reactionary before mid-day and then made irregular recovery. Much of the day's selling is believed to have been inspired by the cautionary advices of some of the large commission houses, which suggested the possibility of a large increase in brokers' loans and a higher rediscount rate.

The mid-day selling movement was checked by the reduction in call money from 14 to 12 per cent, the first change in three days. Wall Street has been looking for easier money all week with the return to the banks of the May 1 disbursements. New York bankers have hesitated to provide the market with additional funds by taking advantage of the rediscount privilege, and out-of-town banks have sent little money here, probably because of increased local demands due to the recent sharp drop in the prices of some of the basic commodities.

TRADERS MARK TIME

Except for the increase in the annual dividend on U. S. Realty from $4 to $5, and the publication of another series of favorable earnings statements, there was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement. Professional traders seemed inclined to await the outcome of today's Federal Reserve meeting before extending their commitments, and small traders were scared by the continued high money rates which involve heavy carrying charges on marginal accounts.

High priced specialties for which there is a thin market were the hardest hit. Case Threshing broke 12 points, Union Carbide 8½, United Dyewood 6¼, Montgomery-Ward and Johns Manville 4¾ each and United States Industrial Alcohol, Bethlehem Steel and probably two score others dropped 2 to 4 points. These issues were slow in showing any signs of recovery. On the other hand, Radio, which dropped 3⅝ points, quickly rallied 3 points. General Electric snapped back from 252½ to 260. United Aircraft from 150¾ to 155½. International Telephone from 269¾ to 273, Columbia Carbon from 258 to 261 and Murray Corporation from 93⅝ to 98.

Utilities were in the forefront of the early afternoon rally. American Power and Light quickly moving up more than 3 points and American and Foreign Power 1¼. United Corporation dipped from an early high of 67⅝ to 66⅛ and then rebounded to around the high.

RAILS DROP

Rails failed to make much response to the excellent current earnings and traffic reports. Lackawanna and St. Louis Southwestern sank to new low levels for the year. Jersey Central dropped 6 points and Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific 3 each. Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis rallied 5 points.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, May 9.—Wheat underwent a sharp early break in price here today despite upturns at the start. Liverpool wheat quotations were higher than expected, but new buying support here was thin and selling pressure broadened out, especially from sources east. Starting at ⅛ to 1⅛ advance, Chicago wheat later showed about 2½ drop. Corn and oats also developed weakness, with corn opening unchanged to ⅜@¾ up, and subsequently showing declines. Provisions were easy.

On today's downward swing of the wheat market, new low price records for the season were reached notably on July and September deliveries. Sellers put stress on assertions that European markets had turned downgrade with every cut in transportation costs on this side of the Atlantic, and that wheat taken abroad had been mostly from Canada or Argentina. It was contended that the United States wheat surplus was still intact, and that the problem of disposing of it was no nearer solution than when values were 20 cents higher.

Much notice also was taken here of reports of British origin predicting one of the greatest wheat price slumps of recent times. In this connection it was asserted Liverpool port authorities were considering sanction of emergency warehouse space, that present Liverpool stocks were greater than any time since the war, and that additional huge amounts were pouring in, especially from Canada and from Argentina.

Chain Stores Put Into Bankruptcy

HARRISBURG, May 9.—(AP.)—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed late yesterday with the Federal District Court here against Whitenight's, Inc., distributors of electric washing machines and other appliances, with headquarters in Wilkes-Barre.

The company, which operates 22 stores in the central and eastern part of the state, was claimed to be insolvent by the petitioning creditors, J. Henry Pool, Inc.; Tomberg Electric Supply Company and the American Auto Accessory Stores. Total liabilities amount to $1,378,920, Robert J. Doran, Wilkes-Barre attorney, who presented the petition, said. There was no mention of the total assets.

Union Carbide and Carbon.

Discovery of new chemical products and new uses for old ones by the Union Carbide and Carbon Company, the General Motors of chemical companies, has been followed by a $68 jump in the common stock since the first of the year. The common, which is now selling at record high levels, changed hands at $196.50 on January 7, but last November it got up to $209. The low price for 1928 was $136.12½. The stock crossed $100 for the first time in 1926, but the low for that year was $77.50. In 1927 the high price was $154.50 and the low $98.75. Prior to 1926 the stock was traded in only on the Chicago Stock Exchange, where in 1919 it ranged from $55 to $85.75. From 1920 to the initial trading on the New York Stock Exchange in 1926 the prices fluctuated between $44.50 and $80.75. The advance since January 7 has brought a profit of $186,456,000 on the company's 2,742,000 shares outstanding at the turn of the year. This stock was split on April 16, three shares for one. At the current market price for the new stock the company ranks as a $717,718,000 concern. The old common is selling at approximately 25 times earnings, based on the $2.62 a share earnings reported for the first quarter of the year. Brokerage houses report buying by investment interests.

Cotton Bills Reintroduced.

Companion bills for the prevention and removal of obstructions and burdens upon interstate commerce in cotton by regulating transactions on the cotton futures exchanges, have been reintroduced in the House and Senate by Representative Vinson, of Georgia, and Senator Connelly, of Texas. An identical bill was passed by the House last session but failed in the Senate. The measures provide that the cotton exchanges shall operate under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture, and before any exchange can be granted permission to do business, it must assure the secretary of agriculture that rules and regulations will be adopted preventing the manipulating, straddling and cornering of the market which is to the detriment of the producer and consumer. The basis of the supervision is identical with the grain futures law governing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade in grain. It also gives the secretary of agriculture the right to suspend any member of the exchange, when the market is being manipulated. It provides that the government shall at all times have close scrutiny over all transactions of the exchange. Early consideration of the measures will be asked of House and Senate committees.

International Paper.

International Paper showed a deficit of $4,706,000 last year, but this should not discourage shareholders. International Paper has been doing big things in the way of power development over the past few years. It has also expanded its business through acquisitions and in other ways. Over the next few years benefits from these large expenditures will begin to be reflected in earnings, and there should be a different showing. What International Paper has done in the way of expansion is reflected in gross sales of $92,872,000 last year, compared with $51,379,000 in 1925. Its total resources in that year were $148,585,000, compared with $383,365,000 at the close of last year. Capitalization of International Paper, including stocks and bonds, now totals nearly $320,000,000. In 1925 capitalization was slightly in excess of $107,000,000. International Paper has grown into a very big company and is no longer dependent on newsprint profits. Its big money will be derived from its power developments.

Cigaret Production Higher.

Cigaret production in March increased more than 7 per cent over February, as shown by the Internal Revenue Bureau report. March production amounted to 8,689,510,500 cigarets, compared with 8,062,500,000 in February. Government receipts from taxes gained nearly $2,000,000, amounting from $24,195,000 in February to approximately $26,070,000 levied on the March production. Output of cigarets has increased by approximately 7 per cent each month this year. The total first quarter production amounted to 27,932,273,000 cigarets, compared with 24,371,000,000 in the corresponding three months of last year, the increase being generally attributed to improved methods of blending and toasting, and to women smoking as an aid in avoiding overweight.

Minneapolis-Honeywell Report.

Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company reports for the three months ended March 31 net sales of $781,558, as compared with $609,924 for the corresponding three months of 1928, an increase of 28 per cent. Sales for the first quarter of 1929 were the largest for any first quarter in the history of the company or its predecessors combined. Although the first quarter's operations represent only a relatively small proportion of the entire year's business, the increase in the first few months of 1929 and advance orders already received for later shipment indicate that 1929 will be another record year for the company.

Radiator-Manville Deal Seen.

Wall street is inclined to interpret election of Clarence M. Woolley, chairman of American Radiator Company, to the Johns-Manville board, as a step toward absorption of the latter company by American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation. Early in April Francis D. Barton, of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, were elected to the American Radiator board, and it is pointed out that the Morgan firm has been closely identified with the development of Johns-Manville for some time.

Bituminous Output Up.

Another slight increase in bituminous coal production in the week ended April 27 is noted by the National Coal Association. Output for that week was about 9,000,000 net tons compared with 8,648,000 net tons in the previous week.

DIVIDEND NEWS

National Dairy New.

National Dairy Products Company declared a quarterly dividend of 37½ cents on the common stock which will be outstanding following distribution of 100 per cent stock dividend on May 20. Prior to this, 75 cents a share quarterly was paid on the old stock. The dividend is payable July 1 to record June 3. A quarterly stock dividend of 1 per cent, declared some time ago, will also carry the above dates. Although this is the time for the regular quarterly dividends, the company states that this declaration does not necessarily place the stock on a $1.50 annual cash dividend basis.

TERMINAL COAL STILL RUNS AT LOSS

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

LOW prices for coal and restricted demand have kept the operations of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation at a loss. In the first quarter of 1929 a deficit of $96,647 was shown. No comparisons with last year can be made since the company did not publish quarterly statements over a period of nearly two years.

Although the income account still ends in red ink, the statement reflects a substantial amount of improvement in the company's operations. Losses have been shown continuously since the coal strike began on April 1, 1927. These were caused by interrupted production and the heavy expenses of carrying on the fight against the United Mine Workers of America.

DEFICITS of $893,003 in 1928 and of $953,640 in 1927 were reported after deducting all charges. In comparison with these two years the first quarter indicates that the company will not have to dip so heavily into its surplus this year. The loss of $96,647 for the three months was at the annual rate of $386,588.

Since last summer labor has not been a serious problem. The new employes who were inefficient at first have since become skilled workers. Costs have been materially reduced. The extent of this can be realized from that fact that losses have been smaller in the face of selling prices lower than during 1928.

IT IS quite likely that the company's current financial position has been helped by the first quarter's operations, in spite of the deficit. Charges for depreciation and depletion amounted to $228,484, which exceeded the loss. Before making provision for these two reserve items a net income of $131,837 was shown.

The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation has passed through its costly transition period from union to nonunion labor. Its future now depends on the condition of the coal market. It must be admitted that this outlook is not particularly bright. Competition probably is keener now than at any time in the history of the coal industry. With the union's grip broken here, most workable properties are trying to operate. The large producers of the old nonunion fields of West Virginia are also fighting to keep the markets they took from this district when producers here were compelled to pay union wages. In addition, further wage cuts have been made in the southern fields so that a spread still exists in the scales paid.

THE company operates seven mines, all of which are located close to Pittsburgh. Its holdings of Pittsburgh vein coal consist of 19,690 acres with an estimated recoverable content of 123,000,000 tons. That these reserves are ample for the continuance of operations over a long period of years can be seen from the fact that only 2,623,293 tons were mined in 1928.

In the last annual report H. T. Wilson, president of the company, in discussing the outlook, laid particular stress on the outcome of the lake cargo case as a vital factor in the organization's future. This case is still in as unsettled a state as it was last February when the report was made.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—The curb market was turned highly reactionary after a strong opening today by a 14 per cent renewal rate for call loans for the third successive day, and uneasiness over the meeting of the Federal Reserve directors, but a drop in call money to 12 per cent by early afternoon revived confidence and stimulated renewed operations for the advance. This was the first evidence of a letup in the extraordinary pressure for funds this week.

The Utilities sold rapidly lower in the wave of selling which swept the market before midday. American Superpower A and B stocks turned upward at the opening, but quickly lost their gains. Electric investors lost an early gain and dropped 5 points. United Gas Improvement lost nearly as much. Allied Power dropped more than a point, and Electric Bond and Share lost a gain of about 2 points. Northeastern Power and Penn Ohio Edison, however, held firm. United Corp., which has displayed noteworthy activity on the curb for several days, was transferred to the "big board."

Fokker was again the leader of the aviation group, mounting 4 points to a record price of 65, although rumors that Aviation Corporation and Universal were contesting for control were vigorously denied. It lost most of its gain in the wave of selling. Douglas was firm, but Sikorsky Consolidated Aircraft and Irving Air Chute were under pressure.

Industrials were extremely dull. Hayden Chemical and Gleaner Combine rose sharply to new highs in small turnovers, and United States Freight was well bought in response to optimistic earnings predictions. Gold Seal Electric and Niles Bement Pond made moderate gains. Auburn Auto was a soft spot, falling 4 points during the morning, and Checker Cab was distinctly heavy. Arcturus Tube, Rainbow Luminous and Walgreen were under moderate pressure. The Ford of Canada stocks were quiet. Oils were dull and heavy, and in the mines, Newmont dropped more than 4 points.

A new stock to make its appearance was Railway and Express, representing the new splitup stock and changed name of the American Railway Express Company. It first traded at 58⅝.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

DIXIE GAS LIFTS TOP ON GOOD DEMAND HERE

Securities on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange displayed a firm tone in the early dealings today, with Dixie Gas and Utilities scoring another new high and Arkansas moving up spiritedly.

Dixie Gas started the day at a decline of a point from last night's close, but the overnight offerings were quickly absorbed, after which the stock ran up 2 points as the strong buying of the previous session reappeared. Aside from the reported increase in earnings, the sudden development of strength in Dixie was without explanation in local trading circles. The movement started in the East yesterday and it was in demand from the same sources that was credited with the sharp upturn in the early market today. One point brought out in the discussions of the rise is that an advance in oil prices in Dixie's territory is expected, and this will divert fuel business to Dixie from companies now using the lower priced fuel oil.

The strength in Arkansas Gas was accompanied by a marked increase in volume. Several thousand shares were absorbed on a move up to above $8 a share with two local buyers taking most of the big blocks. Today's flurry in Arkansas was the first excitement in the stock since the sensational move last week when it ran up from 5 to 8 in one session, a market gain of 60 per cent for that day.

In the miscellaneous industrial section prices were steady to firm. Consolidated Ice preferred started with a gain of a full point over the last previous sale. Entrance of the City Ice and Fuel interests of Cleveland into the market here has attracted attention to the ice shares but as yet no concerted buying has taken place.

Standard Plate Glass prior preferred made up last week's loss today when it sold up to 35 after having appeared on the board earlier at 32.

W. L. E. REMOVES TERMINAL BAR

CLEVELAND, May 9.—(AP.)—Directors of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad, at a special meeting here yesterday, rescinded their action of April 26, which threatened to block completion of the $200,000,000 Union Terminals project now under construction by the Van Sweringen brothers, railroad magnates.

At the meeting last month in New York, Leonor F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, former rival of the Van Sweringens and a director of the Wheeling, initiated adoption of amendments which caused the Union Terminals Company to reject as "unacceptable" the contract by which the Wheeling was to enter the new Union Station.

Loree's colleagues on the Wheeling board said his proposals were made rather in the hope of placating the opposition of C. F. and F. E. Taplin, who have been at loggerheads with the O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringens in their extensive railroad plans.

Loree readily assented to today's rescinding order, directors of the Wheeling, said. C. F. Taplin was the lone objector present.

The Taplins still have a petition before Federal Judge Paul Jones for a restraining order halting portions of the construction which affect Wheeling property.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 9.—Cotton opened barely steady today at a decline of 3 to 10 points and sold about 6 to 10 points net lower during the early trading. July declined to 18.53c and December to 18.70c. The selling was evidently promoted by reports that fertilizer tag sales for April had been very heavy as compared with last year and by private reports of beneficial raif in Texas. Initial offerings were quite readily absorbed by covering at the decline, however, and the market was comparatively quiet with prices holding fairly steady at rallies of a few points from the lowest by the end of the first half hour. Fertilizer tag sales in the 13 southern states showed an increase of 44 per cent for April as compared with last year, according to a report published this morning, and for the December-April period are with 3.6 per cent of sales for the same period last season.

Reports of rains in eastern and central sections of the belt seemed partially to offset better weather in the southwest. Rallies from the early decline carried the market back to or a shade above yesterday's closing quotations.

July sold up to 18.63c or 10 points above the early low. Prospects for clearing weather in the East checked buying and the market was quiet, with fluctuations rather irregular, late in the morning. At midday trading was quiet, with active months about net unchanged to 3 points lower.

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

Spring Moonings

LOVERS—"Just a little bit of heaven"—and a long stretch of purgatory.

A woman's ideal man is one with a strong dominating personality, that can be wound right around her little finger.

At twenty, a man is cynical because he can't find the moon; at forty, he is sad, because he has lost all interest in hunting for the moon.

HELEN ROWLAND

To a normal woman, a black band on a handsome man's coat sleeve looks just like a call to arms.

When a man falls in love at first sight, it is not with the woman, but with her inaccessibility, the romantic setting, or the novelty of the situation. That is why he so often wakes up in the cold north light of matrimony, to find himself tied for life to a total stranger.

When it comes to discovering brilliant talents and hidden virtues in a man with a good profile or well-set shoulders, the average woman is a perfect little Christopher Columbus.

The main cause of "stepping" husbands is not so much the dare in other women's eyes as the "Don't-you-dare!" in his wife's eye.

Modernism: Hiring a man to mow the lawn and spade the garden so that father will have time to use the vibrator to take off his weight.

Apparently, the younger generation is merely trying to beat the engine to the crossing.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Choose Unpolluted Water for Bathing

BLESSED is the country boy born near an old swimming pool fed by the waters of an uncontaminated stream. City boys are far less fortunate. They must do their swimming in waters filled with sewage and germs of disease.

DR. COPELAND

I am led to these observations by reason of an article I saw in the newspaper. It was an interview with the director of health education of New York City's department of health. He was bemoaning the fact that the harbor waters about New York are badly polluted.

"Each year, with the advent of bathing," he said, "come new cases of eye and ear afflictions, skin troubles, and worst of all, new typhoid fever cases. Since 1922 and up to the close of 1928, almost 500 cases of typhoid in this city were traced to bathing beaches, beaches proscribed by the department, in which bathers ignored our warning."

It is too bad that so little attention is given by many persons to the dangers of contaminated waters. Not only are they willing to bathe in these waters, but travelers into the country frequently drink from springs and streams without knowing anything about the purity of the water. In this connection I quote again from the newspaper article about disease in New York City. "And of the 3,448 other typhoid cases, the infection of which was not traceable, there is little doubt that many of them came from bathing in polluted waters."

With the beginning of the bathing season I hope everybody will give heed to the importance of selecting safe places for swimming. It is a dangerous thing to jump into an unknown and unexplored pool. There may be treacherous depts, snags of trees, or submerged rocks. Unless counsel can be taken of somebody familiar with this proposed bathing pool, it should be carefully explored before any dives are taken into the water.

But far more dangerous than the things I have just mentioned, are the possibilities of the presence of germs in the water. To get them into your system may bring severe illness and even death.

I am glad that many states and municipalities have passed laws prohibiting the reckless contamination of the water supplies. The other day I saw a man almost frothing from anger because he was not permitted to establish a hazardous industry on the bank of a noble stream, the waters of which were used for drinking purposes by a nearby city. It was a wise law that prevented such an action.

Bathing and swimming are desirable from the standpoint of health. But I beg of you not to go into the water unless you know it is free from contamination.

Answers to Health Queries

O. N. Q.—What can be done for varicose veins?

A.—If the varicose veins are slight, bandaging or wearing an elastic stocking is often effective, but in most cases surgical procedure is necessary.

J. C. Q.—What causes head noises?

A.—Head noises are very often due to nasal catarrh which has extended to the middle ear. The underlying catarrhal condition must be corrected.

K. L. M. Q.—Would it be possible for a person in the late twenties to contract cancer by taking care of a parent who had one?

A.—Although the cause of cancer is not definitely known, it is considered to be non-transmittable.

Mrs. L. T. Q.—What should a woman aged 45, 5 feet 4½ inches tall weigh?

2.—What is my normal blood pressure?

A.—You should weigh about 141 pounds.

2.—About 140.

* * *

MRS. M. S. Q.—What is the difference between thyroid gland and goiter?

GARDEN GIRLS

Drawn By Dorothy Flack

YES, both of them are garden girls, only how different! One actually loves the garden to the extent that she tends it and loves it and carefully watches each tiny shoot as it bashfully comes through the earth into the warm rays of the sun. And she knows each and every plant there, for hasn't she planted them with her own hands and loved the work of keeping the garden beautifully cared for until it's a glowing mass of loveliness?

But the other! She, too, loves a garden, but only as a background for her beautiful self. Someone else tends to all the beauty of the garden, that it may form a fitting frame for her. Not for her the grubby work of digging in the earth and tending the plants. No, indeed! Her dainty hands couldn't possibly be soiled by such labor!

If you had your choice, which one would you choose? I'm sure I know, and it would be a wise choice, too. One is self-sacrificing, loving, caring. The other, selfish, vain and, if I must say so, lazy.

So it's easy to see which one Love will find first. Naturally there are some who love the cold, selfish beauty, but they soon tire, for beauty alone eventually palls, and Love seeks something deeper than mere beauty of face. Beauty of heart and soul are the real beauty which make the happiness. So watch carefully and see which one of the garden girls you want to be like.

Correct Manners

"Ensemble Card"

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When one wishes to send greeting cards to a family and use just the one card, which is correct: Mr. John Smith or Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and children? If the card is sent to Mr. John Smith, how can Mrs. John Smith know the greetings were intended for her also? You will settle a dispute if you will please tell me which is correct.

INTERESTED READER.

WHEN a card of this kind must do a more-than-double duty, it is best for us to plan the way that we space the envelope so that, as far as possible, the listings will be separate. In this way, each person will get as much of the honor of being sent the card as it is possible to give in an "ensemble" card. For instance:

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Smith,
Miss Mary Smith,
Miss Faith Smith,
Master George Smith,
5 Home Terrace,
Seattle,
Washington.

This may seem long to you—I must admit that it is long—but it is far better than writing the indefinite form, "and children."

Proper Response

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

May I ask if it is proper to make a reply when another person says, "Pardon me" or "Excuse me, please?" If so, what is the correct phrase to use? G. B.

OFTEN a smile is enough—if it is a gracious smile, not the inconsequential, half-smile that some people "turn on" for this occasion. Or a smile and a gracious "Yes." Or, best of all in my judgment, "That's quite all right."

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

Madge and Katherine Prepare to Put 'Scheme' in Operation

KATHERINE'S anxiety to get back into the living room and watch the dancers was no greater than my own, and we hurried through our cutting and marking of the cards which should match the supper partners and gave a final inspection to the buffet meal we had prepared.

"It's as attractive a table as I ever saw," she said. "Against the background of this kitchen it is especially effective. Isn't it lucky Katie loves flowers 'to work mit'?"

The smiling assent I gave had a bit of tenderness in it, for my little maid's love for my flower garden and her care of the blossoms always have been a strong bond between us. From the first crocus to the last chrysanthemum the rooms are always filled with flowers, and Katie always has large vases of them in the kitchen. This particular evening she had a riot of asters and zinnias and from them I was able to select tints of orange and bronze and gold with a touch of lavender for contrast, which made a charming center-piece for the buffet supper table.

We slipped quietly into the corner of the living room, near the door, where we had arranged a table for the bowl of fruit punch. We filled up the sadly depleted punch bowl from the pitcher we carried, exchanged the used glasses for fresh ones and settled down to watch the dancers, who, having finished the "Paul Jones," were waltzing again.

"We wouldn't need those cards if we could only call 'Keep your partners for supper,'" Katherine whispered, and I saw that they indeed were paired as we had planned in order to minimize the danger of a scene threatened by the emotional tension hidden beneath the conventional mask of some of our guests.

Prince Georges and Princess Olina, Charles Owen and Mary, Noel and Carolyn, Ronald and Marion—all were dancing as if they had not a thought beyond the pleasure of the moment, yet I knew that five of them were near the explosive point with their emotions. There were but three happy, carefree faces. Carolyn, an elfish, deliciously pretty sprite, was patently wild with delight at this unexpected chance for a "party," that acme of schoolgirl desires, while Marion and Ronald were so happily absorbed in each other that they might have been alone in the room for all either knew of their surroundings.

"Look at those two faces!" Katherine whispered. "Lillian would better watch out. An early infatuation like that sometimes leads to an engagement and marriage, you know, and with Carolyn as Marion's roommate this year, Ronald is likely to be very much in the offing."

"I know," I said worriedly, then, with the eternally alive feminine tendency for romantic planning, began to push obojections out of the way.

"It isn't as bad as if Ronald had Sam Brixton's blood in his veins," I said. "Lillian couldn't have stood that, and we couldn't blame her. But there couldn't be a sweeter or more high-minded woman than Helena Brixton. The father was a rotter, I believe, though I am not sure that Lillian told me so, outright. But I received that impression from somewhere."

"Well, for that matter, so was Marion's, you know," Katherine said bluntly, "yet you'd be very angry with Helena Brixton if she disapproved her son's attentions to Marion on that account."

I nodded absently, for I was watching the other dancers, reading beneath their carefully masked faces the widely different but equally strong emotions which were swaying them.

"Well," rallied Katherine, after matching my silence for a minute or two, "is the mind-reading stunt nearly finished? If not, you'd better hurry, for that dance record's coming to an end, and then it will be high time to serve supper."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, May 10

DESPITE certain trifling worries and friction or irritabilities, this should be a day of excellent and possibly unforseen advantages. There is augury for gains and progress in unexpected ways possibly through entirely new and suddenly presented opportunities, through speculation or by new agreements. Business should expand, finances enlarge and probably encounter some singular or subtle phases, but these are not attended by hazard. The mind will be keen to advantages.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a very active and interesting year, with most things flourishing. Business and money will increase, either by sudden openings, by speculation, or some peculiar or unorthodox circumstance.

The mind will be found singularly equipped to grasp any unique situation.

A child born on this day may have many fine mental endowments for meeting unusual opportunities and advantages in life. It will be versatile and original, ambitious and perhaps unusual in many respects.

Protect her from diseases

PRESENT-DAY methods of dental hygiene have performed a great service to children. For decayed teeth have an important bearing upon the spread of contagious diseases. And children who practice proper mouth hygiene are remarkably free of them.

The introduction of Squibb's Dental Cream has contributed much toward this. Squibb's contains more than 50% Squibb's Milk of Magnesia. Thus it neutralizes acids at The Danger Line. Cleans beautifully and cannot harm the most delicate gum-tissues because it contains no grit. 40c a large tube.

NORGE "Wears In" ! "Not Out"

BETTER housekeepers are now demanding finer service from their electric refrigerators.

In addition to constant automatic cold to guard perishable food and the family health, they require economy, quietness and long life.

Norge's ability to fulfill these requirements in full measure, is the reason for the growing national preference for Norge. Its record is enviable .... its performance even better than you dare expect.

Norge's amazing value—its silent, lifetime service—its reliability year after year, are the inevitable result of Norge's exclusive rotary construction, which compensates for its own wear. It "wears in"... does not "wear out."

WHAT'S ON THE AIR: CULLEN LANDIS TO BROADCAST

'HELEN OF TROY,' MUSICAL PLAYLET, KDKA FEATURE

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor.

CULLEN LANDIS, movie star, who is playing at the Harris Theater this week on his way to Hollywood to make a "talkie," will speak to the radio audience tonight over WJAS at 11 o'clock, inaugurating a new Thursday night feature from this station to be known as "Harris Hylites." A few months ago Mr. Landis made his first appearance before a microphone in Pittsburgh. He was bashful and modest then, but now that he is on his way to face both the Klieg lights and the "mikes" on the Pacific Coast, we presume he will have more than a few words of greeting.

Cullen Landis.

"Helen of Troy is good copy anytime, but KDKA goes just a little farther tonight at 7:30 in presenting a musical playlet of her little affair with Paris.

"HELEN OF TROY."

Helen of Troy, that much-discussed heroine of antiquity, will be portrayed as the hostess at a farewell dinner given on the evening of the departure of her husband, Menelaus, to defend Laconia against the Arcadian invasions. The prepossessing Paris, who is not above making love to his host's beautiful wife, is one of the central figures of the dinner entertainment, which is carried through in typically Grecian manner. His clever carrying-off of the enamored but faithfully protesting Helen a few weeks after the departure of her husband makes a good climax for the story.

The episode will be presented by the KDKA After-Dinner Players, directed by Jane Ellen Ball, and appropriate music will be interpolated by members of the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra, directed by Victor Saudek.

ROMANTIC GYPSY TALE.

A gypsy tale, with all its romance and color, will furnish the dramatic entertainment tonight.

The background of Arabesque is built around the attempts of Myra Loring, English actress, and her company, to entertain her captor Sir Achmed with drama of various kinds. Sir Achmed has found a gypsy girl named Zuweida in the Cafe Fatima, and Myra Loring by chance hears the real story of Zuweida's life and identity. She writes a play about Zuweida.

JOIN A CIRCUS.

Two famous radio comedians, Phil Cook and Vic Fleming, play the parts of the ill-starred three-a-day hoofers, "Buck" and "Wing."

The first of the new series left the two "hams" stranded in a small town, after they were fired by the manager of the local theater. Tonight finds them in a small traveling circus, to which they have attached themselves as clowns and men-of-all-work.

D.A.R. PLANNING BENEFIT SHOW AT PITT

Members of the tree planting committee of Pittsburgh Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold a benefit performance at the Pitt Theater, Tuesday night, at which time the George Sharp Players will present "The Great Necker." The funds raised will be used to provide a memorial for Pittsburgh women who died while serving their country during the World War.

The committee members plan to erect a memorial at the new Negley avenue entrance to Highland Park. Trees will be planted at the park entrance and a fitting memorial provided. Mrs. Cooke Bausman is chairman of the committee.

Other women who are serving on the committee are Mrs. Biddle Arthurs, Mrs. Helen Bygate Brooks, Mrs. Roscoe Brown, Mrs. Frederick C. Buckmaster, Mrs. Walter Chess, Mrs. Yolande Marchand, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Mrs. Raymond R. McVicar, Mrs. Charles M. Reppert, Mrs. William J. Powell, Mrs. Alan Chandler, Mrs. M. D. Kirk and Mrs. John C. Sherriff.

2-WEEK SESSION AT PITT

A special two-week session, offering work in all the undergraduate schools, will be held at the University of Pittsburgh June 17 to June 28, after the regular winter session has ended, Director F. W. Shockley announced today.

Each student will be permitted to enroll in a single two credit course. The special session is conducted for students who are unable to attend the longer summer session and for those who desire to combine it with the regular six-week summer studies.

Dr. McKee Heads Co-Operative Club

Dr. Carl E. McKee, a member of the Board of Public Education, was installed as president of the Co-Operative Club of Pittsburgh at a luncheon in the Fort Pitt Hotel yesterday. Frank Wesley, A. L. Linderman and J. R. Pitcairn were installed as first, second and third vice presidents, respectively. L. R. Simcoke is secretary and W. P. Ortale treasurer.

Which is stealing away your beauty?

1. Large Pores
2. Chapped Skin
3. Blemishes
4. Oiliness
5. Roughness

WHICH of these common skin faults keeps your skin from being smooth and lovely? Heal it away—and you will marvel at the new beauty of your complexion.

Get Noxzema, the medicated skin cream nurses and beauty specialists recommend and nearly 4,000,000 women use. Smooths a little on every time before powdering—massage it into your skin at night. Then watch blemishes vanish—large pores shrink—your skin become smoother, finer, clearer, lovelier every day. Get a small jar of Noxzema at any drug or department store today.

MADE WONDERFUL CHANGE IN SON

Pittsburgh Mother Says Ten Herbs Ended His Stomach, Liver and Bowel Disorders.

For more than a year, Ten Herbs, the celebrated natural medicine, has been a tremendous success throughout this section, because of the amazing relief it has given sufferers from disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The remarkable power of Ten Herbs is due to its ten wonderful herbal ingredients, which have a cleansing, soothing, correcting action on the whole system. Persons having health troubles owe it to themselves to learn more about this popular preparation by calling at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, where it is being introduced.

MRS. BENJAMIN SCHELL

"Ten Herbs certainly made a wonderful change in the health of my son, Louis, who is 23 years old," said Mrs. Benjamin Schell, 1459 Isolene Street, Corliss Station, Pittsburgh. "It ended his health troubles and has made him feel better in every way. For the past year his health had been failing. Food did not digest properly, but would sour and ferment in his stomach. He belched a sour acid and particles of food. So much gas would form that he could hardly get his breath, and on several occasions this condition alarmed me. He was troubled with constipation, and this caused him to become bilious and have terrible headaches—sometimes he would have to go to bed. He did not sleep well, and I feared he was on the verge of having a nervous breakdown. Although he underwent several different treatments, he kept getting worse.

"Since taking Ten Herbs his appetite is better and he is free of stomach trouble—no more gas or shortness of breath. Constipation and biliousness have been ended, and he is rid of those terrible headaches. His nerves are quiet, and he sleeps like a child. His eyes are brighter, and he has more energy and ambition. We gladly recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at May's May Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, and is sold at all May's Drug Stores.

GOOD WILL TOUR TO REACH 13 CITIES

The Pittsburgh businessmen who participate in the Chamber of Commerce's Good Will Tour will travel over three railroads during their visits to 13 Pennsylvania cities. The special train carrying the local men will travel over the Pennsylvania, the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh and the Erie railroads. The tourists will leave Pittsburgh early Tuesday, May 21, and return late May 24. The trip covers 611 miles.

Though the travelers will be absent from Pittsburgh four days and three nights, the actual running time of the special will be but 22 hours and 25 minutes, official receptions, business and night stops using up the bulk of the time. The longest continuous run will be from Oil City to Erie, a distance of 80 miles. The shortest run will be between Franklin and Oil City, less than 10 miles.

Harris Discusses Vote Machine Bill

State Senator Frank J. Harris, author of the voting machine bill which will be voted upon by citizens of Allegheny County this fall, reviewed the history of the legislation before members of the Typothetae, master printers' organization of Pittsburgh, at their weekly luncheon yesterday at Gimbel's. Senator Harris praised the co-operation advocates of the voting machine had received from the Republican organization of Pennsylvania and the Commissioners of Allegheny County.

MAN, 80, ILL FOR FIVE YEARS; THEN KONJOLA SCORED

Used Famous Medicine Five Days and Was Improved—Short Treatment Made Him Well Again

One of the interesting—and certainly valuable properties of Konjola, the new and different medicine, is the way it performs when pitted against the obstinate cases of long standing; ills that held on and on, with bulldog tenacity, as all other medicines tried brought failure.

MR. J. W. SIMPSON

How Konjola does such things—how its victories are reported day by day are possible—is being explained daily by the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh. His mission it not primarily to sell Konjola, but, as man to man, as friend to friend, to tell just how this amazing medicine works, its seeming wonders to perform. First, he will explain how Konjola's 32 ingredients—22 of them the juices of roots and herbs—go after the cause of the ailment. Then he will tell how poisons and impurities are swept from the body; how organs are cleansed and stimulated; how room is made for the return of health. Learn from him of the happiness that this master compound has brought into a suffering world. Then decide what you will do about Konjola. Is not the experience of Mr. J. W. Simpson, R. D. No. 2, Gibsonia, Pa., a short distance from Pittsburgh, encouraging to all who suffer? Read what he said to the Konjola Man a few days ago:

"Although I am eighty years old, Konjola brought back glorious health after I had suffered for many years from stomach trouble of the worst form. I was at a loss to know what to do for myself when I started the treatment. My stomach was so disordered that after every meal the food fermented in my stomach and bloated me terribly. It felt just as if a rock had lodged in my stomach. Sharp pains shot across the lower part of my stomach and kept getting worse every day. My appetite left me entirely and what I did eat failed to nourish me properly. My whole system was rundown and none of the medicines I tried helped me a particle.

"I was on the verge of giving up and resigning myself to a lifetime of suffering, when Konjola was recommended. How happy I am that I took this advice, for Konjola put an end to the misery, even at my age. Why, within five days I improved—the relief was most remarkable. Just as I was told it would do, this new medicine attacked my troubles at their source. Quickly the indigestion vanished, and as the poisons were swept away I felt better all over. The gas bloating has disappeared and I never have any more pains. I feel stronger and more energetic and know the relief is lasting. It is a well and happy man that pays this tribute to Konjola."

So it goes, wherever Konjola is given a chance to prove its worth. It means much for sufferers to know that three carloads of Konjola were sold in three weeks in one city. A medicine has to be a real medicine to make a record like that.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Former Craigie McKay And Husband Return From Honeymoon

WHERE is this warm May sun we hear so much about? There's sunshine these days, of course, but it's a rather cold-blooded sort and doesn't do much toward tempering the chilly wind. Some compensation is offered, though, by thoughts of the interesting events in store for the next six weeks or so. June, especially, is a most promising month, so far as social activity is concerned, although the latter part of this month doesn't lag far behind.

So far, May hasn't proved to be a very exciting month, although the monotony has been broken by a couple of interesting weddings and a few very small social affairs. Our young folks are spending a good deal of time in short visits with out-of-town friends and in entertaining some of their former schoolmates in their own homes.

Here's a bit of news, however, that may interest you. Did you know that the former Craigie McKay and her husband, Charles Schwartz, are back in the States? They were married in New York early in March, you know, and sailed immediately for England to be there in time for the Grand National. They were in New York yesterday, having returned on the Ile de France. And I understand that Mr. Schwartz is bringing to this country the French steeplechase star, Phillistion, for American competition. I wonder if the Schwartzes won't be coming to Pittsburgh shortly to visit the J. Albert McKays.

TO return for the moment to the subject of visiting, I hear that Louise Evans, daughter of the Henry Oliver Evans, of South Negley avenue, who was a debutante last winter, is home again after going over for the Princeton house party. While she was in the East, Louise made a short visit with a friend in New York, Anne Crawford, and when she came back to Pittsburgh, she brought her hostess with her. Another girl, Priscilla Palmer, of New London, Conn., arrived yesterday to visit Louise and the two will remain here until the end of the week. A few small parties have been arranged for the visitors, I believe.

STILL another date has been added to next season's social calendar. It is January 3, which has been taken by the Henry M. Currys, of Beechwood boulevard, for a ball in the Pittsburgh Club to introduce their daughter, Elizabeth. The debutante-to-be is at present completing her second year at Wellesley College.

MRS. T. CLIFTON JENKINS, of Morewood avenue, is in New York just now and is expected to return home later in the week. She went East to visit her daughter, Elizabeth, who, by the way, posed as the Goddess of Electricity in the recent "Aztec Gold" pageant in Madison Square Garden.

WOMEN who are graduates of Vassar are going to gather together on Saturday at the Thurston School to meet the dean of the college, Miss Mildred C. Thompson. Mrs. William Booth, of Sewickley, who is president of the local Vassar alumnae association, is going to introduce Miss Thompson.

AMONG the folks out West are the Charles A. Fishers, who spent several days at the Hotel del Monte in Del Monte, Cal., last week. Mrs. John L. Porter also stopped at the Del Monte not long ago, I understand.

THE marriage of Miss Betty Walsh, daughter of Mrs. James P. Walsh, of McKee place, and Dennis John Lee, of Oakland, was solemnized yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Paul's Cathedral by the Rev. Joseph Byrne. Miss Anne Coyne was maid of honor and John P. Walsh was best man. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Dr. Charles A. Duffy. Mr. and Mrs. Lee have left for California and will make their home in Los Angeles.

THE Arnold School will hold its annual spring dance tomorrow night in the school parlors. The proceeds will be applied to the funds of the Athletic Club.

MISS MARGARET LOUISE PERSHING, daughter of Mrs. L. H. Pershing, of North Negley avenue, has selected May 30 as the date for her marriage to Datus W. Berlin, son of Mrs. Alice Berlin, of Cleveland. The ceremony will be performed that evening in the Pershing home. Miss Leonore Berlin, sister of the bridegroom, will be maid of honor and Miss Elizabeth Stewart, of Norwalk, O., bridesmaid. George E. Sheer is to be best man and David Behorst, usher. Miss Virginia Bialas, of Wallingford street, will entertain with a bridge luncheon Saturday, May 18, in her home for Miss Pershing and Miss Bertha Beck, of Lytton avenue, will entertain the bridal party at dinner that night in the Longue Vue Country Club.

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the engagement of Miss Wyona Reed, of Latrobe, to Dr. Benning Fast, of Fairchance. A June wedding is planned.

MISS LILLIAS LAING and Miss Edith C. MacLeod, of Regent Square, will entertain at tea Saturday afternoon in the former's home, in Macon avenue, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Whitmarsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Whitmarsh, of Princeton place, Swissvale, whose engagement to Earnest Craighead, of Edgewood, has been announced. An early summer wedding is planned.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. JOHN B. REED, of South Lang avenue, East End, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Edith Reed Moody, and Ellsworth D. McKnight, of Dormont, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. McKnight, of Wilkinsburg, which was solemnized Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of the Rev. G. S. Rapp, in Homewood. A dinner in the Reed home followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McKnight will be at home after June 1 in South Lang avenue.

* * *

THE Pittsburgh Alumnae Chapter of the Delta Gamma Sorority will hold a benefit bridge party Saturday in the red room of the Keystone Athletic Club, for the scholarship fund maintained by the local alumnae group. Mrs. H. B. Kirkpatrick is president of the chapter, and Miss Mary Adeline McKibben is chairman for the benefit, assisted by Mrs. J. L. McBride, Miss Martha Phillips, Miss Anne Ophelia Todd, Mrs. H. S. Tarbert and Mrs. H. E. Ramsey, Jr.

MISS AIMIE WHITEMORE is in charge of the candy booth and Miss Maisie Rintoul, of the novelty booth, for the benefit bridge party to be held Saturday in the dining room of the Roosevelt Hotel by the Kindergarten Alumnae Association. Miss Matilda Hahn is general chairman, with Miss Sarah Meanor assisting.

* * *

MRS. WILLIAM C. WALTERS, of Eastwood Farms, entertained with a bridge luncheon yesterday afternoon in her home. A musicale was given during the afternoon.

MISS MARY KINKAID, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinkaid, of Eastern avenue, Aspinwall, entertained at bridge Monday night to announce the engagement of her sister, Miss Margery Kinkaid, to Edwin V. Reckley, of Chicago, formerly of Aspinwall. The wedding will take place this month.

MIZPAH CHAPTER, No. 264, O. E. S., will hold a card party tomorrow night following its meeting in the Moose Temple. Mrs. Carrie Burkett is chairman.

Congress President New Era Club Guest

TO the New Era Club goes the distinction of being the first club to entertain Mrs. Ralph W. Johnston, new president of the Congress of Clubs. Oddly enough, Mrs. Johnston is one of only two Congress presidents who have not been members of the New Era. Mrs. John S. Sloan was the other. The club finished up its season with a luncheon in the Congress yesterday, preceding luncheon with an informal reception for the several new members. Mrs. John Howard Phillips, president, introduced the toastmistress, Mrs. Herman J. Apel. Mrs. Jo Vogel formally welcomed the new members, and there were short speeches of felicitation by the honor guests, Mrs. J. G. Chalfant, president of the Allegheny County Federation; Mrs. Johnston and her predecessor, Mrs. Carl E. Coslowsky, to whom Mrs. Apel referred as 'the junior past president." A gift was made to Mrs. John Jacobson, who was Mrs. Dora Scott Zoch, a director of the club, before her marriage in December, and who was stopping off in Pittsburgh en route from a West Indies tour to her new home in Chicago. Music was furnished by Miss Juanita Sientza, soprano, and Miss Gertrude McKenna, pianist.

Mrs. Phillips announced the club's annual forestry day next Wednesday when the members will meet for buffet luncheon at the home of Mrs. Charles S. Miller, Heberton avenue, and go from there to the Homeopathic Hospital to dedicate their newly-planted trees.

THE annual luncheon of the Pittsburgh Female College Association has been set for Wednesday at the Hotel Schenley. Mrs. T. C. Donovan and Mrs. Arthur B. Siviter will present the musical program, introducing Jean McCrory Newman, contralto, and C. Fred Newman, baritone, who will be accompanied by Mrs. James H. Greene. Mrs. P. W. Morgan will serve as toastmistress.

MEMBERS of the Mothers' Club of the Pennsylvania Chi Omicron Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, men's national social fraternity, will be guests of the men at dinner in the chapter house Sunday afternoon. The Mother's Club has just elected these officers: Mrs. Carl August Voss, president; Mrs. Frank Remaley, vice president, and Mrs. Grace Zeigler, secretary-treasurer.

A NUMBER of interesting talks are announced as the program for the first safety rally and round table conference to be held by the home safety division of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council in the Congress of Clubs Friday, May 17. Mrs. D. Edwin Miller, a home safety vice president, and chairman of the Congress department of education, will speak on "Home Safety—a Community-Wide Problem." "Electricity and Gas" will be discussed by Frank R. Phillips, a vice president of the Duquesne Light and Equitable Gas companies; Richard Lee Smith, chief of the city fire department, will have as his subject "Fire Hazards," and Dr. C. J. Steim "When Accidents Occur" as his topic. A film entitled "What Does Your Baby Put in His Mouth?" also will be an entertainment feature, and G. E. Clarkson, manager of the Safety Council, will outline "Our Program."

THE Wimodausis Club is honoring its retiring president, Mrs. H. J. Gearhart, with a luncheon in the Congress of Clubs Wednesday. For the program Mrs. Robert Warnock Hervey will sing Foster songs in costume, accompanied by Mrs. Martha Meyers Murdock; Mrs. Emily Boydston will offer piano numbers and Elmer G. Reighart, violinist, will contribute solos. Mrs. Louis W. Sperber is in charge.

ELECTION of officers will take place Monday at the annual meeting and luncheon of the Pittsburgh Colony of New England Women, which will be held at the Pittsburgh Field Club.

* * *

MRS. FREDERICK JOHNSON, former president of the Rodef Shalom Temple Sisterhood of Pittsburgh, will be guest speaker at a Mother's Day observance and tea Sunday afternoon in the Rodef Shalom Synagogue, Homestead. Miss Ablyn Foster, contralto, will sing, accompanied by Kenneth Shinn; Miss Edythe Spiegel will offer piano solos, and a playlet entitled "Cornelia's Jewels" will be given by the members of the Young Women's Hebrew Association.

* * *

OFFICERS have been elected by the Health Colony Club as follows: President (re-elected), Mrs. Robert K. Cochrane; vice presidents, Mrs. John Konle, Mrs. J. C. McDowell, Mrs. E. C. Weaver; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas S. Loring; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Louis W. Sperber; treasurer, Mrs. E. D. Harshbarger.

A WEEK-END trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls will be made Saturday and Sunday by the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Paul's Cathedral, the party stopping over at Lackawanna to visit the famous Shrine of Our Lady of Victory. Reservations are being taken by Miss Theresa Schubart and Miss Marion Walker.

AT the regular meeting of the Sheraden Parent-Teacher Association in the American Avenue School on Tuesday evening, Dr. William J. Van Essen will talk on "Conservation of the Vision and Health," illustrating his talk with a film called "Through Life's Windows." Election of officers will take place at the business session.

A MUSICALE tea will be given tomorrow afternoon by the Missionary Guild of the Point Breeze Presbyterian Church in the home of Mrs. F. F. Rohrer, Meade street. The program will be presented by Mrs. Othelia Averman Vogel, pianist; Mrs. Anna Laura Cree, soprano; Mrs. Mary Jones Sherrill, reader, and Mrs. Martha Meyers Murdock, accompanist.

THE Outlook Alliance will hold its May 16 meeting in Carnegie Institute, where annual reports will be heard, a cafeteria luncheon served and Dr. O. E. Jennings will give an illustrated talk on "Wild Flowers of Western Pennsylvania." The program has been arranged by Mrs. George Matthews and her aides, of the art committee.

MRS. J. B. KELLY will be hostess for the May meeting of the Bradford Woods Women's Club tomorrow evening and assisting her will be Mrs. T. L. Morgan, Mrs. E. E. Kehew and Mrs. N. H. Morrow. Mrs. Chauncey Lobingier will discuss "Our South American Neighbors."

COURT WESTINGHOUSE, No. 750, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold a memorial service and Mother's Day program Tuesday evening, memorializing the seven deceased members and honoring the mothers of the members.

MISS GRACE COURTNEY gave a nature talk before the Woman's Club of Ingomar at its meeting this afternoon. Mrs. J. J. Jarvis was hostess and was assisted by Mrs. George Good and Mrs. William Craig.

WOMAN ON LINER DROPS $25,000 GEMS INTO WATER

NEW YORK, May 9.—With a handbag containing $25,000 in gems, Mrs. Oscar F. Malo, of Denver, Col., stood on the promenade deck waving to friends on the pier as the Majestic docked, late yesterday, at the foot of West Nineteenth street.

Her son, Jackie, rushed forward to wave, too, and caused his mother to suddenly lower her arm.

The bag, $25,000 worth of gems and all, flashed into the river, which just then was being churned into a black mud by the Majestic's propellers and 10 straining tugboats.

Other tug boats were notified and, with two police department launches, they began trying to drag the river bottom about the scene. It was feared, however, that the current may have swept the purse to where it may never be found.

Churches Observe Ascension Day Here

Special services in Catholic and Episcopal churches today marked the observance of Ascension Day. The day is one of the festivals of the church ranking in solemnity with those of Christmas, Easter and Pentecost, and is always held 40 days after Easter, or 10 days before Whitsunday, in celebration of Christ's ascension into Heaven 40 days after the resurrection. Large crowds attended 5 o'clock mass in Pittsburgh Catholic churches today, while later services in Episcopal churches were equally well attended.

Real Estate

A 14-family efficiency apartment in Bower Hill road near West Liberty avenue, Mt. Lebanon, has been sold for Archie R. Snee, Jr., to Dr. Charles J. Barone. In part payment Dr. Barone conveyed a brick clubhouse at the northeast corner of Center and Millvale avenues. The purchaser will raze the building and use the lot for an apartment site. The deal was closed through the Real Estate Company of Pittsburgh.

The Walgreen Drug Company has leased another storeroom in the downtown district. They have taken a long term lease at an aggregate rental of more than $400,000 on a space on the first floor of a new building to be erected by the DeRoy interests at the northeast corner of Penn avenue and Seventh street. The deal was made through the United States Realty Company.

One of the oldest drug store locations in East Liberty, known as McMurrays, at Frankstown, Penn and Shady avenues, has been conveyed from Jacob I. Mendelsohn to the Mayflower Drug Stores, Inc. The transaction includes the transfer of merchandise, fixtures and a 25-year lease on the premises. The Commercial Realty Company closed the deal.

A residence at 505 South Murtland avenue has been sold for Dr. Louis O. Meckel to Dr. E. Ward Tillotson. The property had been held at $25,000. The Real Estate Company of Pittsburgh was the broker.

In Squirrel Hill, the Cullen Company sold for Emil R. Wraase to Morris A. Robins a new six-room house and garage on 38x103 feet at 5505 Phillips avenue.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has conveyed to the Union Railroad Company two tracts totaling 2.2 acres along the right-of-way of the latter road in Duquesne. The consideration was $27,105.

In the downtown district, the Pittsburgh Press Club has conveyed to the County of Allegheny 24x85 feet in Fourth avenue near Ross street for $40,000. The property will be used as part of the new site for the County Morgue.

The City of McKeesport has conveyed to Phillip Kessler 60x75 feet at the southwest corner of Locust street and Sixth avenue, McKeesport, for $28,000.

Marcus R. Baldwin has sold to the Borough of Coraopolis 55x138 feet in Fifth avenue near Mill street, Coraopolis, for $20,000.

The Freehold Real Estate Company sold for the West Liberty Improvement Company a lot in Beaufort avenue to Charles H. Julin, who has reconveyed it to William J. Renner. A house will be started at once.

(From a Scenario by Willard Mack.)

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Bobby Doyle, framed by Dapper Don Wilkes and his gang and sentenced to prison for twenty years for killing a policeman, is aided to escape from jail by his fiancee, Beebe Barrett. Beebe is assisted by Johnny the Hop, a dope fiend, who hides Bobby in a secret room in his apartment. The day after Bobby's return, Don Wilkes is visited in his apartment by an over-dressed woman, Bess, who demands money to help Mike, a member of the gang, who is laid up with a gunshot wound. Don demurs, but finally gives her the money, and after she leaves, he goes to see Beebe. He has been giving her money, telling her it is due Bobby, and is evidently in love with Beebe. He tries to get her to say where Bobby is hiding, but she refuses to tell him. Then Johnny walks in. Wilkes, in a rage, tells her that he knows that Johnny had hidden Bobby. From Beebe's he goes to Inspector Wilmot's office and tells him and Biff Myers, the detective assigned to the case, to watch Johnny if they want to know where Bobby is hidden. Biff does so, and follows him all day. Meanwhile Beebe visits Bobby, but just before she leaves him the detective arrests Johnny. Johnny is deprived of his drug and put through the third degree. He tells where Bobby is hidden, then rushes to Beebe's home and confesses to her and Don, who is visiting her, that he has "squealed." Don appears righteously indignant and warns him to leave town immediately. The police rush to Johnny's apartment and find Bobby's hiding place, only to discover that Bobby has hung himself! But Bobby, inspired by a story of the French Revolution that he had just been reading, had been "playing possum." As soon as the police, satisfied that their quarry is dead, leave, he lets himself out of the window and hides in some bushes under his window just as two policemen rushed into the yard. He overhears the police say that Wilkes had tipped them off as to his hiding place. He goes to Beebe's apartment, where he knows he can find Don, but before he can enter, Bess appears to tell Don that Mike is dying and wants to see him. As Don is about to leave, Bob enters and denounces him. Don's hand slides toward his coat pocket.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XII.

A CRY had broken from Beebe's lips. Bobby motioned to her. He seemed out of his senses, driven by one obsession.

"Lock the door, sweetheart," he said. "They're going to get me—I never had a chance anyway. But they're going to get me for something real this time."

"No, Bobby, no!" Beebe half screamed. Her mind was in chaos. She could scarcely form the words. But there came to her now in this instant of desperate need an idea, more than an idea, a wild, last hope.

"Wait!" she cried. "Who is Mike in the mob? Who is he?"

She had interposed herself between the man she loved and his enemy. Wilkes' face was cold. He had not made a gesture or uttered a word of useless defense from the moment that he realized that Bobby knew.

Bobby was frowning. "Mike?" he repeated. "There's only one Mike in the mob — Mike Parfetti. Why ask me that, now?"

"He's got a note," Beebe stammered. "A girl came in here just a few moments ago and gave it to him. It was a note from this Mike, confessing something. That's what she said. Because he's dying."

Bobby's eyes narrowed. "I begin to see. Mike Parfetti was hurt that night I was picked up charged with the cop's murder. Mike Parfetti!" He turned savagely on Wilkes. "Hand over that note!" he ordered.

Dapper Don laughed softly. "You're crazy," he sneered. "You telling me what to do! I'm going to tell you something. I'm going to croak you where you stand. Don't forget I'll be thanked for it. And don't think I'm not going to enjoy it!"

His hand came out of his pocket, and the black barrel of the automatic pointed at Bobby Doyle's heart.

Beebe flung herself in front of Bobby with a scream. But he put her one side.

"Don't be afraid," he said. "He hasn't got the nerve to shoot anyone face to face. He's only hoping to scare me till the cops come. But he's scared himself and I know it."

"I am, eh?" Don took sudden aim. Johnny stepped into the room quickly. There was a sharp report. The automatic clattered from Don's fingers. He caught at his side, groaned, and slowly sank to the floor.

"My God!" Bobby gasped. "What happened? What happened? Who did that?"

He glanced at Mary. She was lying on the couch, where she had fallen before this. Beebe was white, trembling, unable to find her voice.

There was no one else in the room. Bobby glanced towards the opened window. The next instant he heard the sound of rapid footsteps outside in the corridor. A heavy fist beat upon the door. It was kicked open.

Biff Myers, Kelley and another officer came into the room.

It was Kelley who saw the thing first. He gave an exclamation. "Dapper Don!—who pulled this?"

The other policeman was on his knees beside the racketeer. "Shot through the lungs, Chief—he's alive," he said.

"Get an ambulance," Biff ordered. "And gimme that note he has in his fingers."

The officer opened up Don's tightly clenched hand and Biff took the folded slip of paper. Kelley lifted Don by his shoulders and the other man caught his legs. They carried him out into the corridor.

"That's right," Biff directed. "When he gets to the hospital—put him under guard. Don't let anyone talk to him—understand?"

Through the opened door there came another officer. "Chief, here's a hot one," he exclaimed. "You know who we picked up right downstairs, just now?"

"No."

"Tony Malotti—he was all dolled up for an organ-grinder—he even had a monkey."

Biff listened in silence, though his eyes gleamed. For the first time he swung his gaze towards Bobby. "I knew you'd blow back here the first thing," he said. "I didn't even trouble to go lookin' for you. Now, where's the gun you shot this guy with?"

"I shot him with?" Bobby repeated. "I didn't shoot him—I didn't have a gun."

"You didn't?"

"Biff, I swear I didn't. We were standing right here when bang! goes a gat."

"Where did it come from then?"

"I tell you I don't know. Except, maybe, from the window."

"Wait a minute," said Biff Myers. "I got an idea I got a lot of things wrong." He unfolded the note he still held and glanced through it. When he looked up, he nodded. "I guess we've been wrong all along. This note clears you, Doyle, and clears you proper."

Biff Myers shook his head. "I'm beginning to understand a lot of things I didn't understand yesterday. I'm going over to see Mike. As for you two, you better keep under cover for a couple of days, till I get everything straightened out. That goes for you, too, Johnny. So long!"

The farm stood on the slope of the hills. The woods rose behind it, but all this part was cleared land. The autumn air was fresh and sweet. A man was coming slowly across the meadow towards the farmhouse.

It was an old place, but as he looked at it, the man smiled. It was his. In the falling light, it moved him in ways he could not understand.

He looked at the long shed where he kept his tools, at the rambling main building with the soft spiral of smoke climbing from the chimney top.

What a struggle it had been! What blunders he had made! But how he had come through it in the end, with experience, with more health than he had ever known, with a sense of peace that was unlike anything he had ever dreamed about. As he drew nearer a woman came to the door. She watched him without speaking. But when he was quite close, he put his arm around her, and held her. They stood together looking out across the fields.

"Better than the racket, Beebe?" the man asked.

"Better than anything, Bobby." She paused. "I had a letter from Mary this afternoon. She's coming up next week. Oh, and she wrote that Johnny is getting better."

"That's good! We'll have him up here as a farm hand yet."

She smiled at that. "Supper's ready," she said. They went into the house together.

THE END.

WILLIAM WINS By LENORE KISSELMAN STERN Daily Short Story

WILLIAM HAMPTON RHOADES, millionaire in his own right, 35, and good-looking, much sought after, a perpetual week-end guest of socially prominent people, was the shyest, most bashful young man in his set. Debs had come and gone, sub-debs had subbed themselves blue in the face trying to get a rise out of young William Hampton.

Several times had this debonaire young gentleman been forced to go abroad to avoid donning the well-known halter of matrimony. His engagement had often been announced and denied. He was the target of every ambitious and aspiring mother of daughters. Through miracles and guarded somewhat by his faculty of avoiding compromising situations, he had been materially aided in his choice of living, his life unhampered by a mate.

When Laura Faye was hired as one of the numerous stenographers in the office of the Rhoades Publishing Company, she automatically became the most beautiful member of the outfit. Her manner, her deportment, her choice of clothes soon became criterions in the office and her popularity was established over night.

Laura was the sole support of her widowed mother. It seemed uncanny to the other girls in the office who were aware of Laura's responsibility and her small salary that she should dress so well. Laura's gift of wearing clothes and her mother's nimble fingers were a rare combination, however. This little stenographer had a manner that would shame a mannequin. She was the type of blonde beauty that poets call an inspiration, that artists dream of and that men coming into the office of Rhoades Publishing Company stared at.

But she was true to her work. She was one of the few to be at her desk ahead of time and often she was obliged to walk down several flights of stairs as the elevators had stopped running for the night.

One of the directors of the firm once laughingly told Laura, "You are the proof that makes the age-old phrase: 'Beautiful but dumb' all wrong."

She was undeniably a very necessary part of the force for her dictation was more perfect than most offices can boast of. She had earned two raises within eight months.

Much to Laura's surprise and greatly disappointing to her associates, she was removed to the boss' office as his secretary, pro tem. She was thrilled with the new position, which was one of responsibility and importance. She was being well rewarded for those extra hours she had put in. She hoped she would be established as a permanent part of that office—she would make her work merit that rise.

Their relations except for a casual comment were strictly business. But much to William Hampton Rhoades' surprise, he was not altogether satisfied with that arrangement. He found himself wondering what she did when she went home. He was almost afraid the flowers she so often had on her desk were sent by a sweetheart. He neglected to take more than one afternoon off each week for golf. It gave him quite a start when he realized it was customary for him to play four days a week. The junior member of the firm walked around in a sort of daze the afternoon Miss Faye left the office early because she was ill.

He had oft been tempted to ask Laura out, but each time his shyness and that habit of caution which he had so deliberately cultivated, prevented him. One day, after he had finished giving Laura a letter, he very carefully asked, "Would I be assuming too much if I asked you to use one of these tickets for the Follies? You see, I got them from a friend who was called out of town."

Of course she would and so William called for Laura in his roadster. She was half ashamed to have him come to her tiny home. He was so used to visiting only the finest and richest families. She was almost sorry she had accepted his invitation. But here misgivings were in vain. William apparently had noticed nothing wrong with her home—it might have been a mansion so far as he was concerned. Mrs. Faye was far different from the elegantly jeweled, gorgeously gowned women he had met. In fact, he almost wished she would endeavor to make a match between her young daughter and himself. She was far superior to those other mothers. No wonder then, lovely Laura was her daughter—she was deserving of such a child.

After the couple were seated at the theater, he drew a box of fine chocolates from his coat pocket and Laura did not consider him at all assuming.

The show was a good one and so were several more they saw together on seats that Mr. Rhoades had been "presented with." Little did Laura know how carefully those tickets were ordered a week in advance and the evening planned with an exactness that was quite becoming to the young millionaire.

On the twenty-fourth of December, Laura was summoned by her buzzer to Mr. Rhoades' office.

"Laura," he asked, (he had learned to call her Laura in a rather guarded manner) "would I be assuming too much to ask you to accept a little gift?"

Of course, she did not think him at all bold or even "assuming," as he put it, and besides, it kept excellent time.

Spring came, and between shows and long rides, the two saw each other considerably outside office hours.

Laura was so marvelously happy. She admitted to herself that she was walking, breathing and living in a little world all her own. She was experiencing a bit of heaven on earth. Enough to say that the young millionaire was continually trying to do things to please Laura without assuming too much.

It was a beautiful June day when William, as they were parked under a starlit sky, quietly asked:

"Laura, dearest, I love you. Would I be assuming too much if I asked you to be my wife?"

Mrs. William Hampton Rhoades again failed to consider her William assuming and the happy pair awoke to another spring, after which was to them the shortest year of their lives.

Sitting on the edge of Laura's bed at the hospital, William asked:

"Would you think me assuming, dearest, if I suggested calling him William Hampton Rhoades, Jr.?"

And the way little William Hampton cried, the objection, if any, was his.

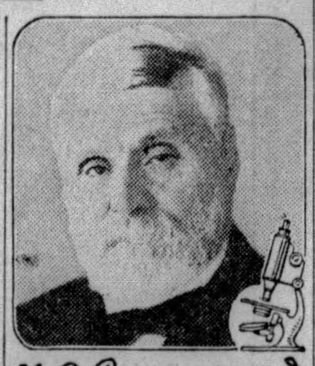
Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit-forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their systems. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person.

Get a bottle today, at any drug store, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.



W. B. Caldwell M.D.

Lots For Sale 71

"HELLO—this is Walter, Mary, Say, do you know, I've been thinking and so far as I can see, Raleigh Square is the only really desirable plot of building lots left in Carrick. The town is all built up around and this big square is left in the middle.

If we could arrange it I would like to buy several of these lots as an investment. They will be worth a lot of money before long. Think it over and I'll see you later.

"Good-bye."

See these fine USED CARS before buying

You'll do yourself an injustice to decide on any used car until you have first looked at these excellent cars. The New All-American Oakland and Big Six Pontiac have brought us no end of good automobiles in trade. We have to move them quickly! They are priced ridiculously low—lower than you would imagine.

No. 308.
AN ORDINANCE — Authorizing and directing the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City of Pittsburgh to make, execute and deliver in the name of and for the City of Pittsburgh a contract with The Transverse Passenger Railway Company, Citizens Passenger Railway Company, Citizens Traction Company, Fort Pitt Traction Company, Consolidated Traction Company, and Pittsburgh Railways Company, as parties of the first part, and the City of Pittsburgh, as party of the second part, providing for the temporary abandonment of one of the tracks of the double track street railway on Water street, between Wood street and Smithfield street, as more fully set forth and described in said agreement.
SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City of Pittsburgh be and they are hereby authorized and directed to make, execute and deliver in the name of and for the City of Pittsburgh the following contract with The Transverse Passenger Railway Company, Citizens Passenger Railway Company, Citizens Traction Company, Fort Pitt Traction Company, Consolidated Traction Company, and Pittsburgh Railways Company, providing for the temporary abandonment of one of the tracks of the double track street railway on Water street, between Wood street and Smithfield street, and affix the seal of the City of Pittsburgh thereto.
ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT
MADE and entered into this.... day of ......, A. D., 1929, by and between THE TRANSVERSE PASSENGER RAILWAY COMPANY, CITIZENS PASSENGER RAILWAY COMPANY, CITIZENS TRACTION COMPANY, FORT PITT TRACTION COMPANY, CONSOLIDAED TRACTION COMPANY, and PITTSBURGH RAILWAYS COMPANY, all corporations of the Commonwealth of Pensylvania, hereinafter referred to collectively as "Railway Companies," parties of the first part, and the CITY OF PITTSBURGH, a municipal corporation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, party of the second part.
WITNESSETH
WHEREAS—The Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, pproved on the 3rd day of May, 1905, P. L. 379, authorizes the making of contracts between cities, boroughs and townships of the one part, and street passenger railway companies and motor power companies of the other part, "to secure the removal of any street railway tracks already laid, etc." and this contract is entered into pursuant to the provisions of the said Act of Assembly; and
WHEREAS—The City of Pittsburgh, did, by ordinance approved February 19, 1881, grant unto The Transverse Passenger Railway Company the right to enter upon, use and occupy, for the purpose of their railway, inter alia, the following streets: "Beginning at the corner of Grant and Water streets; thence by way of Water street to Wood street; thence along Wood street to Sixth avenue * * *," all in the City of Pittsburgh; and
WHEREAS—The Transverse Passenger Railway Company, by agreement, pursuant to the above recited consent ordinance, constructed the double track street railway now in use upon the streets and highways and over the route hereinafter more fully set forth and described; and
WHEREAS—The Transverse Passenger Railway Company, by agreement dated July 31, 1886, leased all of its property and franchises to Citizens Passenger Railway Company for a term of 99 years, and Citizens Passenger Railway Company, by agreement dated September 1, 1887, leased all of its property and franchises to Citizens Traction Company for a term of 98 years from August 1, 1887, and Citizens Traction Company, by agreement dated October 15, 1895, leased all of its property and franchises to Fort Pitt Traction Company for a term of 950 years from November 1, 1895, and by virtue of operating agreement dated May 1, 1908, between Fort Pitt Traction Company and Consolidated Traction Company, and an operating agreement dated December 30, 1901, between Consolidated Traction Company and Pittsburgh Railways Company, all of the property and franchises of the Fort Pitt Traction Company and Consolidated Traction Company are now in the possession of and being operated by said Pittsburgh Railways Company; and
WHEREAS—The City of Pittsburgh deems it necessary, for the public benefit and convenience, that the Railway Companies shall temporarily abandon one of the tracks of the double track street railway on the streets and highways, and over the route hereinafter more fully set forth and described, and cease to use the same, and is willing to keep said streets and highways free from street railway tracks, except to such extent as they may be occupied by the remaining track of the double track street railway, and the Railway Companies are willing to temporarily abandon one of the tracks of the double track street railway over the route as hereinafter described, on the terms and conditions hereinafter recited.
NOW, THEREFORE, THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSETH: That the parties hereto, in consideration of the mutual covenants and conditions herein recited, do mutually agree as follows, each binding itself, its successors and assigns, to the other, its successors and assigns.
FIRST. The Railway Companies agree that they will temporarily abandon one of the tracks of the double track street railway on Water street, between Wood street and Smithfield street, said track to be temporarily abandoned being more particularly described as follows:
BEGINNING in the northbound track on Wood street at right angles opposite a point in the east curb line of Wood street 41.45 feet northwardly as measured along the said curb line from its intersection with the north curb line of Water street; thence curving southeastwardly to and onto Water street 91.3 feet to a point of connection with the westbound track on Water street at right angles opposite a point in the north curb line of Water street, situated 31.8 feet as measured eastwardly along the said curb line from its intersection with the east curb line of Wood street.
BEGINNING again on Water street in the eastbound track at right angles opposite a point in the north curb line of Water street, situated 31.8 feet eastwardly as measured along the said curb line from its intersection with the east curb line of Wood street; thence eastwardly along Water street 562 feet more or less to a point of connection with other track of the company, which point is situated at right angles opposite a point in the north curb line of Water street, situated 47.25 feet as measured eastwardly along the said north curb line from its intersection with the east curb line of Smithfield street. All in the City of Pittsburgh, and will cease to operate street cars along and over said track for the term hereinafter mentioned.
SECOND. This agreement shall be in effect for 49 years from the date hereof, provided, however, that the Railway Companies, their successors and assigns, or any of them, shall have the right at any time previous to the end of the term above provided, if they deem it necessary for the improvement of the service, to reconstruct said railway track or any portion thereof, and the appurtenances upon said streets and highways, and to connect said railway track or so much thereof as may be reconstructed as provided for herein, with the railway tracks on the streets and highways of the said City in the same manner as they are connected at the date hereof, and shall have the same rights and privileges as they had before said track and appurtenances were removed, and this agreement, insofar as it affects any track reconstructed, shall thereupon terminate and be of no further effect. Upon the expiration of the term of this agreement, or the termination of the same for any reason, the Railway Companies may reconstruct said railway track and appurtenances upon said streets and highways in the said City of Pittsburgh in the same manner as they are connected at the date hereof, and with the same rights and privileges as they had before said track and appurtenances were removed.
In the event, however, that the entire railways system of Pittsburgh is unified and consolidated into one single ownership and the various mortgages on said system satisfied and a general mortgage covering the entire system executed in lieu thereof, the right and permission which the railway companies have to relay their track on said streets shall be terminated, subject to the provisions hereof; that the Public Service Commission may direct that the facilities and service be restored.
THIRD. In case of the foreclosure of any of the following mortgages:
(a) Mortgage of Citizens Traction Company to Fidelity Title and Trust Company, Trustee, dated October 1, 1887, and recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Mortgage Book Volume 415, page 61, or
(b) Mortgage of the Fort Pitt Traction Company to Pittsburgh Trust Company, Trustee, dated December 2, 1895, and recorded in the Recorder's Office aforesaid in Mortgage Book Volume 760, page 42, or
(c) General Mortgage of the Pittsburgh Railways Company to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee, dated March 31, 1913, and recorded in the Recorder's Office aforesaid in Mortgage Book Volume 1519, page 1, or
(d) Any mortgage given in renewal or substitution of the mortgages hereinbefore referred to, the purchaser or purchasers, at judicial sale, or the company or companies organized by such purchaser or purchasers, shall have the right, at any time thereafter, to reconstruct or cause to be reconstructed, the railway track and appurtenances so abandoned, and connect the same with the other street railway tracks on the streets and avenues of the said City in the same manner as they are connected at the date hereof, at such time as such purchaser or purchasers or such company or companies may desire, and operate street railway cars thereon.
In the event of the termination, for any reason, of the agreement of leases between The Transverse Passenger Railway Company and Citizens Passenger Railway Company, dated July 31, 1886, The Transverse Passenger Railway Company shall thereupon have the right at any time thereafter to relay and reconstruct said railway track and appurtenant operating system so abandoned, and to connect the street railway track with other tracks on the streets and avenues of the City of Pittsburgh in the same manner as they are connected at the date hereof, and to operate street railway cars thereon and thereover.
In the event of the termination for any reason of the agreement of lease between Citizens Passenger Railway Company and Citizens Traction Company, dated September 1, 1887, the Citizens Passenger Railway Company shall thereupon have the right at any time thereafter to relay and reconstruct said railway track and appurtenant operating system so abandoned, and to connect the street railway track with other tracks on the streets and avenues of the City of Pittsburgh in the same manner as they are connected at the date hereof, and to operate street railway cars thereon and thereover.
In the event of the termination, for any reason, of the agreement of lease between the Citizens Traction Company and the Fort Pitt Traction Company, dated October 15, 1895, the Citizens Traction Company shall thereupon have the right at any time thereafter to relay and reconstruct said railway track and appurtenant operating system so abandoned, and to connect the street railway track with other tracks on the streets and avenues of the City of Pittsburgh in the same manner as they are connected at the date hereof, and to operate street railway cars thereon and thereover.
FOURTH. The City of Pittsburgh covenants and agrees that it will permit such temporary abandonment of street railway track on the streets and highways hereinbefore described, and during the continuance of this agreement municipal consent shall not be granted to any other company or individual to use or occupy the portion of said street and highways covered by said track for street railway purposes, in accordance with the provisions of said Act of Assembly.
FIFTH. The Railway Companies, upon the execution of this agreement, at their own cost and expense, shall remove the rails of the track hereinbefore described, and shall re-locate the connecting curve at the intersection of Wood street and Water street, in order that the use of the remaining track may be continued, and the City, at its own cost and expense, shall pay the cost of the entire re-surfacing of the streets aforesaid, and thereafter the Railway Companies shall be relieved of all liability to pave, repave, maintain, keep clean, and repair that portion of the aforesaid streets and highways from which one of the tracks of the double track street railway has been temporarily removed, until such time as the said railway track may be duly reconstructed and used.
All of the provisions of this agreement, which has been authorized by Ordinance No. ....., Series, ..., approved ....., and recorded in Ordinance Book Vol. ....., Page....., shall be subject to the provisions of the general ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh approved February 24, 1890, except as otherwise provided herein.
This agreement shall not go into effect until approved by The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and all parties hereto agree that the Public Service Commission may at any time order the track relaid and service thereover resumed.
IN WITNESS WHEREOF, said The Transverse Passenger Railway Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed, attested by its Secretary, and this contract to be signed by its President; the said Citizens Passenger Railway Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed, attested by its Secretary, and this contract to be signed by its President; the said Citizens Traction Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed, attested by its Secretary, and this contract to be signed by its President; the said Fort Pitt Traction Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed, attested by its Secretary, and this contract to be signed by its President; the said Consolidated Traction Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed, attested by its Secretary, and this contract to be signed by its President; the said Pittsburgh Railways Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed, attested by its Secretary, and this contract to be signed by its President; and this contract is signed and executed in the name of the City of Pittsburgh and for the City of Pittsburgh by its Mayor, and the seal of the said City is by the Mayor hereto affixed, he having been duly authorized so to do by ordinance of Council of said City, all done the day and year aforesaid.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing the proper officers of the City of Pittsburgh to enter into and execute an agreement with John A. Kapp, Jr., and Gertrude M. Kapp, his wife, and Harry E. Kapp and Clara C. Kapp, his wife, whereby the aforesaid named parties shall give license, privilege and right of way to lay and maintain a City water main extending through their land on Lingrove place in the Lingrove Park Plan of Lots in the Fourteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh.
SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City of Pittsburgh shall be and they are hereby authorized and directed to enter into and execute an agreement with John A. Kapp, Jr., and Gertrude M. Kapp, his wife, and Harry E. Kapp and Clara C. Kapp, his wife, in the following form, to-wit:
By this contract, made the .... day of ...., A. D. 1929, between John A. Kapp, Jr., and Gertrude M. Kapp, his wife, and Harry E. Kapp and Clara C. Kapp, his wife, all residing in the City of Pittsburgh, in the State of Pennsylvania, herein designated as grantors, of the one part, and the CITY OF PITTSBURGH, a municipal corporation, created by and existing under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, of the Second Part, herein designated as the City.
Said grantors hereby give license, privilege and right-of-way to said City to enter, lay and maintain a City water main, six (6) inches in diameter, in accordance with approved engineering practice, in a strip of ground situate in the Fourteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, County of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania, and lying within the confines of a lot plan of said grantors and bounded and described as follows:
Beginning at a point on the Northerly line of Juniata place as now located, distant thereon south forty-four degrees, fifty-nine minutes, fifty seconds east (S. 44° 59' 50" E.) two hundred forty-eight and one, one hundredth (248.01) feet from the easterly line of Linden avenue, said point being also on the westerly line of Lingrove place, a private street in Lingrove Park Plan of Lots as laid out by John A. Kapp, Jr., and Harry E. Kapp; thence by the westerly line of said Lingrove place North thirty-seven degrees, thirty-five minutes, thirty seconds East (N. 37° 35' 30" E.) three hundred twenty-three and seven one hundredths (323.07) feet to a point on the northerly line of said plan of lots; thence by the northerly line of said plan of lots south forty-four degrees, fifty-nine minutes, fifty seconds East (S. 44° 59' 50" E.) three and three one hundredths (3.03) feet to a point; thence South thirty-seven degrees, thirty-five minutes, thirty seconds, West (S. 37° 35' 30" W.), parallel to and at the perpendicular distance of three (3) feet eastwardly from the westerly line of aforesaid Lingrove place, three hundred twenty-three and seven one hundredths (323.07) feet to the northerly line of Juniata place aforesaid; thence by the Northerly line of said Juniata place North forty-four degrees, fifty-nine minutes, fifty seconds West (N. 44° 59' 50" W.) three and three one hundredths (3.03) feet to the westerly line of Lingrove place at the place of beginning.
This license shall bind the heirs, or devisees, or other assigns of said grantors, so that it shall not be revocable, and the City shall hold said strip of ground forever for the purpose of entering in and upon the same and constructing and maintaining a water line, and for such other purposes incidental and necessary for the proper maintenance and repair and connections to said water main.
Said grantors further stipulate and agree that they will not erect, or maintain or permit to be erected, or maintained on the strip of ground aforesaid, any structures of any kind that will in any way interfere with the proper construction, maintenance or repair of said water main.
The City stipulates and agrees that the strip of ground above described shall be used only for the purposes as above mentioned.
WITNESS the hands and seals of the said grantors, and the corporated seal of the said City, duly affixed and attested by the signatures of the proper officers, the day and year above written, execution by said City being authorized by Ordinance of Council of said City, approved the .....day of..... A. D. 1929.

BUGS BAER Says

A RUMBLE FROM THE HUMBLE

THE incorporation papers of the Sons of Rumble-Seaters of America have been filed with the Smithsonian Institute.

"Bugs" Baer

Co-operation has been feverish and production has reached the apex of stagnation.

We hold these truths to be self-edible. Every rumble-seater is entitled to suffrage and a share of the expenses.

If you desire to join our clubby little amalgamation just fill out a complaint blank.

Our first letter was from Dick Ferris, of California. He writes: "I am thankful to Henry Ford for building his rumble in the back and his gasoline tank under the dash. I have traveled 70,000 miles on the rear axle, but I do not claim to be a tourist any more than corn in the popper is seeing the world."

Mr. Ferris wrote until he was exhausted. Which was immediately.

Col. Ewing, of New Orleans, also knows what it is to be loved and left behind. He states:

"I am delighted that the obscure man in the rumble seat is about to get his just desserts. I am the owner of a chummy roadster, but I must perch in the rumble and get chummy with the back of my chauffeur's neck."

If the doughty colonel objects to the backs of chauffeurs' necks we are sorry that Congress is busy with another matter.

However, we are delighted to have his vote swung in for the rumbler squad. They say that the last shall be first. But it doesn't work that way in a bread line.

Harry Bitner, of Pittsburgh, was among the early pioneers who went West, in the uncovered wagon. He says:

"There are three cars in my family. One for my wife, one for my son and one for my daughter. A man's garage is his castle. When I got married I promised to stick with my wife through rain, storm and hail. But I didn't imagine that I would be compelled to do it in a rumble seat."

Eddie Bruns, of New York, bought his son-in-law a big car with purple tires and an ivory motor. He replies:

"When the family goes for a ride I go with them, but not for the ride. I am compelled to share the rumble with an Airedale who barks at traffic cops. The policemen think it is me."

Mr. Bruns should take out two memberships. One for the Airedale.

The good work is going on at all angles and soon the humble rumble-seater will have a voice in the destination of the cruise.

There are more things to life than pansies, ming crockery and indorsements. Who wants to be a rumble-seater and stop every thousand miles to have his teeth tightened up?

There were three fire alarms, Saturday, all within less than an hour. The first was occasioed by the serious fire at the residence of Chas. Baggs. The fire department promptly drenched the flames and returned to the Service Garage. Fifteen minutes later the siren sounded again. The occasion for this alarm was a threatened recurrence of fire in the Baggs house, the smoke started up ominously, but any chance of another flare up was quickly drenched in the second visit of the fire boys.

The third alarm was occasioned by a fire in the tall grass that grows just south of the Christian Church.

Action of Senate Democrats in Supporting Debenture Plan Explains Quite Clearly Why There Is No Democratic Party

THE reason the Democratic party is not elected to office is because it does not deserve to be.

For example, thirty-four leading Democratic senators voted for the debenture feature of the Senate farm relief bill, not because they believe in it, but because they hope to make political capital out of it, because they hope to embarrass the Republican party.

These senators are not deceiving the country by this "ostrich" attitude—they are only discrediting themselves and their party. It would seem that the experiences of the last decade should have shown the Democratic party the utter folly of such a course, but the Democratic party seems to have no intelligent leadership capable of being taught and no chart of Democratic principles upon which to proceed.

It is in the contemptible position of being a party of opposition merely for the sake of opposition.

In other words, the Republican party decides the policy of the Democratic party.

If the Republican party favors anything, the Democratic party stupidly opposes it; if the Republican party opposes anything, the Democratic party blindly favors it.

Of course, such an unwise course creates no Democrats, inspires no following for Democratic leaders, if those who are unfortunately in the Democratic councils can be called leaders.

And as a consequence the Democratic party has lost state after state until it hardly figures as a national party at all.

There is a great opportunity for leadership in the Demoratic party, a great necessity for leadership.

There is a great necessity for a Democratic program built on fundamental Democratic principles, and without these things the Democratic party can never succeed.

The Senate farm relief bill, with its fatuous debenture feature, is a case in point—a complete illustration of the Democratic party's lack of fixed policies and disregard of fundamental Democratic principles.

In this farm relief bill there is a proposal to subsidize the farmers, which is governmental paternalism carried to the most outrageous and unjustifiable extreme.

If there is anything which the Democratic party in its whole history is opposed to on principle, it is this idea of paternalism, and the subsidizing of special interests.

The export debenture provision is a scheme to pay a bounty in the form of negotiable instruments on farm products exported to foreign countries.

These instruments, under the name of debentures, would be used by importers to pay import duties.

In other words, the export debenture, as President Hoover has pointed out, provides for nothing less than a direct subsidy from the United States Treasury in the sum of more than $200,000,000 a year.

But this gigantic gift would NOT be made to the American farmer. It would go in large part to a new group of middlemen—to dealers and manufacturers and speculators in debenturable commodities.

These debentures, as Secretary Mellon has pointed out, would inevitably sell at a discount.

They would raise domestic prices.

They would stimulate production.

They would give rise to insuperable administrative difficulties.

They would reduce customs receipts and increase administrative expenses.

And this in turn would result in such a LOSS of revenue as to necessitate a tremendous increase in the rate of taxation along other lines to make up the loss.

And finally, countries would probably be provoked by the export debenture plan to retaliate by levying countervailing tariff rates.

These rates would equal in amount the export bounty and would thereby nullify entirely the effect of the debenture.

Instead of encouraging that diversification of crops which agriculture so sorely needs, the export debenture plan would inevitably put a premium on the one-crop system.

To have voted for the farm relief bill with the debenture feature, Democratic senators must first have abandoned their Democracy.

They have proved to the country that they are not Democrats, and did not vote according to Democratic precedent and Democratic principle, but that they voted purely as opportunists, contrary to the principles of their party, in the hope of complicating a situation for the Republicans.

They proved that their leadership is nothing but trick leadership, and that their opposition to the sound plans of the Republican administration is not based on ideals, not based on intelligent understanding of the situation, not based on consideration for the country or even for the farmers themselves, but merely on the hope, and the false hope, of some petty political advantage.

Even a man like Senator Copeland, of New York, who has spoken publicly against the debenture feature of the bill, voted for the bill, in response to the demands of the Democratic leadership.

The situation is discouraging to all genuine Democrats throughout the country.

It gives ample explanation and ample reason for the fact that so many Democrats in principle vote the Republican ticket.

There is no Democratic party—no party that is a Democratic party in principle, and no party which genuine Democrats can vote for.

In giving proof of this deplorable situation, the Democratic senators have lowered the Democratic leadership and the Democratic party still further in the minds of the intelligent and patriotic citizens of the nation.

A Scrap of Paper? -:- -:- By Nelson Harding

No Substitute for Toil or Time

By Herbert Kaufman

THE ears of Time gather few new truths. Fundamental experiences are usually hand-me-downs.

Valorization for rubber and coffee crops was anticipated by cinnamon planters in Ceylon more than a century ago.

Buckle's notebook, published in 1872, refers to Laing's observation on corn banks in Sweden, where a farmer might deposit his season's leave-over as collateral for loans, and purchasers could withdraw their grain by paying notes and accrued interest.

Which suggests that experiment is possibly clothing agriculture's hopes for surplus crop relief in some of Europe's discarded and misfit theories.

The only discouraging aspect of agriculture is its past. The privations, the isolations, the roadless wastes, the insanitation and the drudgery, that made its yesterdays a hideous, economic dream, are gone.

Electric locomotives ride in the prairie schooner's trail.

The site of the old cross-roads store is occupied by a miniature metropolis with trading resources of a small city. Where the sod house stood, there's a full-convenienced home, with running water and modern plumbing.

The incandescent light has succeeded the kerosene lamp; and central heating, replaced the wood burner. Automobiles spin where springless wagons creaked.

The farthest farmstead is on an R. F. D. route, and blooded herds have shoved scrub stock out of the pasture.

Everybody and his wife are on the telephone line and are members of the "University of Everywhere and Everything," via wireless.

A replica Metropolitan Opera House gives nightly performances in the parlor, and the howling of a storm is drowned by Galli-Curci's voice, the Symphony Orchestra and the swirl of radio dance music.

New York, by grace of aerial mails, is less than a day removed from the Rockies. Gasoline engines and propeller blades are measuring distance with a new foot rule. Invention is fast belting the entire continent, squeezing mileage out of the map, as a blank is shrunk on a hatter's frame.

Complete electrification is on its way to the farm; the grandsons of Franklin's kite-key are preparing to churn butter and supply illumination, to run the saw buck, cook the dinner, to operate heating reflectors and warming pads, refrigerate surplus yields and dairy products until more advantageous markets, furnish fresh vegetables and fruits throughout the 12 months, pump water for the irrigating ditch and force seedlings for earlier planting.

Merchandising, factories, the trades and professions have no idle seasons. Providence never designated farmers as a particularly privileged class.

The Divine command to "labor for six days" didn't except Januaries and Decembers.

"To each hour its appointed task." And agriculture must so adjust itself that it has such a task, whether at the plow or on the milking stool, with the monkey-wrench or in the poultry pen.

There's no legislative substitute for toil or time or common sense.

Without continuous operation, thrifty management and applied intelligence, steel mills, railroads, department stores, newspapers and empires, too, would go broke.

Tales That Are Told

Telling the World

JEAN was Henry's small niece and this was her first visit. On Sunday the service at church had kept her enthralled.

"Do people who want to get married have to ask the minister to tell everyone?" She asked, when they came out. "I should think Mr. Thomson must be awfully glad Miss Day is going to marry him at last, don't you, Uncle Henry? He must be so tired of asking her."

Henry gave an audible gasp.

"I suppose he must, Jean. But who told you all this?"

"The minister! Weren't you listening? He said, 'I publish the bands of marriage of Richard Thomson and Mary Day. This is the third time of asking.'"

Pity the Whale!

THE lesson was about "Jonah," and the teacher wished to emphasize the fact that Jonah's disobedience caused discomfort to all on the ship.

"Jonah suffered for his disobedience, but who else had to suffer because the prophet sinned?" he asked.

"Please, sir, the whale," replied one boy.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS.

THERE was a real estate agent in Topeka that rented a house out in the suburbs to an English family that had just come over. At the end of the first week the lady of the house went to the renting agent and she says, "We can't live in your ouse for the howls. We're living at the otel instead. Unless you can fix things up we're moving. Too many howls, man; too many howls!"

The agent rustled around and investigated, and then he called the woman up at the hotel.

"I been out there and talked to the neighbors, Mrs. Jinks. There ain't any house near, and there ain't no babies in the neighborhood. I don't see how there can be any howling to complain about."

"Owling?" she says. "I don't know about any owling. Of course there ain't no owling babies. It's the howls that keeps us awake, man; the howls that roosts in the trees around the ouse. Who said anything about owling, sir? It's the howls, the howls!"

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

HAVE PARENTS RIGHTS? OR ARE THEY MERELY NECESSARY NUISANCES?

If you happen to be a parent, a Peevish Papa or a Mad Mama, you'll want to send me a big sugar-kiss for busting open that question. Send the kiss, but not to me. Give it to Faith Baldwin instead. She's the lady who has plugged the bull's eye in defence of parents.

Mrs. Baldwin is a parent herself. A wise and loving parent. But she is getting fed up with hearing how grateful she should be for the privilege of being a mama. So she has crashed into print with an article which should win her big, gilt medals from the P. T. A. You'll find it in the May issue of the Cosmopolitan Magazine and if you have to mortgage the new garage, get that issue! It's just about the first Kind Word that has been said for parents in the last decade.

"Why talk about what I owe you? I didn't ask to be born!" yips little Willie when admonished as to his filial obligations.

Mrs. Baldwin acknowledges that Willie did not ask to be born, but she reminds him, in accents far from mild, that his parents did him plenty of favor when they gave him life.

Try 'n' do it!

Then why shouldn't he be grateful for the thing he values so highly?

With this argument, Mrs. Baldwin lifts parents out of the poor debtor class—and tells the younger generation where to head in.

But that isn't all. Having started to expose this new-fangled, child-parent nonsense, the lady continues to make whoopee.

"BE A PAL TO YOUR CHILD!" cry modern sentimentalists.

"Pal, Pooh? It can't be done! Act your age!" responds Mrs. Baldwin—or snorts to that effect.

"I have no great modern desire to be 'pals' with my children," says she. "I do not want my daughter to consider me as a sister; nor do I wish my sons to look upon me as their best girl.

"I prefer to choose my pals and my sisters and my boy friends from the adults of my own generation. This business of women gushingly and sweetly cooing, 'I am my little girl's best friend and my big boy's confidant—they tell me everything,' makes me slightly ill.

"The relationship itself, the difference in age and experience, the difference in ambitions and futures, absolutely preclude this perfect comradeship and understanding we hear so much about. I and my child are two different persons. I have as much right to my own life as my child has to his or hers.

"This undignified scramble to identify oneself with the generation of one's children seems to me inapt and unintelligent, impossible and a little absurd."

From which you may gather that the lady says several mouthfuls.

Salvation for All

(Revelation 7; 9-17.)

AFTER this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands.

And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne and unto the Lamb.

And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God.

Saying, Amen: Blessing and glory and wisdom, and thansgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white on the blood of the Lamb.

Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

A YOUNG man has asked for some advice as to how to save money.

He says that living as he does in a city he cannot reach his friends without spending at least thirty or forty cents for carfare.

Practically every evening he goes somewhere, and while each evening represents at least a small outlay the sum total means his salary is gone—slipped away.

Someone has said that if young men would sleep more they would save more.

This good advice might be profitably followed.

Usually the point of difference between the young man who makes rapid advancement and the one who does not, is a matter of sleep and study.

The one who spends most of his nights out is not in prime condition.

Loss of required sleep always affects the mind.

It is not as clear and comprehending as with sufficient rest.

It costs money in several ways, to go out nights.

You pay toll when you least expect it by losing health as well as money.

Then there is the discouragement that follows lack of advancement.

Usually it is your own fault if you do not move forward and upward.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, May 9.—On the Bowery the other night at the revival of an old melodrama a song book seller, with his hair in a lion tamer's roach, was hawking his dime-a-copy treasures about the lobby. It was a welcome breath of long ago for those who sat in "peanut heaven" when the world was young.

Theater going has lost much of its pristine pleasure in a studied formality. Vendors of song books, popcorn, candy and lemonade contributed a lusty glamour before the show and between acts in other days. Then the theater had a musty pleasing odor in contrast to its modern sanitized pungency.

My copy of the song book revealed a cover in wood cut of a silk-hatted and Inverness caped blood under the blob of gaslight reaching for a coin to drop into the outstretched palm of a cringing, blowzy beggar. It had no meaning whatever, but somehow was captivating. The common place often beats the exotic.

On the inside of the cover, before you got to the songs, were selections from famous recitations. The first I noticed was "Story of the Baggage Car or The 9:15 From Chicago." It concerned the sleeping babe found deserted among the Pullman gaiety and listen to the chorus:

If on God's earth there is a word
More sacred than another.
A word held dear by one and all.
Six letters spell it mother.

Among the songs were "Christmas Day in the Work-House," "Down in the Lehigh Valley," "Whisperin' Bill," "It's the Woman Who Pays in the End," "Mahoney's Fenian Cat," "The Volunteer Organist," "How Soon We Are Forgotten When We're Broke" and "Poor Jack's Last Request."

And hearken to this from "The Dishwasher's Dream!" Mark you, he is "alone in the kitchen in grease-laden steam" and his jeremiad runs thusly:

For me not the smiles of the ladies who dine,
For me but the venting of low sweating groans
That 12 hours a night have instilled in my bones.

They are reviving that story of Ring Lardner's sneer for snobbery. As it goes, he was invited along with several other literary luminaries to a Park avenue tea. Once inside, his suspicions were confirmed. The hostess was making a side show of literature.

One tittupy and dapper gentleman with a springy gait and waxed mustache sought out Mr. Lardner and with great gusto told of his noble lineage. "Of course," he gurgled, "in this age when the bourgeoisie seems temporarily in ascendancy it is good to know one is of the French Huguenots."

As he babbled on Mr. Lardner in owl-eyed solemnity teetered—he has ample leverage for splendid teetering—on his soles and heels without comment one way or another. Finally, the gentleman inquired about his family ties. "I was born," said Mr. Lardner, "in Niles, Mich., of colored parents."

And speaking of 18-karat heighho, over on Park avenue when one is rebuked for some social infraction he is warned: "Don't be middle class!"

Behind circus scenes are likely more family skeletons than elsewhere on the globe. Here is a mixup existing with the Ringling show. A trapeze performer daily catches a former wife in death-defying leaps from one trapeze to another. He is himself married to an aerialist and the announcer who announces all the acts is a former husband of not only the aerialist, but the lady trapezist. They are the best of friends and thrown together constantly in agreeable companionship. Incidentally, I am told, the real aristocrats of the circus are the families who do the bare back riding.
